Taft Scores Bryan's Policy.

Nebraskan Would Destroy Industry; Republicans Correct Evils.

Ohioan Makes Most of Big Opening Left by Opponent in Yonkers.

Thousands Stand in Rain to Hear Distinguished Candidate Speak.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TROY (N. Y.) Oct. 27.—The industries of the cities and towns which line the banks of the picturesque Hudson from Greater New York to Troy were made the text of the speeches of William H. Taft today to the people of those cities and towns.

Yonkers smiled on the big form of the Ohioan through a heavy shower. He talked at length to as many as could get into the largest theater, and then addressed those who had stood and waited in the rain, whose number was even greater.

Mr. Bryan spoke in Yonkers yesterday, and saying he understood his distinguished opponent had charged that the Republican party had done nothing for labor, Mr. Taft first asserted that the policies of the Republican party had been chiefly devoted to the interests of labor and then pointed out that with protective policy the sugar refining industry was made possible, the chief enterprise of the city.

DESTRUCTIVE POLICY OF BRYAN.

"Certainly Mr. Bryan was a bold man to advocate such views in a town like Yonkers," continued Mr. Taft, "which I believe is one of the greatest manufacturing towns in proportion to its size in the State of New York and is dependent upon the protective system."

As a sample, as Mr. Taft said, "of the utter impractical, destructive character of Mr. Bryan's recommendation with reference to economic reforms," he would cite what Mr. Bryan would do with the Yonkers sugar refinery, assuming for argument that the refinery was in a "trust." Mr. Taft said:

"He would take off the differential on sugar—that protection which is necessary to enable us to have any sugar refineries in this country. It would cause the establishment of refineries in Germany, and all of your population here dependent on this refinery would Chicago Man Must Pay Fine If He Speaks to Wife in Two Weeks.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Don't speak to your wife for two weeks." This is the sentence imposed by Municipal Judge Newcomer today on Patrick Cronwell, No. 6744 Justine street.

The court also imposed a fine of $100 and costs on Cronwell, which will be suspended if he can guard his tongue well enough.

Cronwell was arraigned as a wife beater, but declared in court that he was "the best man in Chicago." Judge Newcomer said he did not believe it.

Mrs. Cronwell said she had begun divorce proceedings against her husband on account of his abuse.

MRS. HAINS SIGHED FOR MISS ELKINS'S DUKE.

Interesting Confidences Which Are Claimed to Have Driven Captain Crazy Revealed in Forty Letters Given to Public.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A sensational turn in the Hains case, which divulges secrets of the inner life at Fort Hamilton, was revealed today when forty letters, written by Mrs. Claudia Hains to her husband and mailed to him at San Francisco, were made public by John F. McIntyre and Joseph A. Shay, of counsel of Capt. Hains and his brother, T. Jenkins Hains.

The letters appear in diary form, having been written from day to day while Capt. Hains was on his way to San Francisco from Manila and mailed in one large package to him, so that they would be awaiting his arrival at the Golden Gate.

Incidentally, the lawyers for the defense announced today that they discovered evidence that will reflect on the testimony of one of the star witnesses for the prosecution—a man who was an eyewitness to the shooting of William E. Annis by Capt. Hains, and who, according to counsel for the Hains brothers, had previously accompanied Annis when he visited a physician to make arrangements for Mrs. Hains.

In one of Mrs. Hains's letters she referred to the Duke of the Abruzzi, whom she met in New Orleans while her husband was in command of Jackson Barracks there. This letter, dated March 23, last, said in part:

"The Duke d'Abruzzi is to marry Miss Elkins, I see. Poor me. And I thought I was IT. Well, you needn't be jealous. A big kiss, and the trimmings. Your loving wife, CLAUDIA."

Maj. John Hains, a brother of the accused men, declared that it was these letters of Mrs. Hains which crazed Capt. Hains. The latter, said Maj. Hains, was at a dinner given in honor of himself and fellow-army officers in San Francisco on their return from the Philippines when the package of letters was handed to him.

He had just previously been talking with some friends about his wife and children and of his longing to get back to them. One after the other Capt. Hains glanced through the letters, and, according to Maj. Hains, those around him observed a great change in him. He grew very pale, then excused himself and left the room.

"It was the revelation of his wife's depravity to him that crazed my brother," said Maj. Hains. "All of her previous letters had been free from depravity, but these showed the coarseness of a woman thoroughly bad. That's what caused Capt. Hains to hurry home, and not any letter that he may have received from T. Jenkins Hains, as the prosecution said."

Mrs. Hains's letters were written during March and April. One of the first read:

"My dearest husband: I have been up town with ——— bumming. We went up to supper, and went into Fifth avenue for a drink and met Billy Annis in there with a bunch of men. We kidnaped him and took him along with us. Mrs. ——— is crazy about him. I am afraid she has cut me out. She is very attractive, has the prettiest mouth and teeth I ever saw, but she can punish the booze. We got home about half past twelve; it is now one, and I am tired. We went into some queer places, and very interesting. Good night, dear, with lots of love and many kisses.

"Your loving wife, CLAUDIA."

In a letter written on March 17, Mrs. Hains said:

"I am about to retire, after turning a few somersaults in the kitchen for Minnie."

Minnie, it was explained, was a servant girl in the Hains home at Fort Hamilton.

On March 18, Mrs. Hains wrote:

"——— came in this afternoon and rushed the growler. He does that to perfection."

After telling of a card game she participated in on March 20, Mrs. Hains concluded:

"Good night, dear, see what you are missing not being with your sporty wife. Love, CLAUDIA."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SALEM (Mass.) Oct. 27.—A settlement of the contest over the will of John Burnham Brown of Chicago, Ill., and Ipswich, Mass., which bequeathed the bulk of a $7,000,000 estate to found an educational institution for young men in Ipswich, was announced in the probate court today.

Mr. Brown died six weeks ago.

The relatives brought action to break the will, but it is understood today that a compromise was effected.

TELLS ABRUZZI HIS DECISION.

TURIN, Oct. 27.—A special courier arrived here today with a sealed message from King Victor Emmanuel to the Duke of Abruzzi, which it is believed, contained the King's decision with regard to the marriage of the Duke and Miss Katherine Elkins.

After reading the message, the Duke sent for the official notary of his house and discussed with him the delicate points with reference to his patrimony,

SZECHENYIS HAVE DAUGHTER.

AMERICAN COUNTESS BECOMES MOTHER.

Gladys, Youngest Child of Cornelius Vanderbilt, Who Was Ardently Wooed at Newport by Hungarian Noble and Wed at Fifth Avenue Mansion, Is Accouched.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BUDAPEST, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Newspapers here announce that Countess Szechenyi, formerly Gladys Vanderbilt, was accouched of a girl this afternoon.

Gladys Vanderbilt, now the Countess Szechenyi, is the youngest child of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Count Ladislaus Szechenyi met Miss Vanderbilt, with her mother, abroad, followed her back to America and continued his ardent wooing in Newport. They were married January 27, last, at Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt's mansion, facing the Plaza, Fifth avenue and Fifty-eighth street, New York.

Count Szechenyi, 29 years old, is a member of an old and honorable Hungarian family. His father, Count Orno Szechenyi, was formerly Ambassador at Berlin from Austria-Hungary. Count Ladislaus, who has a respectable fortune of his own, holds a hereditary seat in the Hungarian Parliament, is a chamberlain in Emperor Francis Joseph's household and a lieutenant in the reserves of the Imperial Hussars. His wife's fortune, variously estimated, but probably $10,000,000 at least, is in her hands. She came of age last year. Various rumors that the Countess has been very ill are disproved by the event recorded in the Vienna dispatch.

GOETHALS EXONERATED.

Charges of Unfair Treatment by Panama Canal Commission Held to Be Unfounded.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Inspector-General Garlington, U.S.A., in a report made public today, exonerated Chairman Goethals of the Isthmian Canal Commission of the charges made by President Brothers of the Balanced Crane Cable Company of New York, who claimed that unfair treatment was accorded him in the award for furnishing and erecting cable ways at Gatun on the Isthmus.

Gen. Garlington holds there was no collusion; that the award was made in good faith, and recommends that the contract with the Lidgerwood company be proceeded with.

The report was approved by the Secretary of War. The report says the device of the Brothers company was not suitable for work at the Gatun plant.

AERONAUTICS.

PRINCE HENRY TAKES SPIN AS SKY PILOT.

Count Zeppelin Gives Royal Guest His Place at the Wheel and Result Is Enthusiastic Message to the Emperor—Passage to Rhine Valley.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

FRIEDERICHSHAFEN, Oct. 27.—Prince Henry of Prussia spent several hours in the air today as the guest of Count Zeppelin, who made an ascent in his remodeled airship at a comparatively early hour.

Not only did the Prince thoroughly enjoy his experience, but he sat at the steering wheel for much of the flight, guiding the movements of the craft and compelling it to execute all kinds of complicated maneuvers.

Prince Henry's satisfaction with the great flight was unbounded and he gave expression to it in a telegram which he sent to the Emperor:

"Under Zeppelin's guidance I felt just as safe as on my own flagship."

Capt. Mischke was also a passenger when the start was made in the direction of Euberlinger to the northward of Lake Constance.

With Count Zeppelin himself at the wheel, the airship rose to an altitude of 600 feet and, moving rapidly against a strong wind, disappeared behind a bank of clouds. Soon messages began to arrive from the towns in the Rhine valley announcing the passage of the airship, but about 2 o'clock in the afternoon a sonorous sound from the sky indicated that the craft was returning. Soon it appeared above the thronged streets of Constance, where the Prince saluted in acknowledgement of the ovation from the cheering crowds below.

After maneuvering above Lake Constance, in full view of the city for some time, the airship made its way toward the Swiss frontier, disappearing in the direction of Tyrol. It returned to its mooring about sunset.

It had been originally intended to make a flight of only three hours and the royal family expected the Prince to take luncheon at 2 o'clock, but the Prince was so charmed with his successful aerial venture that he extended the cruise until he was driven home by approaching darkness.

In all the airship carried five men, two of whom were mechanics. The airship appeared above the lake, emerging from a cloud bank like some uncanny visitor from an unknown world. Count Zeppelin evidently wished to show the Prince some maneuvering by the craft. It descended to about 200 feet from the surface of the water, turning from right to left, and from left to right, like a well-drilled file of soldiers. Then suddenly it mounted 1000 feet and shot into the clouds, only the mighty hum of its propellers indicating the course it had taken.

CONFESSES.

NIGHT RIDER MAKES DAMAGING ADMISSION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TIPTON (Tenn.) Oct. 27.—"Red" Burton, confessed night rider, told a remarkable story today of night-rider depredations in the vicinity of Reelfoot Lake, confessing to the part he had played in the outrages which reached a culmination in the putting to death of Capt. Quentin Rankin, a prominent attorney of Trenton, Tenn., on the banks of the lake a week ago tonight, and implicating men prominent in this section of the State.

Of those who he declares had a part in the killing of Capt. Rankin, more than half are now in custody at Camp Nemo, the military base near Samburg.

The confession was made in the jail here to Sheriff Haines of this county; B. G. Harris, owner of a large tract of land in the Reelfoot district, who has suffered much at the hands of the riders, and Mayor Cleveland Donelson of Tiptonville. It was made freely and voluntarily.

SERIES OF CRIME.

Apparently without a qualm of conscience Burton gladly unfolded his story. While Burton denies that he was present when Capt. Rankin was put to death, he admits it was through PASSIONATE PROTEST.

KAISER IS INSULTED.

Calls English Mad As March Hares.

Retired Diplomat Has Remarkable Interview With the Emperor.

Latter Says He Is Forever Misjudged and Actions Are Distorted.

German Navy Enlarged That Nation May Have Part in Pacific Drama.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Telegraph publishes an "unimpeachable authority" a remarkable interview, which recently took place between a retired English diplomatist and the Kaiser, in which the latter passionately protested against the English attitude of suspicion toward him.

"You English," said the Kaiser, "are mad, mad, mad as March hares. What has come over you that you are so completely given over to suspicions quite unworthy of a great nation? What more can I do than I have done?

"I declared with all emphasis at my command that my heart was set upon peace, and that it was one of my dearest wishes to live on the best of terms with England. Have I ever been false to my word? Falsehood and prevarication are alien to my nature. My actions ought to speak for themselves, but you listen not to them, but to those who misinterpret and distort them. That is a personal insult which I feel and resent.

"To be forever misjudged, to have my repeated offers of friendship weighed and scrutinised with jealous and mistrustful eyes, taxes my patience severely. How can I convince a nation against its will?"

As proof of his sincerity, the Emperor recalled that it was his refusal to receive the Boer delegation to Europe during the war that led to the failure of its mission.

STOOD FOR ENGLAND.

"Again," said His Majesty, "when the struggle was at its height, the German government was invited by the governments of France and Russia to join with them in calling upon England to put an end to the war. The moment had come, they said, not only to save the Boer republic, but also to humiliate England to the dust.

"What was my reply? I said that so far from Germany joining in any concerted European action to put pressure upon England to bring about her downfall, Germany would always keep aloof from politics that could bring her into complications with a sea power like England. Posterity will one day read the exact terms of a telegram, now in the archives at Windsor Castle, in which I informed the sovereign of England of the answer I had returned to the powers which then sought to compass her fall. Englishmen who now insult me by doubting my word should know what were my actions in the hour of their adversity."

Furthermore, the Kaiser declared that upon receipt of a letter from his grandmother, Queen Victoria, during the English black week of December, 1899, he prepared what he considered the best plan of campaign for the English to follow, submitted it to the criticism of the German General Staff and dispatched it to the Queen. This plan, which is also in the Windsor archives, was substantially the same as that subsequently successfully followed by Lord Roberts.

FOR PACIFIC COMMERCE.

"But," continued His Majesty, "you will say, what of the German navy? Surely that is a menace to England. My answer is clear. Germany is a young, growing empire; has world-wide commerce which is rapidly expanding and must have a powerful fleet to protect that commerce and her manifold interest in even the most distant seas.

"Who can foresee what may take place in the Pacific in the days to come?

"The day is not so distant as some believe.

"Look at the accomplished rise of Japan. Think of the possible national awakening of China and then judge of the vast problems of the Pacific. Only those powers which have great navies will be listened to with respect when the future Pacific questions come to be solved.

"It may even be England herself who will be glad Germany has a fleet when they speak together on the same side in the great debates of the future."

English Stockholders in Pillsbury-Washburne Company Will Investigate Cause of Losses.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The English debenture holders of the Pillsbury-Washburne Flour Mills Company of Minneapolis, now in the hands of a receiver, appointed a committee today to represent their interests and investigate the affairs of the company. It was concluded that there could be no confidence in the company until the element which had brought about the disaster had been traced and eliminated. Since August 31, 1907, the assets had diminished from over $6,000,000 to $2,758,000, while the alleged liabilities

CONGRATULATIONS!

PRESIDENT'S ANNIVERSARY.

Fiftieth Birthday Brings Many Tokens.

Mr. Roosevelt Has Farm Dinner With Family.

King Edward's Message One of Earliest.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—President Roosevelt observed his fiftieth anniversary today very simply. He attended to his executive duties as usual and except for the reception of a delegation from the Hungarian Club from New York in the east room of the White House and the receipt of a large number of congratulatory messages, some floral tributes and gifts from the members of his family, the day was the same to him as any other day.

Late in the afternoon the President donned his khaki riding uniform and rough rider hat and went for a horseback ride, remaining out until 6 o'clock.

There was a jolly farm dinner at the White House this evening in honor of the anniversary. No guests were present.

King Edward of Great Britain sent one of the first messages received:

"I request that you will accept my cordial congratulations upon the occasion of your birthday, together with my best wishes for your welfare and prosperity."

Governor Hughes of New York, from Catskill, N. Y., telegraphed:

"My heartiest congratulations and most cordial regards."

Archbishop Ireland from St. Paul said:

"I beg leave to offer you my most sincere wishes that many, many more anniversaries be allowed you in service of your country and humanity."

From England, Whitelaw Reid, American Ambassador to Great Britain, sent the following:

"Congratulation on finishing the first half century with a great record. The past at least is secure."

Similar messages were received from many persons.

ANIMALS PRESIDENT MAY SHOOT IN AFRICA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Roosevelt not having signified his intention of asking special privileges for his hunting trip in British East Africa through diplomatic channels, it is supposed that he will take out an ordinary £50 ($250) license from the Colonial Office. This, however, has not been applied for, though it is always usual to demand such licenses several months in advance. Under them, each hunter is limited to sixty animals, except in the cases of lions, leopards and crocodiles, of which he may shoot as many as he wishes.

As set forth in the new licenses the President may kill "two elephants, two rhinoceri, ten hippopotami, twenty-one antelope, two buffaloes, two earth hogs, two earth wolves, ten cheyrotains, two monkeys, two marabou storks, two ostriches, two egrets and one chimpanzee." Giraffes, wild asses, secretary birds and a number of other species are forbidden to any Nimrod not armed with special privileges.

President Roosevelt will be required to set forth in his own handwriting the animals he intends to kill, as well as the locality where he will hunt. Before leaving Africa he will be required to declare what animals and how many he shot.

USED SECRET TARIFF RATES.

PENNSYLVANIA FREIGHT AGENT IS WITNESS.

Standard Oil Company Said to Have Been Only Concern That Profited by Schedule Between Olean and Rochester not Filed With Interstate Commerce Commission.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—That secret tariff rates, which were not filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, were issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and that only the Standard Oil Company profited by the alleged illegal rates, was testified today in the hearing of the railroad phase of the government suit to dissolve the Standard Oil Company.

Edward T. Johnson of Baltimore, division freight agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who was the only witness called, was on the stand during the entire session.

On cross-examination by Frank B. Kellogg, senior counsel for the government, Mr. Johnson testified that the Standard Oil Company was the only shipper from Olean to Rochester, a distance of 106 miles, and that the rate, which had never been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, or posted as required by law, was 9 cents a barrel. Independent concerns in the same territory, it was brought out, paid rates as high as 28 cents a barrel for virtually the same distance.

Mr. Johnson admitted the Standard Oil was the only shipper receiving the rate of 9 cents a barrel. He said he kept the rate secret from the New York Central. Neither road's rates, he testified, had ever been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The first explosion was at Culebra Cut, near Empire where five men were killed and eight injured. The second was at Mindi, where seven were killed and ten injured and one missing. All of those killed and injured at Culebra Cut were negroes, except W. J. Davis, an engineer, and George Goodley, a craneman.

HARRISON IN BRONZE DAUGHTER UNVEILS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27.—The tribute of his home was paid to Gen. Benjamin Harrison, the late President, today, when thousands of citizens gathered, despite disagreeable weather in University Park, to witness the unveiling of the striking bronze likeness of their fellow-townsman.

Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks, who is president of the Harrison Memorial Association, in a few remarks presented the monument to the people.

A parade, participated in by the Tenth United States Infantry from Fort Benjamin Harrison, one regiment of the Indiana National Guard, and 700 Civil War veterans, including many members of the Seventh Regiment, of which former President Harrison was colonel, preceded the unveiling exercises.

While the great silent throng looked on, little Elizabeth Harrison left the side of her mother in the reviewing stand, opposite the monument, and made her way past the seats of the hundreds of her father's army comrades, and up the steps till she stood before the draped figure of the man whose last picture was taken with her in his arms. She reached out and tugged at a cord that hung loose from the flags that formed the draping. The flags released, opened and revealed the bronze figure. The little girl then lifted an American flag from the base of the monument, uncovering an immense laurel wreath sent by President Roosevelt. Carrying this, she returned as she had come, to present it to her mother.

On the stand were the distinguished guests. The family party included Mrs. Harrison and daughter, and Russell B. Harrison; three members of Gen. Harrison's Cabinet, John W. Noble of St. Louis, John W. Foster of Washington, and Mrs. Foster, and W. H. H. Miller of Indianapolis.

James Whitcomb Riley read a poem which he had written for the occasion, "The Tribute of His Home."

John W. Noble paid a tribute to his former chief in a eulogistic speech.

Vice-President Fairbanks began his address with a review of the efforts of the Gen. Benjamin Harrison Association to have erected a suitable monument to perpetuate the memory of the late President. He devoted the remainder of his remarks to the services Gen. Harrison rendered the people of this country.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] More rain Wednesday. Fickle winds and equable temperatures. This was the gloomy forecast today for Chicago and vicinity. J. Pluvius is to play a prolonged engagement, and it may be the end of the week before good weather returns; or it may be the end of the winter, for all the government sharps know. The weather situation is in a hopeless muddle. It looks like rain over almost the entire country. Today's maximum temperature was 67 and the minimum 42 deg. Middle West temperatures:

FAMILY STARVING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Huddled together in a water-soaked hut of straw and sticks in the desolate region on the banks of the old Illinois & Michigan canal, a family of four was discovered last night suffering from hunger and exposure. Every member of the family was clothed in rags. The older of the two children—a girl of 3 years—was practically naked. She moved restlessly on the wet pile of straw upon which she tried to sleep. The mother clasped a baby to her breast. Hungry as she was, and cold, the mother asked only for milk that she might feed the baby, which cried piteously and shivered in the damp air. Some one telephoned to the Chicago Bureau of Charity and reported the family was living—or starving, to be exact—at the point mentioned. This was at once reported to Charles Ruck, Supervisor of Stickner township, in which the place is located. The man gave his name as Jacob Brunsky. He said he was Polish and that, with his family, he had been in this country but four years. In broken English he told of intermittent employment among other countrymen at the steel mills in South Chicago. Then some weeks ago he was discharged. Look where he would, he said, he could find no work. Then somebody said that he could get a job at the mills at Joliet. They all started to walk to the coveted job. They passed out of the city and into the fields. Then his wife fell ill. Next, the nursing baby, without its needed nourishment, became ill. After that Brunsky does not know just what troubles came. There were so many and he was so hungry that he could not say just what happened.

BAR CHRISTMAS BOOZE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Christmas presents have been officially discountenanced by an organization whose members assert they give away 100,000 of them annually. As a result, it is predicted that this year will see the beginning of the end of bar-room conviviality as an adjunct to Christmas and New Year's celebrations. The ban on the Christmas present has been placed through an edict issued by the Cook County Liquor Dealers' Protective Association, with which practically all of the large saloon-keepers of Chicago are affiliated. Temperance agitation throughout the country is admitted by the liquor dealers privately, to be the cause of the edict of their association. They say that the feeling against the saloon has been accentuated by the "celebrations" which have taken place in them Christmas eve and Christmas day, and which have kept men away from their homes.

CLAIM HEART OF CITY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The owners of property worth, at a conservative estimate, $2,500,000, and located in the very heart of the business district of Aurora, Ill., have had their holdings placed in jeopardy by the filing of papers in the General Land Office at Washington, laying claim to it. A syndicate headed by J. M. Spiker of Aurora claims that through possession of a quantity of government scrip, issued at the close of the Mexican War, its members are the real owners of the property. The property to which claim is laid embraces about half the area of Stolps Island in the Fox River, on which are situated the Aurora City Hall, the postoffice, the public library, banks, stores, newspaper offices and the plants of the Western United Gas and Electric Company, and also eight blocks on the west side of Broadway, and fourteen blocks on the east side of River street. This latter property is all improved, and is lined with stores and business blocks. Former Senator William E. Mason of Chicago is acting as counsel for the syndicate.

Curtis Takes Stand in Trial of Morse.

Expected Split Between Defendants Occurs.

Attorney Announces Client Will Tell All.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The expected split between Charles W. Morse, bank promoter, financier and ice-trust organizer, and Alfred H. Curtis, president of the National Bank of North America, both of whom are under indictment charged jointly with violation of the national banking laws, came today with the swearing in of Curtis as the first witness for the defense in the trial before Judge Hough, in the United States Court here.

Before the beginning of Mr. Curtis's examination the court had heard argument on behalf of both defendants on motions to dismiss the indictments, and had yielded on a few minor points, dismissing the counts charging conspiracy and misappropriation in one specific instance, but maintaining fifty-five counts, charging over-certification, making of false reports, misapplication and the use of funds of depositors for speculative purposes.

Before calling the former president of the suspended bank to the stand in his own behalf, former Judge W. M. K. Olcott, attorney, announced he had persuaded his client "to tell all the facts."

Mr. Curtis began his testimony by relating his early career in the banking business. He had started at 14 in the office of a Wall-street broker, he said, graduating ten years later to a clerkship in the Bank of the State of New York, the institution subsequently purchased by Morse and merged with the Bank of North America. There he had advanced through the various grades to the position of cashier, in which capacity he had over-certified checks to the amount of $40,000,000, he declared.

In dismissing the conspiracy charge, Judge Hough said that, from the evidence which had been adduced, he could not see how the minds of the two defendants could act in concert. In view of the evidence he said he could not permit a verdict on the conspiracy count, and therefore, he directed that the conspiracy charge be dismissed. The count in the indictment charging misappropriation in connection with a $60,000 note given in payment for stock purchased from Mr. Morse also was dismissed by Judge Hough, on the ground there was no evidence of criminality.

WIVES BY MAIL ARE FRAUDS.

MICHIGAN FARMER QUALIFIES AS AN EXPERT IN COURT.

Tried Three and Found They Did not Come up to Descriptions and Specifications and Loses Them Via Divorce—Last One Didn't Like "Corn-fed Lobsters."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MARSHALL (Mich.) Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the "mail order wife" as an investment does not fill the bill and rarely comes up to the description and specifications in the advertisement, is the testimony given in court today by Joseph Sturgis, a Lee farmer.

Mr. Sturgis qualified as an expert, since he had thrice married what he called "mail order women" and found them unsatisfactory. After successfully escaping from two of them through the courts, he corresponded with one in New York City. On the stand he said that he sent the woman $300 before he even saw her. Then she urged him to come to New York City and see her, sending her $500 more in advance to assure her of his coming.

He forwarded the required sum, and when he got there found her an invalid in a wheel chair. She said she was awfully sorry to have deceived him so regarding beauty but that she had wealthy relatives in England whom she expected to die very soon and just as soon as they did she would pay him $10 for every dollar he had let her have. So Joseph gave up another $500 and she sent him on an errand to a dressmaker.

When Joseph got back from the dressmaker's, she quit her invalid's chair, rushed to him, threw her arms about his neck and wanted to marry him straightway. Joseph agreed and they were soon married. They came to Marshall and then went to live on the farm.

"The latest wife" told "Joe" Sturgis that the "corn-fed lobsters" around this country "didn't look very good to her." And after she had spent her husband's money she returned to New York and Joseph applied for a divorce.

After this story the court thought Sturgis was certainly entitled to a divorce and it was granted upon the grounds of desertion. Joseph said he; postoffice address is unknown to him, but knows she is in New York because he received a souvenir postal card of the Singer building and he knew she sent it.

SEAMSTRESS IS FIRE HEROINE.

Loses Life to Save Occupants of Tenement House from Blaze.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Mary Farrell, a seamstress, is dying in the Roosevelt Hospital, having sacrificed her life in a successful effort to save the lives of the scores of persons, who, with her, occupied a tenement house on West Third street.

While Miss Farrell, who lived alone on the top floor of the building, was preparing supper, an oil stove on which she was cooking the meal, exploded.

Fearing the house would catch fire from the burning stove, Miss Farrell seized it in her arms and hurried down the front stairs, crying out to the occupants of the other rooms to close their doors and give her and her blazing burden a clear passageway.

Although her light dress caught fire and the flames ate their way into her flesh, she did not hesitate. But at the bottom of the second flight of stairs her foot caught in her skirt and she fell on top of her fiery load. She was dragged away from the burning stove, but it was too late for the hospital surgeon, who responded to the call, to save her. Firemen extinguished the fire after small damage had been done the house.

PROTECTION VITAL.

be affected. And not only would it destroy the trust, but with it the independent refineries."

SAVE THE INDUSTRY.

"The Republican party is just as much opposed to monopoly as the Democratic party," Mr. Taft announced later. "It passed and enforced the anti-trust law. It believes in going directly at the evil of monopoly by punishing men for continuing it, rather than by destroying the industry and the great combinations of capital that have much utility and that are of such benefit to the wage-earners. It believes in stamping out the evil and not stamping out the corporation."

Tarrytown, Peekskill and Fishkill Landing listened in the rain to short speeches delivered by the candidate from the rear of his car. The dampness did not seem to dull the ardor of the citizens. When the Taft special reached Poughkeepsie at 1 o'clock the rain had just ceased and the sun came out brightly. He was driven to the Collinwood Operahouse, which was crowded to the very doors.

SMILE THAT STAYS.

A class of girls from Vassar College tried to "get" Judge Taft's speech in shorthand, and an enthusiast in the gallery attracted brief attention by shouting:

"He surely wears 'the smile that won't come off.'"

"It will still be there next Tuesday," rejoined Judge Taft, and in his hope the audience seemed to concur.

Here the Republican candidate reverted to Mr. Bryan's issue, "Shall the people rule?"

"'Shall the people rule?' was stranded," he declared. "The truth is that the proposition that the people had not ruled up to this date met with so much ridicule that it has faded out as an issue."

Mr. Taft was so much in demand by the immense crowd outside the theater when he emerged that he made a second speech from the steps of the Republican headquarters building.

DISCUSSES LABOR AGAIN.

Another brief speech was made at Hudson, after which the special ran to Schnectady, where nearly three hours were occupied by the candidate in the delivery of three speeches, all of them predominant with the labor issues. The employés of the American Locomotive Works were spoken to first, receiving the candidate with much show of enthusiasm.

"Schnectady contains more organized union men than any town in the country for its size," declared Mr. Taft, and he then proceeded to inform his hearers of his own labor record and of the labor legislation which the Republican party had enacted, as compared with the blank record of the Democratic party.

TRAIN IS DELAYED.

A faulty engine delayed the Taft special so that it was nearly 10 o'clock before it reached Cohoes, where a monster meeting was addressed.

The interests of labor were talked of at each place, and enthusiasm was at a high pitch. The theory of protection, as explained by Judge Taft, was heartily applauded, and the candidate remarked that the people of Cohoes, an industrial center, seemed to be awake to their own interests. In this connection, he said Mr. Bryan was the author of the statement in the Democratic platform: "Protection is the robbery of the many for the benefit of the few."

Troy was reached at 10:30 o'clock. The immense Bolton Hall was packed and jammed by thousands who had been in their coveted places for three hours.

INDUSTRIES OF TROY.

"I never appreciated the industries of Troy," said the candidate, after he had been introduced, amid great tumult, "until I made four speeches in as many hours, and then I needed the immense laundry facilities."

"Oh, Bill," came a husky voice, exhibiting great solicitude, and after the laughter the candidate said he would not vie with that demonstration, but wished he had the voice.

"You can have it, Bill," was the quick retort.

It was after 11 o'clock when the candidate had finished his day's work. Mr. Taft will leave Troy in the morning for New York, where he will speak many times tomorrow.

SALISBURY BEACH BURNS.

Hundred Summer Cottages in Resort on Atlantic Coast Wiped Out by Fire.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SALISBURY (Mass.) Oct. 27.—The greater portion of the thickly-housed summer colony at Salisbury Beach was wiped out early today by a fire which destroyed more than 100 cottages, situated along the beach front, north of the mouth of the Merrimac River. Practically all of the houses had been abandoned for the season. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

After the flames had raged for three hours the fire-fighting forces of Amesbury, Salisbury and Newburyport, together with the life savers from the beach station, pulled down several cottages between the burning area and the larger hotels and dance halls, and prevented the fire from reaching that section. WET OR DRY, CITY'S CHOICE.

STATE AND COUNTY MAY NOT CONTROL CORPORATION.

Supreme Court of Oregon Rules That Prohibition May Be Voted on by Municipality Independently. Medford Is License City in Dry County of Jackson.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SALEM, Oct. 27.—The Supreme Court of Oregon decided in effect today that a city may elect to remain "wet," after the county in which it is located, or the whole State for that matter, had voted in favor of prohibition.

The local-option statute provides that the question of prohibition shall be submitted to a vote of the people. There is also an act which provides that amendments to the charter of a city may be made by popular vote.

Jackson county, as a whole, elected to become a "dry" county. Medford, a city in that county, conferred upon its Council subsequently the power to regulate the liquor traffic inside the municipal boundary. It did so, and an effort was made by the county to secure a conviction under the local-option law. The Circuit Court held that the decision of the voters of Medford in favor of the sale of liquor served to repeal the prohibition act so far as it related to the city of Medford, and the lower court was upheld in its contention by the Supreme Court.

MOVEMENT IN RENO TO BE MADE STATE-WIDE.

Clubs Will Be Organized in Every County and After National Election in Which Issue Will not Be Raised, Active Campaign Is to Be Waged.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Undaunted by their defeat at the polls at the city election last Saturday, the Anti-Gambling League today held a meeting and made plans for carrying their fight to drive gambling out of Nevada to every city in the State.

Committees were appointed to organize clubs in every county where efforts will be made to secure a popular vote on the question. The league here intends to get out another petition asking for another ordinance and special election about three months hence.

Attributing their defeat to the proximity of the general election and business conditions, they believe a vote at that time will bring a good majority in favor of closing gambling in Reno.

The league voted to keep their hands off politics for this year at least and no effort will be made to have the candidates declare themselves before the coming election.

WINTER STOPS WORK.

Sixty Miles of Rails Laid on Copper River Line Before Snow Falls.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Work on construction on the Copper River and Northwestern Railroad will be shut down for the winter, November 10, says a special from Cordova. By that time more than sixty miles of steel rails will have been laid. About 1000 lab rs will return to Cordova. A hundred or more will be retained to do preliminary work beyond Abercrombie Cañon, which can be accomplished during the winter.

Work will begin early in March on the great cantilever bridge across the Copper River, between Miles and Niles glaciers. Owing to the swiftness of the stream considerable work will have to be done before the ice goes out in the spring. It is estimated it will take two years to complete the bridge.

A number of miners who have come out over the new trail from Fairbanks to Cordova pronounce it superior to the Valdez trail.

Alaska Prospector Who Squandered $150,000 in Short Time Returns to Field.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After squandering a fortune of $150,000, William V. Campbell, the prospector who spent twelve years in Alaska searching for gold and who sold a group of claims recently for $150,000 cash and came back to civilization to enjoy himself, arrived in Tacoma Sunday from Southern California on his way back to Copper River district and Forty Mile country.

At Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, Campbell spent money like a prince with exhaustless resources, and he had $140 left yesterday. He is a picturesque character and does not la-

Asked concerning opportunities in Alaska, Campbell said:

William Abbott Says He Paid Sum to County Clerk Grief, Who, in Turn, Asserts He Gave It to Treasurer McDougald—Grand Jury Will Investigate.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—James C. Tomalty, the chief book-keeper in the office of the City and County Treasurer, arrested on the charge of making false entries in the books in connection with the alleged shortage of $60,000 in the treasury, was arraigned in the Police Court today before Judge Cabaniss.

A motion made by his counsel for a reduction of bail was denied, and Tomalty returned to his cell in the city prison. After the arraignment the case against Tomalty was continued for one week.

On application of a representative of the City Attorney and Attorney-General, Judge Seawell today ordered Treasurer Bantel and County Clerk Mulcrevy to turn over to the Tax Collector the $37,572 taxes paid by the United Railroads, under protest and placed in the County Clerk's special fund in 1903. The money had been held pending the final disposition of the case by the Supreme Court, which in last April decided in favor of the city.

Book-keeper Tomalty has claimed that the money was not in the treasury. Today William Abbott, counsel for the United Railroads, testified that he had paid the check to the County Clerk, and former County Clerk Grief testified that he had received it, and turned it over to Treasurer McDougald.

The matter of the shortage was presented to the grand jury, but that body adjourned until Monday without taking any action. It is understood that the shortage will be fully investigated next week.

SENATOR BOURNE PLAYS POKER.

LOSES $4000 IN QUIET GAME AT PORTLAND.

Six-handed Game With $40 Limit Causes Money to Change Hands. Chief Loser Is Undaunted and Offers to Follow With Pinochle at $150 a Chance.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was a $40 limit and a six-handed game. Senator Jonathan Bourne was a prominent player and the session took place at a room in the Portland Hotel last Sunday.

Gus Simon, Dr. C. H. Wheeler and I. Lowengart, all prominent in Portland business circles, were in the game.

When it broke up, Senator Bourne was out $4000, although at intervals he played with such luck as to cause the other players to hesitate to call him. In one hand, with two kings and two fours, Bourne raised repeatedly before the draw, although one man was standing pat on a straight, and luckily drew a third king. He won several hundred dollars on the one hand.

But this stroke of luck was not sufficient to offset his losses and when the players pushed their chairs back he was far to the bad on the day's session.

To show he was still game, he offered to play pinochle at $150 a game, but everybody was looking out of the window.

HOUNDS FIND DEAD HUNTER.

Body of Kloeber Discovered Short Distance from That of His Companion.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 27.—A special to the Ledger from Hot Springs, Wash., says: "Lying face downward beside a fallen tree, about a mile and a half from the spot where the body of his companion, Julius J. Kumble, was found on Sunday, the body of Fred W. Kloeber was discovered by bloodhounds this afternoon on Roosercomb range.

"Mr. Kloeber came to his death as the result of an accident. The position of the body indicates he stumbled over the log, and in doing so, struck his head on a fir tree, breaking his neck. His gun was found under him.

"His face was bruised and his jaw dislocated. Marks on the log proved he had fallen over it, probably while feeling his way along in the darkness."

BELIEVED HOSPITAL ESCAPE.

REDDING, Oct. 27.—A half-demented man, aged 40, believed to be an escape from the Humboldt County Hospital at Eureka, was arrested yesterday sixty-five miles down Trinity River, from Weaverville. Officers brought him to Weaverville tonight. He refuses to give his name and demands only right of way to Grants Pass., Or. Strangely, both feet are off at the instep, and he walks clumsily on the stubs, which are encased in boots. He will be examined tomorrow as to his sanity.

DR. HEDDERLY ON STAND.

Angeleno Examined in Land Fraud Trial at Portland, Closing Case.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND, Oct. 27.—United States Attorney McCourt late today began his argument to the jury in the so-called Los Angeles land-fraud case.

The last witness to testify was Dr. J. H. Hedderly, one of the officers of the company. All of the morning session was taken up by the cross-examination of Dr. Hedderly by Tracy C. Becker. For his manner of interrogating the witness, the prosecutor was taken to task by Attorney John Manning, who, in turn, was called to order by Judge Wolverton.

McCourt will be followed tomorrow by Attorney McLemore, who will close for the defense, and Judge Becker will close for the government.

It is expected the case will go to the jury late in the afternoon.

Dietrich of Idaho, sitting on the circuit bench here, today, rendered an oral decision holding the relief fund remaining from the amount gathered to aid sufferers in the fire of 1906, responsible for a loss of $6535 sustained by the Hammond Packing Company, when, in 1906, two car loads of canned beef belonging to that company, were seized by soldiers for the relief of persons in San Francisco.

MANEUVERS.

SAVES WAGON TRAIN BY DECISIVE VICTORY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CAMP ATASCADERO, Oct. 27.—The only decisive victory of the present maneuvers was won today, when Maj. W. M. Wright of the Eighth Infantry succeeded in evading the main body of the Blue force, under Capt. Jenkins, Fifth Cavalry, defeated and put out of action two-thirds of the Blue cavalry, and passed southward toward Santa Margarita with his wagon train. This convoy problem called for quick and vigorous action on both sides, especially on the Red side, which was hampered greatly by the train of thirty-six wagons, and twice Maj. Wright had to countermarch on the gallop with his wagons and the infantry guard perched therein.

Three fires, two of which threatened to be serious, had the camp out after the conclusion of the maneuvers today. A tent in the artillery camp was consumed, and a few minutes later shrill bugles announced that the woods back of the Twentieth Infantry camp were burning. As the panting men returned from fighting this blaze, fire call again brought them out toward Larsens, where the woods were burning strongly. The cavalry, artillery and signal corps, all being mounted, were the first to arrive. After fighting the blaze all the afternoon, it was gotten under partial control, and an infantry patrol put on to keep it within limits. The loss is not great.

Although the first regular troops to leave will entrain Thursday, there is as yet no diminution of enthusiasm in the mimic warfare, and all the camps are as complete as when first pitched. The Monterey infantry and machine gun organizations will march home, but the others will go by rail.

THE WRONG MAN.

HATFIELD TO BE RELEASED TODAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN JOSE, Oct. 27.—Bill Hatfield, the Dunham suspect, was visited this forenoon by at least three men who would have identified him instantly were he Dunham. One of these is Byron Cottle, who was a deputy under Sheriff Lyndon at the time the murders at Campbell were committed.

Cottle had known Dunham intimately from boyhood and Dunham had gone to him only a day or two before for some business advice. Cottle has a cut of Dunham's teeth which he procured from the latter's dentist immediately after Dunham had fled.

"This man is not Dunham," emphatically declared Cottle after inspecting and talking with Hatfield. Cottle even examined his teeth, and found they were all sound, whereas Dunham had had a number of large cavities filled.

"If Dunham is ever returned to this city," said Cottle, "there are several people here who will recognize him instantly."

Another man who this morning declared Hatfield is not Dunham is Jacob Hauptli, who for two years worked for Col. McGlincey and who had been associated much in his work with Dunham. Hauptli said that Hatfield's hands, thumbs, eyes and ears were all different from Dunham's.

Robert Fultjo, who went to school with Dunham when they were boys and who had seen him frequently thereafter also declares that Hatfield is not the man.

In view of this and other testimony Dist.-Atty. Free expects to direct the man's release by tomorrow.

BONAPARTE PRAISES TAFT.

Attorney-General Declares Candidate Eminently Fitted for Presidency. Bryan Denounced.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—William H. Taft was praised and William J. Bryan was denounced today by Atty.-Gen. Bonaparte, at a noon-day meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Sound Money League.

Mr. Bonaparte said that after years of intimate association with Mr. Taft in President Roosevelt's cabinet, he did not know where he could find a man more fitted by character, experience and public service to be President of the United States than Mr. Taft. Then he accused Mr. Bryan of taking up and supporting policies, only to drop them when he believed they had become untimely.

Referring to Samuel Gompers's friendship for Bryan, and suggesting that Gompers might be made Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor if Bryan is elected, Mr. Bonaparte said:

"Are they the sort of men that you would want to have at the head of the government? In case there should be a serious business depression and thousands of men thrown out of work, would you want them to deal with such a crisis who are liberal in making promises, but forget about them when the time comes for fulfillment?"

DENIES INVASION OF PERSIA.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The reported movement of Russian troops into Persia was discussed by the House of Commons this afternoon. Foreign Secretary Grey said that no Russian soldiers had crossed the border. There had been a number of more or less serious disturbances near the Russian frontier, he explained, and as Great Britain always claimed the right of taking what steps she thought fit when British lives were in danger, she would not refuse that right to others, and he contended that Russia was acting in the spirit of the convention.

CAMPAIGN CLIMAX.

NEW YORK ON FIRE FOR TAFT.

Fifth Avenue to Be Ablaze for Night Parade.

Hitchcock Finds Surprises in Late Reports.

Predictions Will Add to the States Listed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Regardless of atmospheric conditions, the Republican county organization has planned to make Fifth avenue outshine Broadway tomorrow night.

Buildings from Fifty-ninth street to Thirteenth will be electrically lighted. The Union and Union League clubs will be illuminated, and flashlights from skyscrapers and steeples will help.

Interspersed in the marching clubs from thirty-five Assembly districts will be fifty bands of musicians. While tomorrow night will not be the last by several meetings and rallies, it will be, Chairman Hitchcock said today, the climax of the campaign.

A long list of distinguished speakers will fill in the time at Madison Square Garden until the arrival of Mr. Taft.

Chairman Hitchcock said today that the information on which he is to base the forecast of the electoral vote which he will give out at the end of the week is reaching him rapidly, and that already it is sufficient to convince him that many surprises evidently are in store for election day.

From the leaders of the party in Missouri the reports are far more optimistic than they have been hitherto, he said, and in consequence, he was almost tempted to expect that State to show up in the Republican column. He did not expect to carry Kentucky, but believed there was a promise of a few electoral votes there for the Republicans, and Mr. Hitchcock added that Tennessee also apparently is preparing some surprises.

Ohio was described as absolutely safe, nor was Indiana giving the Republican chairman any concern, but he was not so hopeful, he said, of Montana and Nevada. However, these latter two were the only States west of the Mississippi that were in doubt, according to his way of thinking.

New York was declared to be like Ohio, absolutely safe. Both Mr. Taft and Gov. Hughes were, he said, assured of victory in the State.

STRENUOUS LIFE.

BRYAN SLEEPS THREE HOURS.

BEGINS SPEAKING AT 3 A.M., AND KEEPS IT UP.

Democratic Candidate Travels Hundred and Fifteen Miles in Automobile and Makes Eighteen Speeches—Accompanied by Tammany Leader Murphy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Winding up his remarkable campaign in and about Greater New York, William J. Bryan was whirled 115 miles by automobile in Manhattan and Brooklyn during the day and night and made eight speeches between the hours of 6 and 12 o'clock tonight. In New York he was accompanied by Tammany Leader Charles F. Murphy. Arriving at Brooklyn bridge he was met by Senator Patrick H. McCarren, Democratic leader of Brooklyn, Lieut.-Gov. Chanler's campaign for Governor coincided with Mr. Bryan's itinerary both in Manhattan and Brooklyn, and while he in one place was pleading for loyal support of the national ticket, Mr. Bryan at another was urging votes for the State candidate, and for the Democratic nominees for Congress.

Mr. Bryan made eighteen speeches during the day, and everywhere he went—plowing at times through mud and rain and in a rush to keep his many engagements—he was greeted by some of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences of his tour.

The Democratic candidate's eventful day began at 3 a.m., when he addressed the night workers from the steps of the City Hall. Then followed a Broadway meeting at 10 a.m. and a forenoon trip to Brooklyn to address an audience of laboring men in and about Market Square.

From Brooklyn Bryan hurried across to Long Island City, then to Jersey City, where three speeches ended the New Jersey campaign.

Back in New York again, Mr. Bryan was the guest of the College Men's Democratic Club, and then with Mr. Murphy, was hurried uptown for two Harlem meetings. Six meetings in Brooklyn—the principal one at Claremont-avenue rink—brought the day's work to a close.

Although he had but three hours' sleep out of thirty-six, Mr. Bryan spoke with all of his characteristic vigor and good humor.

BRYAN ALL SWELLED UP

Says He Is Going to Carry His Own Precinct and Break Record.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—William J. Bryan expects to carry his own precinct next Tuesday for the first time in three campaigns.

"You know that the Republicans are saying that I never carried my own precinct," said Mr. Bryan to the members of the National Democratic Committee. "But the Republicans have not told that when I moved into that precinct there were ten Republicans to two Democrats and that now there are only two Republicans to one Democrat.

"This year, I am going to carry my own precinct."

AMERICAN FLEET.

CHINA DILIGENT IN PROTECTING VISITORS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

AMOY, Oct. 27.—As a precaution against any disturbance during the visit here of the second squadron of the American fleet, invitations to the Chinese reception to the fleet have been limited in number to 400.

Many foreigners of bad character are assembling here, but no foreigners will be admitted to the grounds where the receptions are to be held, without a pass from the consular representatives of his country. Invitations to the Foochow students and naval cadets have been withdrawn.

The second squadron consists of the battleships Louisiana, Virginia, Ohio, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois, Kentucky and Kearsarge, under command of Rear-Admiral William H. Emory, and, according to the itinerary, they are due here October 29 and will remain until November 4.

The Chinese government has set aside the sum of 400,000 taels (United States gold $280,000) to meet the expense of entertaining the battleship squadron during its visit. The committee in charge of the arrangements has stated that the Peking government has signified its willingness to make an additional appropriation should the original appropriation prove inadequate.

The following officials have been designated by the Peking government to constitute a reception committee: An Imperial Prince; the vice-president of the Foreign Board, Peking; the Viceroy of Fukien province; the Governor of Chekiang; the admiral in command of the Chinese squadron; the major-general of the Fukien division; the Taotai of Amoy; the special commissioners Chien Yu and Mai Hsin Ch'ien (Dr. George Mark.) The management of the preparations for the reception has been placed in the hands of Commissioner Mark, assisted by the Taotai of Amoy and Commissioner Ch'ien Yu. Dr. Mark accompanied His Excellency, Li Hung Chang, as interpreter on his tour around the world about sixteen years ago, and has proved himself exceedingly well qualified to manage the arrangements for the reception.

The Chinese reception and entertainment will be distinctly Chinese in its nature, yet so planned as not to be inconsistent with the American ideas of enjoyment. The grounds are circular in shape and a road thirty feet wide will lead from the sea to these grounds, a distance of about one-quarter of a mile. This road continues a half-mile further and connects with a beautiful Chinese temple (Nau Fu Tou Miao) in the hills to the south of the grounds. Clusters of bamboos at intervals of every ten feet have been planted along each side of the road for its entire distance. Chinese lanterns will be strung along through these clusters of bamboos. An electric light plant capable of supplying 10,000 15-candle-power lights will be installed and whenever these lights are used they will be dropped into Chinese paper lanterns, thus maintaining the Chinese effect. A series of buildings and mat sheds have been constructed about the circular plot of ground. The main building, to be known as the officers' hall, will be 200x60 feet and is so situated as to command a splendid view of the whole field. There is a stage for Chinese theatricals in one end of this building. Accommodations for dining and entertaining 300 people will be provided in this hall. A veranda on the front and ends of the hall directly overlooks the baseball diamond and football gridiron. Directly opposite the hall, on the other side of the oblong, has been erected a gorgeous Chinese arch which will be outlined in electric lights. This arch will serve as one of the entrances to the grounds. Ten buildings, constructed of bamboo and Chinese matting, and facing on the circle, will provide dining accommodations for 3000 men. Two large buildings, each capable of accommodating 1000 people, will serve as theaters. A large structure has been erected for an exhibition hall and bazaar, where Chinese wares and curios may be exhibited and sold. Bordering on the circle, nearly opposite the officers' hall, is a picturesque knoll, which will serve for the fireworks display. This knoll has the advantage of being visible from the sea; thus when the fireworks are being exhibited the men on board the vessels in the harbor may see them from their ships. In the plan of decorations, so far as possible, the American and Chinese colors only have been used.

NEW GUNNERS' RECORD.

BATTLE PRACTICE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MANILA, Oct. 27.—While the scores and figures of the cruiser and gunboat squadrons, made in target and battle practice which has just been concluded, will not be made public until they arrive at the navy department at Washington, it has been announced that all previous records have been broken. The Rainbow led in the gunboat squadron, exceeding all the scores by the Wilmington, present holder of the trophy.

In the day battle practice, all the warships improved the showing made last year, in spite of the fact that conditions were much more difficult and that the crews knew nothing of the governing conditions until sealed orders from Washington were opened on the practice grounds.

The Helena, Galveston and Rainbow accomplished remarkable results in night firing, some of the records exceeding 300 per cent, anything ever before established. The order of excellence established, according to scores made in day practice is as follows:

Galveston, Denver, Chattanooga, Cleveland, Wilmington, Concord and Helena.

In night firing, the order stands as follows:

Galveston, Chattanooga, Denver, Cleveland, Rainbow, Helena, Wilmington and Concord.

At the conclusion of practice, after the scores had been tabulated, Rear-Admiral Harber, commanding the squadron, warmly congratulated the ordnance officers and commanders of the various vessels on the remarkable proficiency attained.

Picks up Fleet Stragglers.

TOKIO, Oct. 27.—The scout cruiser Yankton sailed today to join the fleet, after picking up the stragglers among the men. But two sailors were left behind when the Yankton departed. The newspapers of Japan still contain much comment laudatory of the fleet and praise is directed toward the behavior and appearance of the men.

IN DEEP WATER.

HASKELL'S DUMMIES TELL OF LAND FRAUD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GUTHRIE (Okla.) Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Creek Indian land deals of Gov. C. N. Haskell to which President Roosevelt referred in his open letter of September 28, 1908, to Bryan, form the subject of a signed statement given to the press today by M. L. Mott, of Muskogee, Federal attorney for the Creek tribe. In this statement, Mr. Mott shows that prior to March 8, 1900, the only right any man had to any lots in the city of Muskogee, then in the Creek Indian nation, was the right of occupancy or a tenantcy at will. The town was built on the lands of the Creek Indians. If a man held any of the vacant or unimproved property within the townsite for grazing or any other purpose, he was permitted under an act of Congress to hold not more than two lots, one for a home and one for a place of business, and to have the same at one-half their appraised value. All the remainder to be sold by the government in town lots at auction to the highest bidder. Mott says:

"To prevent the sale of these lots at auction and in order that they might get them at one-half their appraised value, C. N. Haskell entered into a conspiracy with one of the parties holding a large vacant tract in the town, whereby a large number of lots were scheduled in the names of 'dummies.'

"I have, within the last two weeks, secured from these 'dummies' in different States so used by C. N. Haskell, statements and affidavits.

"All of these parties maintain they knew nothing whatever of the Muskogee town lot deals until they received quitclaim deeds to sign which they did for the accommodation of the persons making the request, and that they personally never derived any benefits whatever from the transactions.

"James King Duffy of New York City made a signed statement October 19, 1908, that he was associated in business in 1901 in Muskogee with C. N. Haskell; that he took title with Haskell as trustee to town lots, supplied the names of persons to whom these lots could be scheduled and patents issued; that said persons were residents of New York and New Jersey; none of whom had any financial interest in the lots."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Fulton, downed at the primary election by Chamberlain, the Democratic Governor of the State, for United States Senator, will unquestionably take his fight to the Legislature. He is credited generally with working underground for election. A majority of the legislators are pledged to "Statement No. 1," a provision of the direct primary law that binds those taking the pledge before the election to vote for the candidate for United States Senator receiving the highest popular vote at the primary election preceding. The Legislature will be composed of ninety members, fifty-one of whom are pledged to "Statement No. 1," and if they keep their pledges, they must vote for Chamberlain, a Democrat. Forty-six votes are necessary to election. It is thought Fulton and his friends are working to influence legislators pledged to "Statement No. 1" to either not attend the Legislature on account of sickness or change their stand and vote for a Republican.

Senator Fulton, in an interview after the results of the primary election were made known, said a Republican should be elected, and that Chamberlain should be kept at home. Who the Republican was who should be chosen Fulton declined to say, but his choice was easily guessed to be himself.

At a Taft meeting last night in this city, Congressman W. E. Humphrey, of Washington, told the audience it would be a severe blow to this State, as well as disastrous to the whole Pacific Northwest not to reelect Senator Fulton at the next session of the Legislature.

There has not been any open announcement of Senator Fulton's programme at the coming session, because of the effect it might have on the national election in this State, but as soon as that is out of the way the wise ones expect to see Fulton's campaign opened in earnest. That there will be things doing is generally admitted, for Fulton is a skilled politician, a disciple of the late Senator Mitchell, who held the State in the hollow of his hand for a quarter of a century. Fulton sees in himself Mitchell's logical successor, and he will fight in earnest, it is believed, for the honor.

"Statement No. 1" legislators are being felt out right now and such as are at all possible to use are being attached to the Fulton interests, it is said. It is understood that good positions, with promises of further emoluments, perfectly legitimate enough, are being secured for members of the next session. Any who will take such plums can have them gladly, it is hinted.

Newspapers friendly to Fulton are setting up a counter irritation by printing things detrimental to Chamberlain, based on his political affiliations. Attacks designed to show his unfitness for the position of United States Senator are expected to be more and more numerous and vitriolic as the January session of the Legislature approaches.

In the fifty-one legislators pledged to Chamberlain, it will be strange if the Fulton managers cannot find enough men who will desert Chamberlain to make the contest close and render Fulton's election even probable. The people of the State expect the fur to fly at the coming session.

INSURANCE OFFICERS RESIGN.

Break in Mutual Savings Life Company Follows Controversy of Several Weeks.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All the officers of the Mutual Savings Life Insurance Company, which has offices at No. 299 Broadway, it was learned tonight, have resigned following a controvery lasting several weeks. President William A. Fricke, in resigning, charged that Miles M. Dawson, who was an expert insurance adviser of the Armstrong committee, had sought to sell out the company.

The others who have resigned are: Vice-President Jullyus E. Roeher, L. B. Plummer and Elmer H. Dearth and the assistant secretary, Miss A. L. Monahan. Mr. Dawson is abroad. Alfred H. Best, chairman of the company's directors, denied the charge of President Fricke. The company has insurance in force amounting to about $700,000.

MARRIED EN ROUTE.

Los Angeles Man Goes to Denver to Wed Bride Coming from Illinois.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Delia Mott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mott of Alton, Ill., is en route to Denver, Colo., where she will be married to R. B. Thompson of Los Angeles, Cal., an employé of the Standard Oil Company. Miss Mott met Thompson a year ago when she was stenographer in Granite City. When Thompson finally was ordered to Los Angeles he took with him a promise which Miss Mott has gone to Denver to keep. Her parents explain the selection of Denver as the marriage scene by saying that Thompson could not obtain a sufficiently lengthy leave of absence to come all the way to Alton.

Daughter of Late Senator Seeks in Vain Release of Deserter from Navy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Ada Gorman Magness, daughter of the late Senator Gorman of Maryland, came here today and saw her husband, Charles J. Magness, who is under arrest at the navy yard for deserting the navy. Later, before leaving for Washington, she said: "I have not accomplished anything yet for my husband's release but I will not abandon my efforts to free him."

BRYAN HOODOO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another Cleveland Democrat has repudiated William J. Bryan in the persop of Lawrence P. Doyle, former attorney of the Election Commission, one of the authors of the State Australian ballot law, and a former master in chancery of the Superior Court. Mr. Doyle voted for Bryan in 1896. He stated today that he would vote for Mr. Taft.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

Boss T'dore Bell will make his last official appearance of the campaign in Los Angeles today. He is going to entertain at a 50-cent-a-plate luncheon at the Westminster. This will be the last of T'dore until the gubernatorial campaign opens a year and a half hence.

Bell is reported to be bringing a sour stomach south with him on this trip. He realizes that California is irrevocably anti-Bryan and anti-Bell, and he is inclined to place a portion of the blame on the warring factions of the South. Bell has given up his cherished hopes of being the next United States Senator from California; that hope withered and died when the Lincoln-Roosevelt League petered out in the August primaries. He now knows that the Republicans will have a clear majority in both houses; that no combination of Democrat and Lincoln-Roosevelt can be successful.

T'dore is existing on the hope that there will be some hard times in California during the next two years, and that he will be able to win an election on a sand lot platform in the fall of 1910. But this hope will grow still more forlorn when T'dore discovers that Gov. Gillett is just as popular south of Tehachepi as he is in the northern part of the State. One of the features of the Governor's State tour was the spontaneous reception tendered him in the five southern counties. It is this sentiment that is likely to kill the last political ambition of Boss T'dore.

Harry Alexander has retired from active participation in the State political contest for the purpose of conducting a campaign of education on certain of the charter amendments to be on the ballot at the November election. The sentiment against further amending our State constitution has grown so strong that there is a grave doubt whether any of the proposed amendments will carry this fall.

One of these provides for extending the life of certain corporations and the other affects the tax on mortgages. Alexander is at the head of a bureau that is working for the ratification of these two proposed amendments; they are sandwiched in among fourteen other proposals and it will require some discrimination on the part of the voters to pick them out.

There was a slight excitement in the Seventh Ward yesterday when H. J. Woolacott spent the day there campaigning in an automobile with Tom Rullo, president of the Royal Arch. Rullo explained his part in the day's work last night by saying that he went out for Woolacott because he had received inside information that H. D. McCabe, his opponent, had been indorsed by the Church Federation.

Albert Norton, the bright young man at the head of the Democratic County Central Committee, has come through with a prediction that Bryan will carry this county by a plurality of about 4000 votes. He says that this will carry to victory a number of legislative candidates. Norton asserts that these predictions are based on the reports of the precinct workers who have made careful polls of their respective districts. All of which appears to indicate that Mr. Norton has been jobbed in the selection of his precinct workers.

A week from this morning the result of the election in Los Angeles county will appear in The Times. Mr. Norton's reputation for political sagacity will depend on how nearly his forecasts approach the actual results of the election. I haven't any poll books in my tower; my only source of information is the man on the street; but I would like to prophesy that Mr. Norton has underestimated the Republican vote in this county not less than 14,000 votes. Mr. Norton is a very young man and he appears to be riding for a fall.

The Democrats are going about this week, taking up their usual collection to defray the expense of their star rally, which is to be held here Saturday night. The Republicans closed the oratorical campaign last Saturday; they desire that the last week of the campaign shall be devoted to actual work in the different precincts. The comparative value of the two systems will be shown in part when the votes are counted next week. It is a question of talk against work; if talk could win, the Democrats would have a life job running the government, provided the socialists didn't butt in.

Benson was unable to make a statement about the affair when he was examined by the physicians. Detectives will investigate the case today. Murphy is the only member of the mob who is known to the police. He declares that he did not incite the other men to use violence, and that he protested against lynching.

According to the police, a chicken thief has been active in that neighborhood for the past month. In some cases residents have had every chicken stolen at one time.

About three weeks ago, when a raid was made on three chicken coops in one night, residents decided to form a vigilance committee and take steps to capture the thief. Murphy had about thirty chickens, and he had been watching his coop closely for several nights. When he went home last night he went to it, saw that the door was open. Before entering he decided to assemble neighbors.

Benson says that he is a peddler, but the police were unable to find out where he lived. It is believed, however that he is the man who has been robbing so many roosts.

number of other operators had been duped for small amounts. The police also learned last night that he was wanted in Flagstaff for jumping several board bills.

When Boutwell came here he sent a telegram to an uncle by the same name in St. Louis, asking him to send him some money. Boutwell posed as being wealthy and said that he had recently come into possession of a large ranch in the La Canada Valley. He called at the telegraph office several times to inquire about an answer to his message.

When he received no reply he borrowed money from Schimeck and others, saying that he would return the amount as soon as he heard from his uncle. Schimeck became suspicious and sent a tracer in regard to the telegram. When Schimeck learned that the telegram had not been delivered on account of the wrong address being given, he had Boutwell arrested. Boutwell secured about $25 from Schimeck and about $30 from the other operators.

CAUGHT WITH LOOT.

Detectives Capture Two Suspects Who Were Trying to Pawn a Stolen Watch.

In the act of pawning a watch which had been stolen from the residence of Thomas B. Passons of No. 1180 East Fifty-eighth street, G. N. Cooke and A. A. Hewett, said by the police to be professional burglars, were arrested last night. Hewett was wearing two rings which had also been stolen from the same place, and Cooke had two pawn tickets for more of the stolen property. Although the men deny that they entered Passons's place, the detectives say they have a good case against them.

Passons's house was robbed last Thursday night while the family was away. An entrance was gained by prying open a window. Two watches, eight rings and one bracelet were stolen. The detectives have recovered nearly all of the property, most of it being in pawnshops.

TRIES TO STAB OFFICER.

Patrolman Turner attempted to separate two Mexicans last night who were fighting at Sunset Boulevard and New High streets. Suddenly Luis Valdes, one of the principals, drew his knife and stabbed at the officer. Turner knocked him down and the other ran. While Turner was pursuing the fleeing Mexican, Valdes was found by Patrolman Pauts, who sent him to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. Turner was unable to overtake the man he was chasing. He will prosecute Valdes on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

BACK TO STAND TRIAL.

John Berry and John Sanbavaria, who were arrested last Saturday night as fugitives from justice, will be taken back to San Francisco today, when two detectives arrive with the warrants. They are accused of breaking into the strong-room of the steamer Peru at the Pacific Mail dock and stealing the safe. It was lowered into a small boat and the men took it ashore and blew it open. It contained $700 and valuables amounting to about $1000, which belonged to passengers. The men were employed on the steamer and were discharged when the vessel arrived in San Francisco.

BLOW TO WHITE SLAVE TRADE.

Federal Judge Imposes Sentence of Two Years and Fine of $2500 on Dealer.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—A stunning blow was delivered to the "white-slave" traffic in Chicago yesterday by the Federal government, when Judge Bethea imposed a fine of $2500 on Joseph Ochsner and sentenced him to serve two years in the government prison at Ft. Leavenworth. Ochsner was found guilty on a charge of harboring Marie Schulkraft, an alien woman, for immoral purposes in violation of the immigration laws. It was also charged that he brought the woman from Stuttgart, Germany, after deserting his wife and children.

Dist.-Atty. Parkin urged the court to inflict the extreme penalty upon Ochsner, which is five years' imprisonment and a fine of $5000, but the court declined on the ground that he was doubtful about the constitutionality of the law under which the "white slave" prosecutions have been made.

"I won't inflict the extreme penalty," said Judge Bethea. "Before such an action is taken the Supreme Court should have an opportunity to pass upon the constitutionality of the law. It will be called upon to do so, I have no doubt."

VON AEHRENTHAL IS CONCILIATORY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUDAPEST, Oct. 27.—Baron von Aehrenthal, the Austrian Foreign Minister, in an important speech today, indicated a yielding attitude on the part of Austria, which may aid materially in the preservation of peace.

Addressing the foreign delegation, the minister indicated it was Austria's desire to do its utmost to relieve the present tension and that therefore the government would not insist that the question of annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina should be entirely eliminated from the programme of the international congress, although naturally he could not admit that the powers had the right to question the annexation of the provinces or the idea of any territorial compensations in other directions.

On this basis, however, he added there was no objection to the congress placing on record the abrogation of the articles relating to Bosnia and Novipazar. The Austro-Hungarian government was trying to smooth the way for the conference, and he hoped his government's intentions would be appreciated at Constantinople and a hand extended for a friendly understanding.

He would be glad to see the Turko-Bulgarian negotiations lead to an understanding for which conditions were by no means unfavorable.

Acting with that view, Austria, in common with other powers, had dissuaded the adminstrations at Constantinople and at Sofia from adopting military measures calculated to increase mutual distrust.

With regard to Servia and Montenegro, he said, neither was entitled to interfere in the matter in any way, but notwithstanding his government was willing to treat both with benevolence and take their interests into consideration. It would be better, however, for their own interest to set practical aims for their activity instead of pursuing dreams that could never be realized.

Continuing, the Foreign Minister dilated upon Austria's conciliatory attitude, which had met with the support of her allies, Germany and Italy. He looked to the future with confidence, and for that very reason he believed the other governments were displaying an equally conciliatory disposition.

RURALES ON MURDER CASES.

Three Crimes at Mining Camp of Inde Stir Mexican Authorities to Action.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

EL PASO, (Tex.) Oct. 27.—Mexican rurales have been ordered to the mining camp of Inde, State of Durango, Mex., according to a special from Torreon to the El Paso Herald, in consequence of three atrocious murders in that vicinity, for which the police have failed to fix responsibility.

Barney Towns, an American mining man, was recently killed beside a road and his body dragged into bushes, where it lay several days. Next Francois Ariola was found murdered in the same region, and last Sunday the dead body of Cruz Gandarilla was found.

The rurales have been ordered to hunt down a noted bandit, who is said to be in that locality.

Mrs. Stebbins Dies and Husband Attributes Act to Excessive Use of Nerve Tonic.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEWARK (N. J.) Oct. 27.—Mrs. Charles N. Stebbins, wife of the manager of the Pure Oil Company, who shot herself last night in the head in her apartments in the Continental Hotel, died today. In a letter adressed to Benjamin E. Stebbins, brother of her husband and manager of the Atlantic Refining Company in Erie, Pa., the woman expressed her love for him and asked him to care for her small daughter, now with his mother. The husband saw her shoot herself and attributes her act to excessive use of drugs.

OLD INDICTMENT ACTIVE.

On a fugitive warrant from Denver, R. W. Reed was arrested by Detectives Rich and Roberds on South Broadway near Sixth yesterday afternoon, and locked up in the City Jail pending an investigation. Reed is charged by the Denver authorities with having been one of a gang of confidence men, operating in Colorado three years ago. The indictments against him were filed in January, 1906. He will be held until officers from Denver arrive.

BOYS AS BURGLARS.

Morris White, 16 years old, and Howard Grannis, 14, were arrested yesterday by Detectives Ingram and Carroll and locked up in the Dentention Home on burglary charges. The boys are alleged to have entered a grocery store owned by J. D. Moody at Pico and Fedora streets on October 21. A quantity of cigars and cigarettes were stolen. Most of the plunder was recovered from the White boy's room.

ROBS WOMAN IN DAYLIGHT.

BOLD SAN FRANCISCO CRIME.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Mrs. W. T. Appleby left the Hotel Warren, where she resides, about 9 o'clock this afternoon, and was walking on Willow avenue, when she was attacked by a footpad, who secured her hand satchel containing $65 in cash and a gold watch. She had stopped to tie her shoe and for a moment laid the satchel on the sidewalk. The robber dazed her with a blow in the face, took her property and escaped.

HIDDEN MONEY STOLEN.

When Mrs. Mary Hiatt of No. 234 Orme avenue returned home yesterday afternoon, after a short absence, she found that her house had been ransacked and $54.50 stolen. A few minutes before leaving the house, Mrs. Hiatt hid the money under the carpet in the dining-room. She reported her loss to the police, but the detectives were unable to find any trace of the thieves.

Savannah Race Indications Point to Hard Contest for Crack American Drivers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Now that the Vanderbilt cup race is over, automobile enthusiasts are turning their attention to a grand prize race, which will take place at Savannah on Thanksgiving Day. The entries for this race show a much larger percentage of foreign cars than competed in the Vanderbilt cup race.

The best of the European drivers are expected to compete with all the prominent American drivers entered in the race.

ROOT'S COUSIN DEFEATED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WINNIPEG, Oct. 27.—Late returns from Western Canada show Clifford Sifton was elected in Brandon by 54 votes, and W. A. Templeton was defeated in Victoria, B. C., by five votes.

Ralph Smith, Liberal, was elected in Nanaimo, over Thwaite, Socialist, according to late returns. In Vancouver and New Westminster the government candidates were defeated, owing to the feeling that the government had not been firm enough in excluding orientals.

G. F. Root, who was running in Red Deer, Alberta, was overwhelmingly defeated by Clark, Liberal. Root is a cousin of Elihu Root, the American Secretary of State.

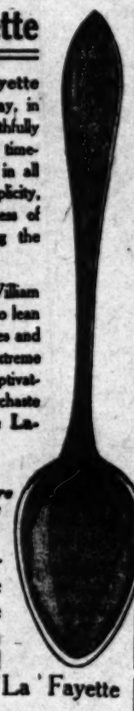
Heirlooms

Among the most cherished heirlooms of the Revolutionary Period, are the plain, old-fashioned teaspoons used by Colonial dames in entertaining the Marquis de LaFayette and other notables.

La Fayette

¶ The LaFayette Pattern of today, in sterling silver, faithfully reproduces the time-honored design in all its severe simplicity, and its quaintness of outline, including the pointed bowl.

Disciples of William Morris, those who lean to "mission" styles and all who admire extreme simplicity, are captivated with the chaste beauty of the La-Fayette.



It is a pleasure to show the LaFayette

GRANEY WILD AND WOOLLY.

Throws Ball About in Very Fierce Manner.

Locals Score Three Runs in Sixth Without Hits.

Briswalter Has no Trouble Holding Beavers.

Los Angeles, 7; Portland, 1.

If McCredie had locked Heaver Graney in his room and put a guard over him, instead of sending him in to pitch for the Beavers yesterday, there might be a different history to write of the first game of the final week of the season. As it was, the Champions made enough runs in the sixth inning, without a hit, to win the game, and consequently the visitors had no chance to get ahead. He made two wild pitches, walked eight men, and soaked two with the ball; and, after the sixth, McCredie threw him out into right field and put in Danzig to pitch.

All the interest that would ordinarily be in a game with Portland was knocked out by this fierceness of the heaver, and not one of the seven hits of the locals batted in a run.

In the first inning Cooney juggled Oakes' grounder, and then Ellis sacrificed. Dillon singled to center, sending Oakes to third, and a moment later Graney tried to catch Dillon off first base and threw the ball to the fence. Oakes scoring and Dillon going to third. Then Graney walked Hosp, and a moment later heaved a wild pitch that scored Dillon. As showing how bad Graney was, he followed Hosp's pass by soaking Howard with the ball.

Two more runs came just as easily in the fifth inning, which Dillon started with a safe bunt to third base. He was forced at second by Hosp, and then Howard popped a Texas leaguer back of first base. Smith forced Howard at second, which put Hosp on third. Then Graney went to the bad again, for he hit Delmas with the ball, and walked both Hogan and Briswalter, and these things forced in Hosp and Smith with runs.

Ellis opened the last of the sixth with a pass. Dillon sacrificed, and Graney not only made a wild pitch, but walked Hosp and Howard. Then Smith hit a grounder to Cooney, who not only juggled the ball, but threw it wildly to first base, and Ellis, Hosp and Howard scored.

After this bunch of wild-man business, McCredie took Danzig off first and made him pitch the remaining two innings. Johnson went from third to first; Ryan from right field to third, and Graney to right field. To the surprise of the fans, Danzig held the locals to one single in the two innings and fanned two, and had such a burst of speed that there is little question but that he might make a pitcher out of himself if he were given a chance.

The Beavers started well in the first, for Delmas juggled Cooney's grounder. A moment later Corney stole second and scored on Johnson's long single, that hit the center fence on the bounce. There was nothing more until two were out in the sixth inning, when Ryan singled and Bassey tripled to right, this Bassey swat being a hard smash that bounced off Howard's hands.

For a wonder there were no spectacular plays, and Dillon and Johnson divided the hitting honors. There was only a fair-sized crowd of fans at the game, and if they want continuous ball next season they will have to show a better attendance than they have in the last ten days.

SEALS BEAT OAKS.

THIRTEEN-INNING GAME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Seals took the first game of the final series from the Oaks yesterday at Freeman Park by a score of 5 to 4, after thirteen innings of exciting baseball.

Danny Long's hirelings jumped into the lead in the first inning through the wildness of Pitcher Loucks and the game seemed to be tucked safely away. Happy Hogan, who supplemented the former Sand Crab, was in one of his happiest moods, however, and after the first inning only allowed three singles for the twelve succeeding spasms.

The Commuters got two in the fourth and another couple in the eighth, but Curtis made a lucky home run in the Seals' half of the same inning, which necessitated playing more than the usual nine innings. Had Flynn not favored the Seals in the fatal thirteenth by calling Curtis safe on the third out, the two teams might have been playing yet.

There were plenty of double plays recorded by the scorer, no fewer than seven happening during the afternoon. Cook was conspicuous with four errors, his throwing arm not being acclimated to the shortstop position.

Berger served the offerings for the Seals until he got his bumpings in the eighth, and Griffin came to his relief and pitched winning ball.

The San Francisco players got their three runs in the first inning.

Chance Coming West.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Manager Frank Chance of the "Cubs" will pass the winter in California. The "peerless leader" yesterday announced that he would take his departure on Saturday and that he will not return to Chicago until next spring.

Bert Latham Returns.

Bert Latham has returned from Phoenix, after having made the trip by auto, preparatory to taking part in the Los Angeles-Phoenix race.

nineteen-year-old San Francisco fighter who is to meet Frank Picato at San Pedro in a twenty-round battle next Monday night.

LOTS OF TROUBLE.

BIG LEAGUE PLAYERS SUBJECT TO PENALTY.

NO BIG league player can play in this territory during the present season of the Pacific Coast League without being made to pay a fine.

The California State League will come into organized baseball if the National Commission will agree to certain conditions.

Comiskey's Chicago White Sox and the rooters will come to Los Angeles in a special train about February 1.

These are the principal bits of news that Manager Henry Berry of the Los Angeles ball club brought back from Chicago late Monday night and he says that all of this dope can be accepted as the real stuff, that will be demonstrated later on.

It will be remembered that Berry and President Cal Ewing of the Pacific Coast League went East about three weeks ago to confer with the National Commission over the "outlaw" baseball situation on this Coast and Berry seems well satisfied with the results of the trip. Of course, he had a "good time' and the first subject he mentioned was the great games between the Chicago Cubs and the Detroit team, which are ancient history now. Mr. Berry says that he saw all of those games but the first one and that the thousands of fans who attended, saw real baseball as she is played.

Concerning the "outlaw" situation, Berry states that the National Commission now has the matter before it and a decision may be expected soon. The Commission told the Coast magnates that it would stand by them in anything they decided to do in the matter. As a matter of fact, it is really up to the Commission for the outlaws who have agreed to come into organized baseball, if the clubs in the organization are allowed to retain the big league players they now have. Of course, this would not be objected to by the Coast League, for the outlaws have none of its players that the Coasters want. Strickletl, Blankenship, Chase and a few others refused to report the past season to the clubs that have claims on them and Chase in particular, jumped his contract with the New York Americans. If the National Commission can secure the consent of the clubs that own the ineligible players, when the outlaws will come into organized ball, but if those clubs object, then the outlaws will remain as they are. It is probable that the interested clubs will agree to the scheme for the next year at least.

Berry says that Pitcher Walter Johnson of Washington, who has been in several games in this end of the State since he returned from the East, will surely be heavily fined for taking part in games played within the Coast League territory before its season closed. Chase was fined $100 for just such a trick last winter, and Johnson will get his, as will all others who took part in any game this month or in any games for next Sunday.

Of course, the Chicago White Sox will soon be with us, and this time the bunch is coming in a special train, as it did last year. There will be about seventy-five in the party this winter, and the rooters will come loaded for bear. Last winter the party had about fifty persons in it, and the train left Chicago February 29. This year there will be about seventy-five on the train and it will start several weeks earlier, and this schedule will give the Coast more games than last winter. Mr. Berry says the club and the rooters' association are strong on Los Angeles, and worked about as hard for the promised trip to this city as they did for the American League pennant, and there is probably more truth than poetry in this statement, at that. The party will certainly receive a warm welcome here, for it is a royal good bunch, and no mistake.

There was a statement printed in the papers about the time that Berry and Ewing left for the East to the effect that Ewing had stated that there would be no franchise granted next year for a club in Sacramento, to make out a six-club league. Berry declared last night that Ewing never made any such statement; that none of the Coast League directors, with the exception of McCredie of Portland, favored the eight-club idea, and that no decision could be arrived at until an effort had been made to learn what might be done about the outlaws. This was the object of the trip East, and Mr. Berrw professes to believe that conditions are shaping themselves satisfactorily.

The outlaws seem willing to come into the fold, and Berry will ask them to hold a meetong next week to decide on what they really want to do.

FIGHT PLUMS IN THE DOUGH.

Thanksgiving Eve Dessert Is in Preparation.

Attell and Welsh Probable Card at Jefries'.

Wolgast's Joke Sends Him to Frosty East.

Abe Attell and Freddie Welsh will probably be the card offered local fight bugs by the Jeffries Club on Thanksgiving eve at the big arena south of town, for Manager Baron Long stated last night that he practically had the consent of both boys to fight and that the only thing now in the way of a speedy consummation of the match was the question of weight, and he thought they could agree on this.

Attell fought Nelson as a lightweight while he was really champion and as Welsh is a lightweight, he could have no serious objections to meeting Welsh, except that the Englishman is a real boxer and not a tough nut like Nelson.

This fight is possible for the reason that the Attell-Wolgast bout is off, because Wolgast is not as anxious to meet Attell as he was a week ago. It will be remembered that he was after Abe at the featherweight limit. Attell wanted ringside weight and Wolgast hung out for the weight at 8 o'clock and finally Attell agreed to this. When Wolgast heard this news he suddenly decided that he must have a guarantee of $1500, win, lose or draw or a five per cent. bonus, and as this was impossible for such a fighter as Wolgast, Long told him he had better go back to Milwaukee. The idea of giving such a fighter a bonus to meet the champion, was an awful joke on Long and it was such a good one that he has passed up Wolgast altogether.

As far as Long knows, the match between Terry Mustain and Al Kaufman will be pulled off at the Jeffries arena on the night of November 16. Long stated last night that he had Billy Delaney's consent to the match, but according to a dispatch from San Francisco last night, the sports there do not know the news. The telegram is as follows:

"It is hardly probable that Al Kaufman will sign to fight Terry Mustain in Los Angeles before the Jeffries club, although he may agree if there are sufficient inducements. Baron Long, before he left for home, intimated he would like to get some heavyweight matches, as those are the cards that draw in the South.

"He wired Mustain asking if he would fight, and when Gregory Mitchel replied in the affirmative, the word came that two tickets would be forwarded at once. Since then no word has come and it remains to be seen whether the Jeffries people will make a noise like money."

BIG ONES WORKING.

BOTH MEN CONFIDENT.

Probably no two fighters in the ring today train harder than Jim Barry and Jim Flynn, who are to meet at McCarey's pavilion on the evening of November 6. After getting a start Sunday and Monday, the fireman buckled down to his work yesterday and put in an hour of the hardest kind of toil. He went on the road and in the afternoon appeared before a good-sized crowd and finished strong. He punched the bag for five minutes until it gave way and the bag was sent to the farther end of the room.

Flynn then did some weight lifting, shadow boxing, training with the big sand bag, and later took on Johnny O'Keefe for three rounds, and the lighter boy never backed up during the period, but stuck it out to the finish, giving Flynn quite an argument.

Jim Barry at Vernon was equally busy. After his warm up on the road he went into the Southside club and put in an hour hitting the apparatus which had been provided for the fighters. He played handball for half an hour with Herberts and Sayers and boxed seven rounds with Herberts. Barry declared that his training was progressing satisfactorily and that he would be in shape when he hooked up with the fireman.

Two preliminaries for the Barry-Flynn night were arranged yesterday. Mike Dalton will meet the Congo Coon for six rounds, and Eddie Danaher and Willie Mack will go over the same route. One other bout will be put on the same evening.

NELSON'S BAD HAND.

MUST LAY OFF LONG.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Despite announcements that promoters are trying to get Battling Nelson into the ring with Packy McFarland for a six-round bout, friends of the Battler in this city say he will be unable to fight again before next March.

This is because of an injury to his right hand, sustained in his last bout with Gans. One of the bones just behind the knuckles was fractured and has healed so slowly it will keep him from using the member in any strenuous fashion for some time.

Nelson has wired to promoters here he would be willing to meet McFarland. He sent this word from the train before he left for Boston via Albany. He did not specify the time, however.

WANTS JIM CORBETT.

O'CONNOR STARTS TALKING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe O'Connor is threatening trouble unless he is permitted to have considerable say in the selection of a referee. Ketchel's manager has already announced his desire to have Jim Corbett selected as the third man in the ring and has intimated unless he is permitted to dictate this appointment that Ketchel will draw out of the match with Papke. As Ketchel has a good-sized forfeit up to bind his appearance, such talk sounds absurd.

The name of Eddie Graney, which was mentioned yesterday for the refereeship, is said to be all right as far as Papke is concerned, but O'Connor for some unexplained reason is blocking the way.

"Jim Corbett has been mentioned," he said tonight, "and he suits me as the referee. In fact, so far as Ketchel is concerned, we will insist that he be the man. In everything else the champion has had what he desired and I guess we are at least to be considered."

MANKILLERS.

MOUNTAIN CHAMPIONS ARE SPEEDING WEST.

THE Colorado School of Mines football team, which is to meet St. Vincent's at Fiesta Park Saturday afternoon, is expected to arrive in this city tonight. Coach Nordahalt, Trainer Bryan and fifteen players form the party, and when the squad left Logan, Utah, yesterday, all the men were in good condition.

Archie Spring, who played on the 1903 Riverside High School football team, is halfback on the Colorado eleven. The other members of the team are: Capt. Brooks, Martin, Kirchman, Burns, Noll, Kilso, Baker, Williams, Krueger and Skinner. Several substitutes accompany the team.

Coach Hempel expects a hard game Saturday. The manklilers have been the Rocky Mountain champions for three successive years and they are out to make another clean-up this year.

Nearly one hundred players turned out for the team at the beginning of the season, and the varsity is composed of husky, aggressive men. If the Saints are able to win from the miners, they will be in line for the western championship.

Eugene Shute, who recently joined the St. Vincent's team, is in the hospital with water on the knee as the result of a gruelling received in practice yesterday. He will be out of the game for several weeks. The other players are in good condition except for slight bruises, and the new plays are being perfected rapidly.

WANT EARLY GAME.

SANTA ANA'S ONLY CHANCE.

Manager Stan Mitchell of Los Angeles High School football team is endeavoring to arrange a game with Santa Ana High School to be played at Fiesta Park, November 7, but the Santa Anans are standing off for a date later in the season. However, November 21 is the only unfilled date before Thanksgiving in High School's schedule, and as Mitchell does not want the team to play after Thanksgiving this year, and an attempt will be made to bring Belmont school here on November 21, it is probable that the peatlanders will not have an opportunity to appear in this city unless they play November 7.

Santa Ana has been turning out strong football teams for several years and in former seasons they have been almost equal to the local boys in all respects except weight. The Los Angeles High team is lighter this year than it has been for several seasons and Santa Ana now has an excellent chance to get revenge for past defeats. Coach Noble of Los Angeles High, who coached Santa Ana last year, believes the peatlanders are able to make a good showing against his present team.

Los Angeles High has not been practicing for two days, but daily work will be resumed today. The team is battered as a result of the three college games within three weeks, and as the eleven has no match scheduled for next Saturday, Noble and Mitchell decided to give the men a rest. Capt. Cass, Brant and Decius are crippled worse than the other players, but all are more or less bruised and sore.

Stan Mitchell is still troubled with rheumatism, but he attends the practices regularly, assisting in the coaching and lending encouragement to the boys.

PRACTICE GAME.

OCCIDENTAL-SANTA ANA.

The Santa Ana High School football team is to meet the Occidental varsity in a practice game at Occidental next Tuesday afternoon. Manager Tedford of Santa Ana telephoned to Coach Gorton of Occidental yesterday afternoon and requested the match and the Presbyterian coach accepted the proposal at once, as the team needs practice.

Occidental is to meet Throop Polytechnic Institute at Occidental Saturday morning. The match was originally scheduled for the afternoon, but it was changed to 10:30 o'clock in order to allow the players to attend the St. Vincent's-Colorado game at Fiesta Park.

The Presbyterians have three important games remaining on their schedule. They are to meet U.S.C. at Occidental November 7; Los Angeles High School at Fiesta Park November 14, and Pomona College at Occidental November 21. The team will disband immediately after the match with the Claremonters.

Occidental Hopeful.

The Occidental Academy football team is to play Long Beach High School at Long Beach Saturday afternoon. The "preps" have not won a game this season, but they are practicing hard this week and expect to make a killing against the beach town boys.

Football Victim Dies.

LOGAN (Utah) Oct. 27.—Thomas Evans, the right guard of the football eleven of the Utah Agricultural College, whose neck was dislocated last Saturday during the game with the Colorado School of Mines, died today.

Grammar School Game.

The Washington-street school football team defeated the Jefferson-street school eleven at Agricultural Park yesterday by the score of 5 to 0. Secor scored the touchdown for the winners.

CRACK SHOTS.

NAVY MARKSMEN BEAT THE BEST.

DEFEAT AUSTRALIAN TEAMS BY SPLENDID SCORES.

Auckland Squad of Target Wonders Is Only Team Able to Beat Americans When Latter Worked Under Unfavorable Conditions. Corporal Farquarson Is Best Shot.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—President Roosevelt has been made acquainted through a report submitted to the Navy Department by Lieut. Harris Laning of some details of the splendid work of the battleship rifle team in defeating the Melbourne (Australia) Rifle Club, said in the report to be probably as strong a team as could be put up in Australia. The navy team of riflemen also beat a team in Sydney, but were defeated by a small margin by one from Auckland.

The contest with the Melbourne club was held under very unfavorable conditions, the score resulting in a total of 1414 for the Americans and 1389 for the Australians. In this match the team used the pointed bullets, which probably helped the score, but the match, Lieut. Laning says, was really won by the splendid coaching of Midshipmen Allen, Graham, Yoster and Jones.

The highest score was made by Corporal Farquarson of the Marine Corps of the Connecticut, who made 99 out of a possible 105 and thereby secured for his vessel the temporary possession of the Auckland trophy, which is held by that ship.

Firing in all the matches was at 200, 500 and 600 yards.

At Sydney the fleet rifle team defeated a team made up from shooters of the National Rifle Association and the Metropolitan team. The match was one-sided and the fleet team outshot their opponents on all ranges, defeating them by nearly 6½ points per man.

The fleet, Lieut. Laning said, shot splendidly and the local riflemen asserted that the score put up by it could not be surpassed by any team of twenty men selected from all Australia. The high score was made by Midshipman Stover, 102 out of a possible 105. The total scores were: Fleet team, 1384; Australians, 1775.

The twenty-five men with whom the naval fleet team contested at Auckland, the report says, are considered the cream of the New Zealand rifle shots. The naval team had not had the best of practice and they were beaten by a score of 2211 for Auckland to 2282 for the fleet.

Englishman Wins.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fred Buckland of England won a fast bout from Jim Trenwith of Manayunk in the wind-up at the Douglas A. C. tonight. There was plenty of hard, fast fighting in the last five rounds, as both boys were willing at all times to stand up and trade blow for blow, with Buckland doing most of the forcing and featuring in the clinches.

Twelve Fast Rounds.

BOSTON (Mass.) Oct. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Young Loughrey of Philadelphia and Tommy Quill of Brockton tonight fought the fastest twelve rounds ever pulled off here to a draw decision. Both boys were in prime condition, and they were evenly matched. Whatever advantage existed was in favor of Loughrey.

OXFORD SQUARE.
THE FINEST OF THE LATE RESIDENCE SUBDIVISIONS IN BEAUTIFUL WILSHIRE.
Oxford square is a refined and aristocratic section in the most desirable portion of the Wilshire district.
Added to the natural advantages of location, neighborhood and enhancements of value, it possesses unusual features in the high character of its improvements.
It has been so recently platted that every lot's improvement has been made. All previous efforts have been surpassed in the ambition to place it at the front in preference and desirability.
The avenues are 70 feet wide and are graded and oil-tamped. The best quality of material has been used in the curbing, gutters and walks. The latter are wide and ornamented by wide parkings, set with large palms.
Handsome corner pillars, surmounted by decorative electroliers, grace the street intersections, imparting a distinction and exclusiveness entirely its own.
The electric railway facilities are excellent, providing rapid and frequent transportation to and from the business section.
Oxford Square contributes to every nice home comfort and convenience and permits of easy access to and from the business center by auto or electric car lines.
Considering its many remarkable advantages and the high character of the improvements and surroundings, the prices are very low and the terms very easy.
LARGE 175-FOOT LOTS, $1600 TO $2200.

VESTMENT STANDPOINT.

AUTO-SUGGESTION.

ITS MEDICAL COMBINATION.

Mind Dominance Taken up by East Side Church.

Subconsciousness Always an Important Factor.

Dr. Stroud Explains Miracles of Centuries.

With the great interest which has been aroused in religious circles regarding the so-called Emmanuel movement in Boston, the question has arisen in many minds as to the relation of this "auto-suggestion," "spiritual domination," "prayer healing," or whatever it may be called, and medical science.

This interesting phase of the matter has been taken up by the Lien's Club of the Epiphany Church in East Los Angeles. At the same time it is announced that this Emmanuel movement will be a part of the church work and that meetings on this line will be held every Friday evening in the church under the direction of Rev. E. L. Howe, its rector.

To further knowledge along these lines Dr. H. E. Stroud of Avenue 23 and Huron street was asked to read a paper before the Men's Club regarding the belief, object and practice of the movement. Dr. Stroud has made a special study of this line of mental dominance over physical ills for years and is much interested in the movement as taken up by the church. In his address before the club Dr. Stroud made a number of interesting points and said in part:

MENTAL THERAPY.

"There never was a time when there was such earnest desire for light on the subject of mental therapy as the present; and while the action of the mind over the body has been known for centuries and history records many cures and miracles by mental means and by religious rites, there has been little attempt to investigate the matter and place it in its true light and to establish the extent to which it may be wisely utilized. It is a fact that one extreme always follows another. From a hard, material world and utter disregard of the mental aspect, the pendulum is swinging to the extreme of denying the very existence of matter, and it is interesting indeed to calmly survey and classify the many forms of mental and religious healing which now exist at this, the opening of the Twentieth Century.

"Thus we have prayer and faith, which is the belief that God will directly work cures. Next, mind cure, which is a belief that all disease originates in the mind and that it may be cured by mental processes. Next, Christian Science, which by denying the existence of matter defies the reality of disease. Next, spiritualism, which believes that the spirits of deceased friends can effect physical cures. Others see a curative power in the bones of prophets and sacred relics; and, lastly, suggestion, both direct and auto-suggestion.

"Now the evidence is that while all of these differ in their modes of operation or in the presence or absence of religion, the fact remains that they all do sometimes cure diseases and that is clearly evidence that there must be some one underlying principle common to them all; and the more the matter is impartially investigated the more evident it appears that all the curative results obtained by any and all of these creeds are by suggestion sub-conscious mind.

"In order to realize the extent to which the mind can influence the body, some knowledge of anatomy and physiology is necessary. We realize that after God created man he fixed certain laws governing the animal functions and that these laws, once fixed, became immutable. Thus without air we die in a few minutes and without food and water in a few days; sleep and rest are an absolute necessity, and it is folly to think that by an act of the mind or by prayer or faith we can rise above the laws which God has made immutable.

"When a person is in a receptive condition the subconscious mind will receive any suggestion that is made to it as true, and will put these suggestions into effect as far as it can in controlling and regulating the functional activity of our bodies, and also in modifying and moulding our minds and temperaments and habits.

"Thus by suggestion we can slow a palpitating heart, but if there be organic disease only the nervous concomitant element may be relieved; by suggestion we can restore nervous dyspeptics to normal eaters, but not if cancers or ulcers exist; insomnia gives way to sound sleep by suggestion, and the bowels can be made to act at any hour desired; in fact, this function is the most amenable to suggestive treatment. By this means many pains may be cured, and many of them permanently so. In fact, it may be said that there is no functional derangement that will not yield more or less to suggestion.

"There are few persons whose minds are not more or less disturbed by wrong ideas, habits and desires. No medicine reaches the mind; it must be met by mind stronger than itself and reeducated, and in suggestion we have our most potent means.

"There are centers for all the senses in the brain, and the evidence is that habits are centers which we create in our brains, and that the desire for whisky, tobacco and opiates and the craving for these is an irritation of these pernicious, self-made centers; by suggestion these may be quieted and benign desires created, and this also applies to every undesirable trait of character. The power is within us of replacing the undesirable with the benign.

MIND DOMINANCE.

"Auto-suggestions are those which originate within ourselves, and they are active every moment we are alive; and whatever we hold before our inner conscience will mould our temperament, actions and even expression, as thought takes form in action. Nothing undermines the mind and body so much as worry and fear; but to replace these with optimism, which keeps the heart young, and to put aside envy, hatred and malice, and to replace these with kindness and humanity is within the reach of us all.

"The Emmanuel movement recognizes that the body is real, and that nothing, unfortunately, is more real than disease; but we recognize that God, in His mercy, has given us many means of restoring and maintaining health; the bright, glorious sunshine, fresh air, electricity, baths, massage and many healing herbs; and that it is our duty to make use of that which has proved a protection against infection, and that the reasonable basis of all forms of treatment is diagnosis by the best medical skill obtainable.

"We believe that the clergyman and physician should work hand in hand, and that it is our duty to coöperate with the authorities in putting into effect every sanitary and hygienic regulation."

ANGELENOS AFTER ROAD.

Wealthy Mining Men May Likely Get Possession of Portland-Seacoast Line.

According to Associated Press dispatches from Portland, Or., E. A. and W. A. Montgomery of Los Angeles are likely to gain possession of the Portland-Seacoast Railroad, a line projected from the interior of Oregon to the ocean. The Montgomerys are well-known mining men of wealth.

Judge Wulverton of the United States Court at Portland appointed C. D. Wemer receiver of the road yesterday, as a result of the application of the Montgomerys, who ask that the right of way be sold to satisfy a judgment in their favor of $50,000, advanced to the company.

Besides the right of way, the company has no assets. It is one of many roads projected to the seacoast through Oregon, and it is thought it will eventually pass to the Harriman or Hill interests.

SURPRISE.

GIRL BROKER IN NEW ROLE.

Miss Clawson Quits Office for the Fireside.

Clever Realty Agent Quietly Weds an Architect.

Able Handling of Big Deals Won Fame for Her.

Miss Louise Clawson, the girl financier who has been one of the interesting figures of Los Angeles business life, has gracefully surrendered her career—wedding bells.

It was almost an elopement. Her immediate family did not know of her plans until she came home as Mrs. John W. Roberts.

Her friends and business associates never dreamed that she would relent to the extent of anything as frivolous as a wedding until they read the marriage license in the papers yesterday morning.

formerly Miss Louise Clawson, who, in her 'teens, engineered big real estate deals that were the envy of older heads, and who has just surprised her friends by becoming the wife of a local architect.

Miss Clawson, according to the license, is 21 and the bridegroom, John W. Roberts, is 45. Mr. Roberts is a prominent architect of this city and met his bride-to-be in the course of his professional work.

Mrs. Roberts is a charmingly attractive young girl—almost unearthly clever.

Left with property as a girl in her 'teens, almost any other girl would have turned the whole thing over to an agent and trusted to luck and the honesty of the agent.

This girl had a mind to manage her own affairs. She learned all about business and not only managed her own property, but managed the property of many other people as well.

When the real estate boom came on, she struck out daringly as a speculator. Her quick perception and judgment were excelled by few trained real estate men.

She bought some raw farm land southwest of Los Angeles, made her own contracts, hired her own men, and presently the Clawson tract came into being.

Members of her family were all afraid, of course, as they always are when women invest, that she would be swindled out of her money. But the men who came to bargain with her found they had to look out for themselves.

One of the contractors who made a bid on the tract went into it with an easy smile of superiority, thinking the slight blonde-haired girl would be an easy mark. He found himself caught in a hard bargain.

He tried to wriggle out, but she was relentless. He tried to slight the work, but the girl in her 'teens went out on the tract and fairly camped there. He finally threw the whole thing over in a rage. Whereupon, the girl hailed the best lawyer she could find and sued the contractor to make him fulfill the contract. She won the suit.

The Clawson tract was a great success and Miss Clawson went more deeply into the real estate business, building up a splendid trade.

She came to be a familiar figure about the streets—always driving her own automobile; she had a flock of them. Every day she was seen driving down through the business district, a slight, rather pale young girl, dressed a trifle mannishly, with a white collar and tie, and her hair drawn back severely.

Young bachelors sighed from afar, but were afraid to venture. They feared she was impervious.

Miss Clawson lived with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Smith, on Third avenue. They had no idea she was to be married.

She and Mr. Roberts went quietly to St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral and were quietly married there, going home afterward and announcing the fact to her astonished sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left for a short honeymoon trip, after which they will return for a time to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

COULDN'T FOOL UNCLE SAM.

Young Chinaman Had Certificate Issued to Old Chink and Will Be Deported.

Ham Hi, a wily Chinaman, who attempted to pass a forged certificate upon the immigration inspectors, was ordered deported by United States Commissioner William yesterday. The trick was easily discovered when a duplicate certificate of Jen Young Tim, who died in Portland some time ago, was procured by the Federal officials. It showed that the bearer of the document was 66 years old at the time it was issued, in 1894.

Ham Hi, although very youthful in appearance, calmly assured the officers that he was over 80 years old, in order to have his age correspond with that of the genuine certificate. The paper was purchased in Portland by some Chinese tong and when Ham Hi was brought into the country he was given possession of the slip of paper, which was supposed to protect him from deportation.

The government retains duplicates of all certificates issued to Chinamen, and in case a dubious paper is found in the possession of a Celestial, the original is taken from the files and compared with the document supposed to have been forged. In Ham Hi's case the errors were glaring ones and his picture did not bear the slightest resemblance to that of the aged Jen Young Tim.

OPTIMISTIC.

OUTBREAKS ARE GROWING LESS.

GOVERNOR OF COTABATO SAYS MORO TRIBES QUIET.

Lieut. Foster, Who Is in Charge of Large District in the Philippines, Explains That Savage Raids There Are by Bands of Robbers—Schools Increasing.

Lieut. A. B. Foster, Governor of the province of Cotabato, Island of Mindanao, the Philippines, is at the Alexandria while visiting points of interest in and about Los Angeles with his wife. Lieut. Foster, who is a naval officer, is returning from a trip to his old home at Peoria, Ill., and points farther East, which he visited on his vacation jaunt.

Optimism is one of his characteristics, and in speaking of the periodical outbreaks of the Moro tribes, he merely looks upon them as attempts at thievery, one of the traits of the Philippine natives.

"They are not organized, except in very small bodies, just as gangs of robbers or thieves who hold up stage coaches in Yellowstone Park," said Lieut. Foster, with a twinkle of his eyes. "We are having very little trouble in curbing the slight outbreaks, which are growing less right along with the realization by the natives that the American soldiers are on the islands to remain and to protect the interests of those who are investing their capital or assisting in any way the natural development of the country."

When questioned as to the natural development, Gov. Foster stated that it was wonderful for so short a period as ten years. "Like the State of California, the Philippines need encouragement and boosting. More has been accomplished by the United States in the islands in ten years than Great Britain can lay claim to in a sovereignty over Borneo in sixty years. Our schools are spreading gradually to all of the outlying sections, and their efficiency increases as rapidly as the natives realize that they are doing good, which is sufficiently rapid to utilize all the available revenue from taxes."

In speaking of the investment of American money in the islands, Lieut. Foster stated that it was coming in gradually. "Much of the present capital sent there is invested in the building of short railroad lines across several of the individual islands. When an adequate railroad system has been completed, there will be little trouble in developing the timber lands and the farming districts, now merely lying dormant waiting the coming of pioneers."

Gov. and Mrs. Foster will leave Los Angeles for San Francisco today and will sail for Manila immediately upon their arrival in the northern city.

MOUNTAIN CRUELTY.

JAB PINS IN BURRO, NOW DODGE OFFICERS.

On account of a burro that was used for a pin cushion, a whole family is alleged to have been put to flight from the law in Los Angeles.

Last Sunday, as related in the Sierra Madre correspondence of The Times, a burro was cruelly treated on the Mount Wilson trail by a man who had rented it for the trip up the peak.

It is asserted that hatpins had been jabbed into the beast until it was bleeding from many wounds. The man who had rented it turned it into the burro corral and hurriedly departed.

"Hold on, there," yelled the burro man, when he saw the condition of the animal. But the man yelled back, "What do you take me for?" and set off at a run down the road.

The constable at Sierra Madre was notified and watched the departing cars for the city; the man seemed to have slipped out of town, however, and was not seen again.

Just behind him, down the trail, came a woman and a young girl. The burro man stopped them and tried to connect them with the wounded burro. They claimed that the man was not with them. The woman gave the name of Foster.

The Sierra Madre constable interviewed other parties who came down the trail and became convinced that the fugitive who had abused the burro was a member of the same party as the woman and the girl.

It was decided to put sleuths on their trail, and officers followed the women to Los Angeles. The next event was a wild chase through the city streets.

The women, as might be supposed, were frightened almost to death. They fled, with the officers after them. The hue and cry finally ended at a Hill-street apartment-house, the door of which was banged shut after the woman and her daughter entered.

The landlady responded to the frantic rings of the officers, but refused to admit them.

Baffled, they returned to the prairies of Sierra Madre and scoured the plains for the man. They found him not.

Yesterday morning, they again returned to the Hill-street house. They discovered that the whole Foster family had pulled out for parts unknown. Either the women were frightened by the assiduous attention of the officers, or the man came back and the whole outfit departed rathe rthan face a charge of cruelty to animals. The going of a whole family is certainly unusual in police annals.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has the matter in hand now. Its officers will pay special attention to the Mount Wilson trail hereafter, on account of the many rumors of cruelty to animals by tourist climbers.

DEFIES YEARS.

LOCATED AFTER WEEK'S TRAMP.

MISSING OCTOGENARIAN TURNS UP AT RAVENNA.

Walked All Way from Santa Monica With Only Twenty-five Cents in Pocket—Telegram to Daughter Announces Veteran's Now Marching Homeward.

Lewis B. Clark, forty-niner, Civil War veteran and octogenarian, who left the home of his daughter, Mrs. John McKissick, of No. 1508 Sixth street, Santa Monica, a week ago for a "walk in the hills," has been found near Ravenna. A telegram sent by F. B. Lee of that place to Mrs. McKissick last night, reads:

"Your father started walking toward Los Angeles today. He will be about Saugus tonight."

The old man, tall and robust, is a great walker, in spite of his eighty-three years. When he came to California in the golden days of '49, he learned to walk long distances, and prided himself on his hardihood afoot. So when he announced his purpose to "walk in the hills" last Thursday there was no objection raised.

But when night came and he did not return, his daughter became alarmed. Search that night and the following day was without result, and a tragic end was feared.

But there was one clew. Clark had talked frequently of returning to his old haunts in Fresno county. A year or more ago he had gone to Fresno, but then he had $200 in his pocket. He managed to get along without spending a cent, and the Fresno police found he had slept in barns. There was a belief that he did not remember he had any money, for the old man has a frail mind.

Last Thursday he had only 25 cents in his pocket, but that seems to have been more than he needed. Who F. B. Lee is and how he got Mrs. McKissick's address is not known. Perhaps the old man remembered enough to give the clew to his identity.

John McKissick left for Saugus last night to bring his father-in-law home.

Clark was for a time at the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle. Except for his mental weakness he is in good health. Whenever he recalls the old days in Fresno, he is moved to walk to the north, and his latest tramp is regarded as marvelous for one of his age.

Chief Barretto of the Santa Monica police wired Constable Pardee at Saugus last night to detain Clark when he appears there.

DIRECTORS CAN SHAKE.

Cigar Dealers Organize and Refer the Dice Game Ordinance to New Officers.

A number of retail cigar dealers met at the Nadeau Hotel, last night, to effect a permanent organization to be known as the Retail Cigar Dealers' Association of Los Angeles. The question of the recent enforcement of the ordinance against shaking dice for cigars was referred to the board of directors. The leaders of the new organization denied that they had any intention to "buck" the tobacco trust, although many of the smaller local dealers have openly complained that certain big firms have absorbed the cream of the business in the city.

The following officers were elected: President, W. W. Martindale; vice-president, J. D. Morgan; treasurer, Guy W. Yonkin; secretary, W. H. Replogle. It was stated that the members would frequently meet in a social way and that they would endeavor to aid one another along business lines.

FOSTER MOTHER ACCUSED.

Missing Girl, When Found in San Bernardino, Says She Was Treated Unkindly.

Sixteen-year-old Loraine Moody, who disappeared from her foster mother's home on Towne avenue Saturday night, after stating that she was going to secure work, was found in San Bernardino by Probation Officer W. H. Baldwin yesterday afternoon. The girl was living at an apartment-house, "The Bartlett."

Loraine was promised employment at the Arrowhead Hotel, and was to have gone there today. She will be brought back to Los Angeles, and her case thoroughly investigated by local officers.

Yesterday Loraine said:

"I left Mrs. Churchill because she did not treat me right. I worked for the Sunset Telephone Company, and received $40 a month. This money Mrs. Churchill regularly appropriated, and, though she fed me well, I never had good clothes, and besides was not kindly treated."

MUTTON IS THE SAME.

The rates for grazing sheep in the forest reserves will be reduced from 10 to 15 per cent., according to Forest Supervisor R. H. Charlton of this city. The reason is the lower market which has made sheep raising less profitable.

UNBALANCED?

BUNCH INSANE, FAMILY SAYS.

ACTIONS PRECEDING HIS SUICIDE INDICATE DELUSIONS.

Widow and Son Defend Man Who Was Implicated in Alleged Land Swindles Near Hemet—Letter to Wife, Just Made Public, Tells of Troubles of His Last Days.

Mrs. Mattie H. Bunch, widow of J. Newton Bunch, who committed suicide in Redondo last Sunday, and Fred G. Bunch, his son, yesterday completed the arrangements for the funeral, which will be held this afternoon from the Peck & Chase undertaking parlors.

Upon his arrival in Los Angeles yesterday the son immediately set about to clear the memory of his father from any shame that might have been attached to it by people with whom he had had dealings in connection with alleged land swindles near Hemet.

"If in the defense of the good name of my dead father we should seem to criticise the actions of others, we regret it, but we feel that it is our first duty to the maligned dead to make a complete statement in behalf of his good name," said the son.

"In the first place, we know from the nature of his writings and his actions for two or three days previous to his suicide that he was not driven to suicide by fear of justice, but that he was temporarily insane and took his own life because of his supersensitive idea that he was benefiting others. The only woman he sought to protect was his own wife, who in his crazed condition he thought to save from dishonor.

"In proof of this statement we have his letter, written from Manhattan Beach, and mailed there last Saturday night just before he took a big dose of morphine.

"It reads as follows:

"'Dear Mattie: When this reaches you I will be in the Great Unknown. I go the morphine route. Forgive me.

"'When I saw Mr. Donahue this morning at 10 o'clock he was altogether a different man, and he wanted me to go and give myself to the constable. This I could not do, for I was so intimate with every transaction that I would have had to implicate others who are not the guilty parties. This I would be compelled to do if I saved myself.

"'You will note from my contract with Mr. Alexander that as far as I am personally concerned, I am innocent. I also wish to state that all the women, including Mrs. Rogers, are innocent. The latter put her good money into that land and her every act was the act of a child. And still how could I prove it without implicating others?

"'Thus you will seen how I stand. I would rather pass into the Great Unknown than to be the means of causing another to suffer disgrace and scandal.

"'It seems that fate is against me. As I said, Mr. Donahue was a changed man this morning, and I was actually afraid to surrender, for I have no money to employ counsel, and if these two men have gone back on me, I am forever disgraced, for innocent people will suffer.

"'Everything is yours, dear. Yes, darling, and it is on your account that I do this.'

"My father in his last letter to Mrs. Bunch inclosed an oath concerning his realty transactions," said the son.

"In this oath Bunch stated that to his certain knowledge, Joseph B. Alexander, the man who caused his arrest, was warned as to the real value of the land in question before the papers were passed.

"I intend to follow up this case and see that my father's case is presented in the local courts just as it would have been had he remained alive and presented his defense to these charges," said young Bunch.

BAN ON FAKE DIAMONDS.

Police Commission Favors Blow at Snide Jewelry Auctions Under Electric Lights.

To prevent the annual fake jewelry auction sales that come with the holidays, the Police Commissioners at their meeting yesterday decided to urge the Council to adopt a provision of the Buffalo ordinance governing auction sales. This provision restricts the holding of auction sales where clocks, watches, jewelry or plated ware is sold after 6 o'clock in the evening.

The restriction works no hardship on any legitimate auction and does not prevent a merchant closing out his business by this means, but does stop the night auctions, where, under the glamor of electric light, flimsy articles are sold to the public. The provision has worked successfully in Buffalo and has been adopted by other cities.

NEW IDOL.

CHINESE SOLID FOR SCHWAMM.

Political Club of Celestials Firm in Allegiance.

"Good to Us If Supervisor," Says President Lem.

Slim Chance for Pridham in the Yellow Quarter.

One brand has been saved from the burning. Even the grand jury has been unable to shake the allegiance of George Lem's Chinese Club to Tony Schwamm.

At the last banquet of the club, held in a picture-book pagoda on Apablasa street, in the center of the Chinese quarter, the seventeen members voted unanimously to support Schwamm for Supervisor. Schwamm was present and became an honorary member of the organization.

George Lem,

president of club of Los Angeles Chinese voters who cannot be shaken in their allegiance to Tony Schwamm in his race for Supervisor.

Tony has been the prime minister of the Tenderloin for so long that the Chinese look upon him as only a few degrees removed from the Federal immigration officer. He has achieved the proud distinction of dining on birds' nests, and he is reported to be an expert in handling chop sticks; those seventeen votes are worth a special effort.

George Lem, an Americanized Chinaman, with short hair and a dress suit, is Tony's Celestial agent. It is through Lem that the Chinese of American birth have been organized into a club.

The harsh immigration laws do not permit a Chinaman to vote by naturalization; once a Chink always a Chink is the political status of a native of China.

But a great many Chinamen have been on the West Coast longer than a generation. In the local Chinatown there are more than a hundred California-born sons and daughters of Chinese parents; of these, there are said to be seventeen young men who are entitled to vote at the coming election.

MUST KOW-TOW TO HIM.

These seventeen have been warned by their elders that if they are to live in peace and security in Chinatown they must give the great Mandarin Schwamm anything he wants; just now Tony wants votes more than anything else except release from the harassing calls of the grand jury—hence the indorsement.

Schwamm's Chinese Club received widespread mention in the early days of the campaign. In the East and the Middle West the Democracy did not take kindly to the notion of a Chinese Bryan and Schwamm club; the leaders went so far as to say that the moral effect on the workingmen would prove more of a ban than the blessing of seventeen real genuine Bryan and Schwamm votes.

Then Schwamm attempted to pass over his club to the opposition. He wanted to repudiate it; but like the dog that adopted a man, the club declined to be repudiated.

The Chinaman is proverbially faithful to his employer or his master; the seventeen voters of the Chinese quarter are faithful to Tony Schwamm.

"Anthony Schwamm is our friend," say George Lem, the political boss of Chinatown; "he comes to see us and eats with us, and we know that he will help us and our friends if he is elected. We think if he were Supervisor he would be very good to our people; he would help us to get work. The Chinese know Schwamm and do not know his opponent, so I think that most of us will vote for him."

CARRY HIS CIGARS.

In these troublesome times the Chinese merchants find it to their advantage to carry Tony Schwamm's cigars. In front of almost every cigar store in Chinatown is a picture of Julia Marlowe, and on every lighting pole there is a placard containing a picture of the great white mandarin and an appeal for a vote for Schwamm.

Pridham is unknown in Chinatown, even to the merchants there. He does not employ Chinese labor, and he conducts no business in the tenderloin. When the Chinamen burn punk sticks to frighten the devil away they picture him in the visage of R. W. Pridham; they think he is responsible for the exclusion law.

The few Americans who were privileged to attend the banquet of the Chinese Club when Tony received his indorsement say the feast was really a notable one and that Tony did himself proud. If the Chinese vote predominated in the Fifth district Pridham would have no show. They are enamored of Schwamm's military whiskers and his "me and the Mayor" air.

Less than three months ago a member of the Chinese colony pointed the Mayor out to a visitor as one of Schwamm's cigar salesmen.

GONE INTO SECLUSION.

Just now the members of the Chinese Club have gone into temporary seclusion. Recently there have been a number of strange faces in the Tenderloin, and the Chinese have heard wild tongues say harsh things of their great white mandarin. The Chinese used to think that Schwamm appointed the grand jury. Of late their faith has been rudely shaken. In the beginning they resented inquiries concerning patronage and protection as a sacrilege; they said that as soon as Schwamm heard of it he would tell the fresh young men to go away.

They began to hear that the grand

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

War has been declared on the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company by a special committee of the Council, which thinks that concern's bills exorbitant, and wants bids submitted for an independent system.

Judge James yesterday dismissed a writ of habeas corpus, secured by O. M. Watts, a County Jail prisoner, and ordered him remanded to serve out his six months' term for threats to kill his wife, Mrs. Ella Watts.

G. Booth was placed on trial in Judge Wilbur's court on the charge of having stolen a $250 diamond ring from Mrs. Caroline O'Day on May 25.

J. Murray, charged with having held up W. E. McDonald and a young woman, was placed on trial before Judge Jamison.

FIRE BOXES MAY RING FOR ROW.

SEEMS SLATED OVER PROPOSED NEW ALARM SYSTEM.

Council Thinks Gamewell Company's Bills Exorbitant; Chief Lips Says They Are not—Special Committee May Have Trouble in Putting Through Its Measure.

That the prices charged by the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company for supplies to keep up its system in Los Angeles are exorbitant will be the conclusion of the special committee of the Council, which for months has been investigating the matter.

That the bills are not excessive, but are the same amounts charged by the company in other cities, is the opinion Fire Chief Walter Lips formed during his recent tour of the East, after attending the convention of fire chiefs at Columbus, O.

Councilman Wallace says the report of the special committee which investigated the bills aggregating $14,000, and which Auditor Mushet held up, will be made as soon as the attorney for the Gamewell company thinks he has had all the time needed to show that charges are not exorbitant. Mr. Wallace states the report will show that the prices were not only too high, but that there is no possibility of competition on the articles used in the system.

Consequently the proposal made by him to the Council, Monday, for advertisement for a new system of 100 boxes in the University district is a measure intended to secure for the city the benefit of competition, and to terminate "the Gamewell monopoly."

Chief Lips says he made many inquiries in the East, and found that all fire chiefs favored the Gamewell system, and that a comparison of prices for boxes and equipment showed that all were paying the same rates. Lips did not hear of the proposal to advertise for a new system until shortly before the Council met Monday, when a note from City Auditor Mushet gave him the information.

The specifications offered by Mr. Wallace, and at his request referred to the Fire Commissioners, emanate from the special committee—Wallace, Wren and Blanchard—and the City Auditor, and are a declaration of war on the Gamewell company. They are open to any bidder, and follow the same general lines as the Gamewell system.

Bids are asked for January 15, and on the same day a test is required by the use of model central stations and the working of at least six alarm boxes. This test will be for efficiency, accuracy, rapidity and safety. The specifications also require that the successful bidder install and equip a new central station in the University section with 100 boxes attached and connected with downtown headquarters. The system, after installation, is to be operated by at least three men for a period of six months. If the service is then satisfactory, the money agreed to under the bid will be paid.

When asked why a new central station is to be built and three additional operators maintained, Mr. Wallace hesitated, but finally said it was largely for the purpose of giving the new system fair chance for success in friendly hands.

"It has been the thought," he said, "to buy another equipment and connect it with the Gamewell system but this has been shown so impossible by Gamewell operators in many cities, so they claim, that we rather preferred to make an experiment with a new system on its own basis. If success comes, the new system will be extended. Of course, we assume that there will be better prices—perhaps the Gamewell company will give us an unusually low bid."

Around the City Hall is was whispered, yesterday, that the company which built a factory at Whittier is behind the scheme and that the specifications represented its wishes. Wallace says he does not know whether the Whittier company or some other will be the successful bidder.

"There are several other companies," he added, "and one of them has assured the city that it is able to furnish just as good equipment at the Gamewell's for less money."

When the specifications reach the Fire Commissioners, they will not be acted on hastily because there is a theory about "interioping Council measures" in the board. For a long time the Council has not made provision for additional alarm boxes because all the requisitions were for Gamewell boxes, which cost $125 each. But the fire department rather resents the action of the committee in ignoring the commission, chief and superintendent of fire alarm telegraph in the making of specifications. Besides, there is a prejudice among the firemen for Gamewell apparatus, due to years of familiarity with it.

The policy of the Council in buying fire hose through the supply committee, is also occasion for resentment. Around the City Hall it is thought that Chief Lips ought to say what hose should be bought, as he is directly responsible in case of central fires, at which defective hose might result in great damage. It is admitted, however, that the city has not suffered much from defective hose, but credit for this is claimed for the department, which has a rigid system of testing.

ON PENSION LIST.

AID FOR PATROLMAN.

Patrolman John Koch was placed on the pension list by the Police Commission yesterday, because after a year's service on the force, tuberculosis of the lungs developed. Koch has lived here twenty years and the disease developed subsequent to exposure on extra duty. Two physicians certified that in its incipient stage Koch may resist its progress and be cured by seeking a different region. Accordingly he will spend several months near Beaumont, living in a tent. He expects to be restored to health and return to duty and his physicians say they believe he will succeed.

Walter Winston Kenilworth, a palmist of Atlantic City, N. J., was granted a permit to practice palmistry.

FINDS DIET IN JAIL TIRESOME.

WIFE-BEATER "SICK" OF BEANS, MUSH AND MOLASSES.

Fails to Gain Freedom on Writ of Habeas Corpus and Begs Deliverance from Menu at County Boarding-house—Case Taken to Higher Tribunal.

"Say, they ain't going to send me back to that place again, are they?" O. M. Watts exclaimed, yesterday, when he was informed that Judge James had dismissed his writ of habeas corpus and remanded him to the County Jail.

"Why, I've been in that place now four months, and I've eaten molasses, mush and beans, and beans, mush and molasses over, and over, and over again until I'm sick and tired of them. If I ever get out, I won't go near my wife again—never. Let me out once and I'll go and keep going, and she will never see me again."

Watts was arrested last June on complaint of Mrs. Ella Watts, who charged that he had threatened to kill her.

He admitted that he had often beaten her, but said that he had meant nothing when he threatened to kill her. He pleaded for another chance, and when it was given him, visited his wife at once and raised a disturbance. He was rearrested and ordered by Justice Summerfield to give a $250 peace bond. This he was unable to do, and was committed to the County Jail for six months.

Attorney D. G. Taylor yesterday had Watts brought before Judge James on a writ of habeas corpus, alleging that the man's commitment was invalid because the justice court record failed to show an explicit entry that Watts was ordered imprisoned because of his failure to give bond, and also because the deposition of the complaining witness had not been taken before the warrant was issued.

Judge James held that the record, if defective, might be amended; that the deposition alleged necessary was not essential under the circumstances, and that Watts must serve out his time.

The attorney then applied to the Court of Appeals for a writ of habeas corpus. It was granted, and was made returnable before that court on November 6.

HER RINGS TORN OFF.

HOLD-UP INCIDENT RELATED.

J. Murray, who is charged with having held up W. E. McDonald near the corner of State and New Jersey streets on the evening of June 27 and of having robbed him of $6, was tried before Judge Jamison yesterday. Murray is said to have also held up McDonald's companion, Miss Hope Foster, with a knife, and to have taken rings from her fingers, while his accomplice, who escaped, held a revolver to McDonald's head.

"Miss Foster and I were walking together along the street when we came up to two strange men standing against a wall in a dark place," said McDonald. "They told us to throw up our hands. Then this man took Miss Foster aside and took the rings from her fingers, while his companion went through my pockets. As soon as they got through with us, they told us to walk away and not look back, or they would shoot us. We ran around the corner to Patrolman A. Arguello's house, where Miss Foster was visiting, and he at once armed me with a shotgun and we started after the two men on a run.

"By inquiries from people we met on the street we found out which way they had gone, and came up with them on Cummings street. They started to run when the officer ordered them to surrender. I fired at one of them. This man (the prisoner) was run down and caught at Cummings and First street. I saw his face in the light as he held us up, and I identified him later at the jail."

McDonald was closely cross-examined as to his identification of Murray, who asserts that he is the victim of mistaken identity.

The trial will be continued this morning.

LOSES HER ILLUSIONS.

"LIEUTENANT" ONLY COOK.

Minus her illusion that her gallant, George H. Booth, alias Douglas Montgomery, was a lieutenant in the Philippine army, where he is said to have been a cook, and also minus her jewelry, Mrs. Caroline O'Day, 38 years old, of San Francisco, was the principal witness against the man in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday, Booth was on trial on a charge of having stolen Mrs. O'Day's $250 diamond ring, last May.

The woman said that she had a husband and three children in San Francisco, and that she ran a restaurant and lodging-house at the time she employed Booth, last November, as a night clerk. He said he had been a lieutenant in the Philippine army, and Mrs. O'Day fell so deeply in love with him that she gave him $700, packed up over $1000 worth of jewelry and several trunks of valuable clothing, and eloped with him to Los Angeles in January.

Traveling under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Miller, they visited Catalina, it was testified, and then lived for periods at the Hotel Broxburn, the Hotel Chester and a West Ninth-street lodging-house. Soon after their arrival here, they met a Miss Cramer, to whom Booth paid attentions that caused trouble between Mrs. O'Day and himself. Finally Miss Cramer went East, and, the witness said, Booth demanded all Mrs. O'Day's jewelry and clothing, that he might sell it to go East also. Then Mrs. O'Day telephoned the police and had the man arrested for stealing and pawning her diamond ring.

"I did not know that he had pawned my ring until he told me about it in Eastlake Park," she said. "He had access to my trunk, and I wept when I found that the ring was gone. I lived with him a month longer, and then one day, after Miss Cramer had gone, he told me he must have all my jewelry, clothing and trunks to sell for funds with which to go East. He threatened to choke me to death unless I consented, and when he left the house, I telephoned the police.

"He had already stolen and pawned almost all my jewelry, and I told him I would die rather than give up what I had left. I never threw my arms around him, or told him that I did not care about the ring as long as I had him. He never worked so far as I know, after we left San Francisco."

Officers W. W. Glenn and W. L. Stevens, who arrested Booth, testified he confessed to them he had stolen Mrs. O'Day's ring. It is charged that he stole and pawned portions of her clothing and about $1300 worth of her jewelry, causing the diamonds to be removed from their settings and paste inserted. The witness said that, after much questioning, Booth admitted he had been a cook in the Philippines.

The prisoner did not take the stand in his own defense, but introduced A. B. Cohn, a pawnbroker, and S. Zimanchi, a bookkeeper, who testified that Mrs. O'Day has told them, after his arrest, that she had given him permission to dispose of her ring to raise money for herself and lover. Booth asserts that he took Mrs. O'Day's property with her knowledge and consent. Argument will be heard this morning.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

SLANDER SUIT. P. E. Pozzo yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit against Frank Arconti for $5000 damages for alleged slander. The plaintiff states that on October 22, at a meeting of a committee of twelve persons at the Italian-American Club, of which Pozzo is president, the defendant made false charges of lying and dishonest actions, and said that Pozzo had been obliged to leave both Italy and New York City because of rascally practices.

WOMEN AND STOCK. Mrs. Frances L. Mooers yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit against Mrs. Margaret R. Rose and the Citrus Cove Ranch Company to restrain Mrs. Rose from disposing of 250 shares of the corporation's stock. The plaintiff asserts it was bought by Mrs. Rose with $5000, given her for the purpose, on September 17, by the plaintiff, to whom she then agreed to deliver it, but has not done so.

IN HOT WATER. L. E. Baxter yesterday filed in the Superior Court a $10,000 damage suit against the California Hospital Company for injuries alleged to have been received by him while working for the corporation on November 1. He says the defendant failed to provide a proper cover for a steam sump hole in the building, and that he fell into hot water.

MALIBU ROAD. As presentation of evidence was completed yesterday, Judge Oster will hear final arguments Wednesday in the case of the People against Mrs. F. K. Rindge, and in her suit against F. C. Prescott, both actions being to determine the ownership of the road across the Malibu ranch from Santa Monica to Ventura county.

GOOD ROADS BONDS. Counsel for Supervisor Eldridge and for the W. P. Jeffries Company yesterday filed in the Superior Court demurrers, on technical grounds alone, to the suits instituted by W. Lindsay and others, and by Eugene Germain and others, to restrain the Supervisors from accepting bids for the good roads bond issue, and from fulfilling the contract with the W. P. Jeffries Company for engraving the bonds. Judge Bordwell will hear arguments this morning at 10 o'clock.

MAY BE INSANE. H. Siegel was arrested yesterday and gave $1500 bonds in Justice Summerfield's court for appearance later to answer to the charge of passing on Klein & Salzman, on August 28, a fictitious $35 check, drawn on the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank. Siegel has been an inmate of a private sanatorium for the last two weeks and is believed to be mentally deranged.

SEQUEL TO SHOT. Public Administrator Frank Bryson yesterday filed in the Superior Court a petition for letters on the estate of E. L. Bouman, the Long Beach bachelor who was shot by a robber last Saturday, and who died on October 25. The estate is valued at about $9000, consisting of $335 cash in bank and the rest in real estate. Bouman's only known relative is a niece in Nebraska.

AUTO SCHOOL. W. J. Truran and William Davis yesterday filed in Justice Stephens's court suits for $50 and $100, respectively, against E. W. Bender and the Bender Mechanical Auto School. They allege they paid tuition fees for a course in repairing and driving, but did not get the instruction contracted for.

DUCK RANCH ROW. On motion of the prosecution, Justice Summerfield yesterday continued until November 11 the trials of H. W. Meserve, charged with assault by Mrs. O. H. Burbridge, and of Mrs. Burbridge, charged by Meserve with disturbing the peace, as a result of a quarrel last week at the Inglewood duck ranch owned by Burbridge and Meserve.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the County Clerk by the William McCartney Company, capital stock, $100,000; Earley's Treasury Mining Company, capital stock, $10,000; Herman W. Heilman Building, incorporated, capital stock, $500,000; Riverside Groves Water Company, capital stock, $500; and the Valley Consolidated Mining Company, capital stock, $1,000,000.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES.

Three Small Dealers in Difficulties and Bankruptcy Petitions Are Filed.

Creditors of Frank Lawton of Santa Monica filed an involuntary bankruptcy petition in the United States District Court yesterday. It is asserted that Lawton is insolvent and that for the protection of the firms from which he has purchased supplies and groceries he should be adjudicated a bankrupt. Devore & Pettis, Standard Woodenware Company and the Stetson-Barrett Company, with claims aggregating about $1600, join in the petition. Friends of Lawton state that his café and resort business has been poor this summer and that his creditors became importunate in their demands for settlement.

Joshua M. Pawley of this city filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition with stated liabilities of $1759 and $360 assets. The Board of Trade placed an attachment upon the meat market of Shafer & St. Oegger, doing business as the Sycamore Grove Market, yesterday. The amount involved is small.

EDDIE IS IN CHARGE.

Deputy City Prosecuting Attorney Guy Eddie yesterday took charge of the business of the prosecutor's office, pending the appointment of a man to succeed Woolwine. The latter appeared at the office for a few moments yesterday to attend to a few minor details and then left for good. Eddie, upon the order of Asst. City Attorney Works, then took control. He will have charge of affairs until the return of City Attorney Hewitt, who is in Washington, D. C.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

SCHOOL BURNS, LIVES IN PERIL.

MARLBOROUGH PREPARATORY IS GUTTED AT EARLY HOUR.

Some of Twenty Girl Pupils Have Narrow Escapes — Principal's Mother Bravely Saved by Teachers—Fireman Rescue Two Women With Ladders.

Twenty little girls narrowly escaped death yesterday morning, when the Marlborough Preparatory School, at No. 836 West Adams street, caught fire.

The big frame building was gutted, and will have to be rebuilt. The loss is estimated at $8000 on the structure and $7000 on the contents, entirely covered by insurance.

Mary Stevens, the cook of the school, arose early, started the fire in the basement furnace, and then rang the rising bell. At 7 o'clock she detected the odor of smoke, and made an investigation. Going to the basement, she found that the furnace flue was defective, and that the woodwork in the vicinity was ablaze.

The cook dashed upstairs, and notified Miss Ida B. Lindley, who summoned Miss Harriet Johnson and Mrs. Lorie. Then a general alarm was sounded and the teachers went from room to room, assembled the children and marched them from the building.

Only a few of the girls had dressed, and the others made their escape in bath robes or whatever garment was at hand.

On the second floor, Miss Lindley's mother lived. She was rescued heroically by teachers, who carried her to safety through the dense smoke.

By the time the last little girl had left the school, the flames had worked their way to the front of the building and consumed the stairway.

After the fire department arrived, it was learned that Miss Susan Ross, a teacher, and Miss Fannie Johnson, a maid, both of whom lived on the third floor, had not made their appearance. The firemen put up ladders, soon found the women, and saved them.

The children, ranging in age from 7 to 14 years, were taken first to the home of Mrs. Theodore Eisen at No. 634 West Adams street, and later to the Marlborough School on West Twenty-third street, where they will remain until permanent quarters can be secured. Many of them lost their clothing and belongings.

THE COST OF LEGISLATIVE SESSIONS.

To the Voters of Los Angeles County:

In the coming election there are several constitutional amendments to be voted upon, some of which ought to be defeated and others carried. One that ought to carry is Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 16, which provides for a fixed salary for each member of the Legislature and limits the daily expenditure for attaches, etc., to $500. It limits the time for the introduction of bills from sixty days to forty days, thereby giving more time for the consideration of legislation and providing for "less laws and better laws;" and it also limits the number of days to thirty for which members receive compensation during an extra session.

A similar amendment was submitted in 1905 but was defeated by a small margin. In order that the people may understand that this amendment aims to cure an evil that brings the Legislature into disfavor each session and is in the interest of economy, I herewith give the cost of the sessions of the Legislature in 1905 and in 1907 as furnished me by the State Controller over his signature, thereby demonstrating the saving to the people by the adoption of this amendment.

The total cost of the session of 1905 was $253,571.73. If the amendment referred to had been in force the cost would have been $135,807.10, or a net saving of $57,964.63. In addition to those figures the printing of legislative work during that session cost $92,500.

The session of 1907 cost $265,298.53. If the amendment referred to had been in force the cost would have been $139,781.80, or a net saving of $78,-516.73. In addition to those figures the printing of legislative work during that session cost $85,300. Fifty per cent. of the cost of printing could be saved by the adoption of this amendment. This would result from the limiting of the time for introduction of bills from sixty days as it now is to forty days and would prevent the duplicating of bills which is an evil that costs the State much money each session.

Not only will that result be accomplished, but consideration to important legislation will be given. After the per diem ceases members become reckless and pass bills without the attention merited. Last session, after the sixtieth day on, different days bills were passed at the rate of five bills in four minutes. Such recklessness is deplorable.

By limiting the daily expenditure to $500 the evil that attends every session of the Legislature will be eradicated and the army of employés will be cut, as the power to expend more than $500 per day will be denied. When a stated salary is given, no longer time than necessary will be consumed, but every measure that merits debate will be considered and opportunity to discuss it given, a condition that does not now exist, and Legislatures will hereafter find better favor in public sight than heretofore.

To repeat it: Let the voter bear in mind that if this amendment had been in force in 1905, $57,964.63 would have been saved and in 1907, $78,516.73 would have been saved, or a total in two sessions of $133,481.49; and if one-half of the money expended for printing could have been saved, it would be $85,900 more; but if only one-fourth of the printing could have been saved it would have been $44,650. It ought, therefore, to be appreciated that this amendment is in the interest of economy.

Needlework Guild Prepares for Its Annual Distribution of Garments to the Poor.

The Los Angeles branch of the Needlework Guild of America, which conducts the most practical and far-reaching of the city's charities, will hold its annual in-gathering of garments for the poor next Monday at Kramer's Hall, when thousands of articles of clothing will be brought in by section presidents and directors and arranged on tables for the reception to the public on Tuesday.

Last year the needlework guild supplied 5193 new garments to the poor and needy of Los Angeles. They were distributed to the organized charities of the city, fifty institutions benefiting by the forethought of the members of the guild. Each member of this philanthropic order agrees to furnish two new garments a year, and this simple requirement means warmth and comfort to many poor sick men, who drift to Los Angeles without means in the winter season, to many new-born babies opening their eyes on a cold world and to women and children who otherwise would suffer.

This season the many institutions of charity have experienced a falling off in their sources of income, and they will have to rely more than ever upon the supply of garments from the needlework guild. Members who have not already sent their quota of garments to the section presidents should do so at once, as Saturday is the last day of grace for those who have neglected to send in their contributions earlier.

What a New Journal Shows About Los Angeles as a Center of Trade.

The Los Angeles Apparel Gazette is a new monthly trade journal just set afoot in Los Angeles. It is a large folio of twenty-two pages, and the impressive fact is that it represents in its advertising columns a score of wholesale or jobbing houses here which deal in dry goods, boots and shoes, millinery and other branches which go to the apparel which "proclaims the man," also the woman, although Polonius overlooked the fact.

WHICH?

OWNERS MUST DECIDE WIDTH.

QUESTION OF WIDENING WEST ELEVENTH STREET.

Improvement Association Puts Matter to Vote of Householders With Frontage on Throughfare and Canvass Will Be Made—Action Will Follow to Have Road Paved.

The question of the advisability of widening and paving West Eleventh street from Figueroa to Alvarado street, was discussed at the meeting of the Fourth Ward Improvement Association last night. While there was an overwhelming sentiment in favor of paving, a warm discussion arose over the widening of the street.

It was finally voted to have a number of volunteer canvassers make a house-to-house visit within the next two weeks, in order to ascertain the feeling of the property owners in regard to the proposed improvements. At the time that the canvass is made, the residents will be asked to sign a petition favoring the widening of the street by taking ten feet from the south side. It was stated that the cost of the undertaking would be divided pro rata, so that those residing on the northerly side would share equally in the proposed improvement.

If the proposition to widen the street is not carried, the members of the association expressed the opinion that work should be begun as soon as possible on paving the street. It was stated that former experience with the deep mud on the street in the wintertime had made practically every one living in that section a zealous advocate of the paving plan.

Rev. A. C. Smither gave an interesting address on the subject of city improvements, and talks were made by Thomas H. Loyhed, the president, and William H. McGill, the secretary of the association. Prof. Melville Dozier was an ardent advocate of the plan to both widen and pave the street and he asked for rising votes on both questions.

There was a large attendance, and several women spoke in support of the improvements. It was stated by several that the section lies close to the business part of the city, and that it will be necessary to make desired improvements within a short time before the erection of apartment-houses and business blocks adds materially to the cost of widening the street.

It was said that other projects in that section of the city would be taken up by the association as soon as the question affecting West Eleventh street are disposed of. There will be another meeting November 10 to hear the result of the canvass of property owners.

MINES AND MINING.

GIROUX MILL ABOUT READY.

Plenty of Water Developed in Alpha Shaft.

Concentrates to Be Shipped to Denver Smelters.

Big Stamp Mill Planned for Ebner at Juneau.

According to information given out by the local office of the Giroux Consolidated Copper Company, the new 500-ton concentrator will be started up within the next ten days and the property will then take its place among the big producers of the Ely district.

As mentioned in these columns some months ago, the plant was completed last spring but, owing to the fact that sufficient water was not available to run it full time, it was decided to keep it closed until more water had been developed in the Alpha shaft. Since that time the 1200-foot level has been reached and the works are now producing about 100 gallons a minute. At one time the flow was so heavy that the miners were driven fifty feet up from the bottom of the shaft, but it has since been demonstrated that the excessive flow was only temporary. A maximum of 250 gallons a minute was pumped during that time.

The total available supply now runs in the neighborhood of 140,000 gallons a day and it is considered ample for all the needs of the plant. A portion of this amount is derived from the Bunker Hill and Morris shafts, sunk in the porphyritic ore bodies on the opposite side of the hill from the Alpha.

The miners in the Alpha shaft are cutting a station at the 1200-foot level, preparatory to crosscutting for the vein, and it is anticipated that they will drive about 150 feet before encountering the ore body. The winze on the 1000-foot level has been sunk 125 feet and still shows a full bottom of ore that will run from 10 to 15 per cent. copper.

Feed for the new mill will be taken from the porphyritic bodies developed by the Bunker Hill and the Morris shafts, and arrangements are now being made to inaugurate the caving system of extraction. The company has added largely to its pay roll within the past month and is now in shape to handle sufficient tonnage to keep the mill running indefinitely. For the present concentrates will be shipped to the Denver smelters, but the future plans of the company include the erection of its own reduction plant. J. L. Giroux, president of the company, believes that he will be able to manufacture copper at from 8 to 9 cents per pound, without taking into account the high-grade ore from the Alpha shaft, which may further reduce the cost.

Big Deal in Alaska.

George S. Bent, who will be remembered by most northern mining men as superintendent of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine twelve years ago, and later as superintendent of the Le Roi at Rossland, B. C., is a guest at the Hotel Alexandria on his way to New York and other eastern points on important mining business.

After leaving British Columbia, Mr. Bent spent a short time mining in Sonora and then went to Alaska ten years ago. Since that time he has made Juneau his headquarters and has been interested in gold quarts and copper mines in that vicinity. Within the past few months he has disposed of a property called the Ebner, one mile from Juneau, to a New York syndicate organized by F. L. Underwood of the British Columbia Copper Company. The property shows an immense tonnage of low-grade gold ore and the new owners will immediately erect a 400-stamp mill. Eighty thousand tons already milled showed an average of $3.35 per ton, though improvements are now being effected on a basis of only $2 a ton.

Mr. Bent is also interested in copper mines of Prince of Wales Island and has been in charge of the Jumbo mine, owned by Congressman Sulzer of New York, the estate of former Senator Jones of Nevada and prominent eastern men. He is also working the Corbin property on the shore below the Jumbo. Sam Silverman, one of the best known promoters in the West, is now operating the smelter at Hadley in connection with the Mamie and Stevenstown mines and has just shipped 200 tons of matte to Seattle, which will run from 60 to 65 per cent. The property was recently bought in at Sheriff's sale after a dispute between Silverman and Brown, who was the head of the Brown Alaska Copper Company, which formerly owned the mines and erected the smelter. The property of the Alaska Copper Company, in former years the premier mine of the island, controlled by Judge Mellen, has been closed down for some time. The low price of copper has affected the district in about the same manner that other districts have been affected and it has therefore been somewhat quiet. There is a steady improvement noticeable now, however.

Buys Plant Here.

The Goldfield-Silver Peak Mining Company, a local organization operating mines three and a half miles from the Pittsburgh-Silver Peak, has contracted for a ten-stamp gold amalgamation mill with the Eddie Engineering Company of Los Angeles. It will cost $15,000 and will be set up at the mine with as little delay as possible. All machinery, together with the labor necessary to manufacture and assemble the parts will be the product of the local market. The contract calls for the completion of the plant by February 1, 1909. President Reynolds has just returned from the ground and reports a general revival in all mining camps through which he passed. The other officers of the Goldfield-Silver Peak Company are J. J. Ramsey, first vice-president; W. O. McClintock, second vice-president; C. R. Miller, secretary and treasurer, and T. C. Peck D. C. Caegue and C. H. Bartlett, directors.

Goldfield's Production.

The output of Goldfield for last week showed an increase of tonnage, but a falling off in value, with 1987 tons estimated at $108,775. The decrease in value is partially accounted for by the recent cessation of high-grade shipments from the Engineers' lease, which expires next week and is now cleaning up the workings. Florence Consolidated led shipments with 230 tons. Daisy's output was estimated at 200 tons with no value given; Begoles dump shipped 134 tons; Combination Fraction 128 tons; Florence Wheeler, 112 tons; Consolidated Red Top, 107; Little Florence dump, 80; Engineers, 37; Engineers' dump, 33, and Florence Annex dump, 21.

Movements of Mining Men.

Carl F. Bichader is spending ten days in examination of mining camps in New Mexico.

George Mitchell, president of the Clara Consolidated Gold and Copper Mining Company, has returned from a trip to the company's property near Bouse.

James W. Neill, mining engineer, left Saturday for his dredging properties on the Merced River at Snelling. After a few days in San Francisco he will return to his home in Pasadena.

Lane C. Gilliam of the local firm of Thompson & Gilliam, mining engineers, leaves for the south today to take temporary charge of the Boca del Cobre mine, in Durango, Mex., in which his firm is heavily interested. The property has shipped 2414 tons during the past year with a total value of $187,234—an average of $77.56. Shipments are being steadily maintained.

D. C. Jackling, manager of the Utah Copper Company, has been elected vice-president and managing director of the Ray Consolidated Copper Company, which will develop extensive porphyritic ore bodies at Kelvin, Ariz. The product will run in the neighborhood of 2 per cent. copper and an immense plant will be erected to treat the ore economically. Seeley W. Mudd of this city will act as consulting engineer and the actual work will be in charge of Phillip Wiseman, also of Los Angeles.

C. S. Long, mining engineer of Oakland, Cal.; E. J. Wilson, formerly in charge of the Le Roi smelter at Northport, Wash., who superintended the erection of the Humboldt smelter in Arizona, and who is now operating in Goldfield, and Samuel G. Knott, president of the Nevada Southern Gold Mining Company, are among recent applicants for non-resident membership in the new Sierra Madre Club of Los Angeles. Inquiries in great numbers are being received from all quarters of the Southwest.

HOME FOR HOTEL MAN.

Will Erect Forty-Thousand-Dollar Residence at Alexandria Avenue and Fourth Street.

John S. Mitchell of the Hollenbeck Hotel has purchased the handsome residence site at the southwest corner of Alexandria avenue and West Fourth street, in the Chapman Park tract, for a consideration of $7500, and is planning to erect a home to cost about $40,000. The sale was made through R. A. Rowan & Co.

The property consists of a lot 150x150 feet, fronting on a 100-foot boulevard, Alexandria avenue, and is in the rapidly developing extension of the Wilshire boulevard district. While outside of the city limits, the entire section is showing a remarkable activity in home building, a number of exceptionally fine residences having been completed within the past few months.

Mr. Mitchell has commissioned architect Arthur S. Heineman to prepare the plans for a sixteen-room house, and as soon as these are ready construction will begin, probably not later than December 1.

FEEBLE OLD LADY

Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

WHICH?

OWNERS MUST DECIDE WIDTH.

QUESTION OF WIDENING WEST ELEVENTH STREET.

Improvement Association Puts Matter to Vote of Householders With Frontage on Throughfare and Canvass Will Be Made—Action Will Follow to Have Road Paved.

The question of the advisability of widening and paving West Eleventh street from Figueroa to Alvarado street, was discussed at the meeting of the Fourth Ward Improvement Association last night. While there was an overwhelming sentiment in favor of paving, a warm discussion arose over the widening of the street.

It was finally voted to have a number of volunteer canvassers make a house-to-house visit within the next two weeks, in order to ascertain the feeling of the property owners in regard to the proposed improvements. At the time that the canvass is made, the residents will be asked to sign a petition favoring the widening of the street by taking ten feet from the south side. It was stated that the cost of the undertaking would be divided pro rata, so that those residing on the northerly side would share equally in the proposed improvement.

If the proposition to widen the street is not carried, the members of the association expressed the opinion that work should be begun as soon as possible on paving the street. It was stated that former experience with the deep mud on the street in the winter-time had made practically every one living in that section a zealous advocate of the paving plan.

Rev. A. C. Smither gave an interesting address on the subject of city improvements, and talks were made by Thomas H. Loyhed, the president, and William H. McGill, the secretary of the association. Prof. Melville Dozier was an ardent advocate of the plan to both widen and pave the street and he asked for rising votes on both questions.

There was a large attendance, and several women spoke in support of the improvements. It was stated by several that the section lies close to the business part of the city, and that it will be necessary to make desired improvements within a short time before the erection of apartment-houses and business blocks adds materially to the cost of widening the street.

It was said that other projects in that section of the city would be taken up by the association as soon as the question affecting West Eleventh street are disposed of. There will be another meeting November 10 to hear the result of the canvass of property owners.

MINES AND MINING.

GIROUX MILL ABOUT READY.

Plenty of Water Developed in Alpha Shaft.

Big Stamp Mill Planned for Ebner at Juneau.

According to information given out by the local office of the Giroux Consolidated Copper Company, the new 500-ton concentrator will be started up within the next ten days and the property will then take its place among the big producers of the Ely district.

As mentioned in these columns some months ago, the plant was completed last spring but, owing to the fact that sufficient water was not available to run it full time, it was decided to keep it closed until more water had been developed in the Alpha shaft. Since that time the 1200-foot level has been reached and the works are now producing about 100 gallons a minute. At one time the flow was so heavy that the miners were driven fifty feet up from the bottom of the shaft, but it has since been demonstrated that the excessive flow was only temporary. A maximum of 250 gallons a minute was pumped during that time.

The total available supply now runs in the neighborhood of 140,000 gallons a day and it is considered ample for all the needs of the plant. A portion of this amount is derived from the Bunker Hill and Morris shafts, sunk in the porphyritic ore bodies on the opposite side of the hill from the Alpha.

The miners in the Alpha shaft are cutting a station at the 1200-foot level, preparatory to crosscutting for the vein, and it is anticipated that they will drive about 180 feet before encountering the ore body. The winze on the 1000-foot level has been sunk 125 feet and still shows a full bottom of ore that will run from 10 to 15 per cent. copper.

Feed for the new mill will be taken from the porphyritic bodies developed by the Bunker Hill and the Morris shafts, and arrangements are now being made to inaugurate the caving system of extraction. The company has added largely to its pay roll within the past month and is now in shape to handle sufficient tonnage to keep the mill running indefinitely. For the present concentrates will be shipped to the Denver smelters, but the future plans of the company include the erection of its own reduction plant. J. L. Giroux, president of the company, believes that he will be able to manufacture copper at from 8 to 9 cents per pound, without taking into account the high-grade ore from the Alpha shaft, which may further reduce the cost.

Big Deal in Alaska.

George S. Bent, who will be remembered by most northern mining men as superintendent of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine twelve years ago, and later as superintendent of the Le Roi at Rossland, B. C., is a guest at the Hotel Alexandria on his way to New York and other eastern points on important mining business.

After leaving British Columbia, Mr. Bent spent a short time mining in Sonora and then went to Alaska ten years ago. Since that time he has made Juneau his headquarters and has been interested in gold quartz and copper mines in that vicinity. Within the past few months he has disposed of a property called the Ebner, one mile from Juneau, to a New York syndicate organized by F. L. Underwood of the British Columbia Copper Company. The property shows an immense tonnage of low-grade gold ore and the new owners will immediately erect a 400-stamp mill. Eighty thousand tons already milled showed an average of $3.35 per ton, though improvements are now being effected on a basis of only $2 a ton.

Mr. Bent is also interested in copper mines of Prince of Wales Island and has been in charge of the Jumbo mine, owned by Congressman Sulzer of New York, the estate of former Senator Jones of Nevada and prominent eastern men. He is also working the Corbin property on the shore below the Jumbo. Sam Silverman, one of the best known promoters in the West, is now operating the smelter at Hadley in connection with the Mamie and Stevenstown mines and has just shipped 200 tons of matte to Seattle, which will run from 60 to 65 per cent. The property was recently bought in at Sheriff's sale after a dispute between Silverman and Brown, who was the head of the Brown Alaska Copper Company, which formerly owned the mines and erected the smelter. The property of the Alaska Copper Company, in former years the premier mine of the island, controlled by Judge Mellen, has been closed down for some time. The low price of copper has affected the district in about the same manner that other districts have been affected and it has therefore been somewhat quiet. There is a steady improvement noticeable now, however.

Buys Plant Here.

The Goldfield-Silver Peak Mining Company, a local organization operating mines three and a half miles from the Pittsburgh-Silver Peak, has contracted for a ten-stamp gold amalgamation mill with the Eddie Engineering Company of Los Angeles. It will cost $15,000 and will be set up at the mine with as little delay as possible. All machinery, together with the labor necessary to manufacture and assemble the parts will be the product of the local market. The contract calls for the completion of the plant by February 1, 1909. President Reynolds has just returned from the ground and reports a general revival in all mining camps through which he passed. The other officers of the Goldfield-Silver Peak Company are J. J. Ramsey, first vice-president; W. O. McClintock, second vice-president; C. R. Miller, secretary and treasurer, and T. C. Peck D. C. Caegue and C. H. Bartlett, directors.

Goldfield's Production.

The output of Goldfield for last week showed an increase of tonnage, but a falling off in value, with 1987 tons estimated at $108,775. The decrease in value is partially accounted for by the recent cessation of high-grade shipments from the Engineers' lease, which expires next week and is now cleaning up the workings. Florence Consolidated led shipments with 230 tons. Daisy's output was estimated at 200 tons with no value given; Begoles dump shipped 134 tons; Combination Fraction 128 tons; Florence Wheeler, 112 tons; Consolidated Red Top, 107; Little Florence dump, 80; Engineers, 37; Engineers' dump, 33, and Florence Annex dump, 21.

Movements of Mining Men.

Carl F. Schader is spending ten days in examination of mining camps in New Mexico.

George Mitchell, president of the Clara Consolidated Gold and Copper Mining Company, has returned from a trip to the company's property near Bouse.

James W. Neill, mining engineer, left Saturday for his dredging properties on the Merced River at Snelling. After a few days in San Francisco he will return to his home in Pasadena.

Lane C. Gilliam of the local firm of Thompson & Gilliam, mining engineers, leaves for the south today to take temporary charge of the Boca del Cobre mine, in Durango, Mex., in which his firm is heavily interested. The property has shipped 2414 tons during the past year with a total value of $187,234—an average of $77.56. Shipments are being steadily maintained.

D. C. Jackling, manager of the Utah Copper Company, has been elected vice-president and managing director of the Ray Consolidated Copper Company, which will develop extensive porphyritic ore bodies at Kelvin, Ariz. The product will run in the neighborhood of 2 per cent. copper and an immense plant will be erected to treat the ore economically. Seeley W. Mudd of this city will act as consulting engineer and the actual work will be in charge of Phillip Wiseman, also of Los Angeles.

C. S. Long, mining engineer of Oakland, Cal.; E. J. Wilson, formerly in charge of the Le Roi smelter at Northport, Wash., who superintended the erection of the Humboldt smelter in Arizona, and who is now operating in Goldfield, and Samuel G. Knott, president of the Nevada Southern Gold Mining Company, are among recent applicants for non-resident membership in the new Sierra Madre Club of Los Angeles. Inquiries in great numbers are being received from all quarters of the Southwest.

HOME FOR HOTEL MAN.

Will Erect Forty-Thousand-Dollar Residence at Alexandria Avenue and Fourth Street.

John S. Mitchell of the Hollenbeck Hotel has purchased the handsome residence site at the southwest corner of Alexandria avenue and West Fourth street, in the Chapman Park tract, for a consideration of $7500, and is planning to erect a home to cost about $40,000. The sale was made through R. A. Rowan & Co.

The property consists of a lot 150x150 feet, fronting on a 100-foot boulevard, Alexandria avenue, and is in the rapidly developing extension of the Wilshire boulevard district. While outside of the city limits, the entire section is showing a remarkable activity in home building, a number of exceptionally fine residences having been completed within the past few months.

Mr. Mitchell has commissioned architect Arthur S. Heineman to prepare the plans for a sixteen-room house, and as soon as these are ready construction will begin, probably not later than December 1.

FEEBLE OLD LADY

Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

TAFT AND SHERMAN.

For President. For Vice-President.

Editorial Pen Points

"The main thing is to get married," says Abruzzi. That's the talk.

Water, water everywhere, but there ought to be more of it put on the streets.

If the city is short on sprinkling carts, let more be secured. Put down the dust.

Turn on the sprinklers. The way to keep down dust is to wet it. Man the hose!

Unfortunately for Br'er Bryan, this election will not be decided as a talking match.

Canada now has it off her chest, and next Tuesday we will be feeling likewise, glory be!

Mr. Bryan will find out that the country still objects to both his policies and his politics.

"The French of Quebec stood solidly by Laurier," says the dispatch. Blood is thicker than water.

Bets of something like 100 to 1 that Hisgen will not be elected are freely offered, with no takers.

At least nobody has had the nerve to say that if Taft is elected he will not be able to fill the chair.

Up to date, the effort to abolish child labor may be characterized as having been merely child's play.

The Canadian Conservatives now know how the Democrats of this country will feel about the middle of next week.

The American people have formed the habit of voting against Bryan, and it is never wise to break a good habit.

The French rule Canada, and the Scotch, Irish and Welsh rule the home government. Where do the English come in?

It is no trouble to learn what Mr. Bryan has to say, but he says so much that it is impossible to learn what he thinks.

Having recently won $100,000 on a horse race, it is to be supposed that Mrs. Langtry is still in favor of that kind of sport.

The simple question in New York is this: Is there a sufficient number of decent men in the State to reelect Gov. Hughes?

Mr. Taft has been in the employ of the American people for some time, and his services have been highly satisfactory in every way.

We can't exactly recall the name of the man who is running for Vice-President on the Independence ticket, but perhaps it doesn't matter.

Notwithstanding that he is the Prohibition candidate, Mr. Chafin declares that he has found the campaign anything but a dry business.

The treatment of disease by sea air is called "Thalassotherapy." Sounds like something a man might say who needs treatment for a jag.

We regret to notice that an eastern breakfast food concern is on the rocks. It leaves us only about 4000 other brands to select from.

If he isn't too busy with other matters, Col. Roosevelt might write another letter or two just to stir things up a little at the heel of things.

A New Orleans preacher speaks of what he calls "a gas-lighted, flower-scented Christianity." Well, there's nothing the matter with that, is there?

Mr. Kern says Bryan can win by carrying Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Nevada and New York. Surely he can!

Speaking about "getting out the vote," did it ever strike you that the American citizen who has to be dragged to the polls doesn't amount to much?

Col. Roosevelt is to take a Scotch terrier with him on his African hunting trip. That, with some scotch in a bottle, ought to stir up a few birds, at least.

In Pennsylvania the other day a party of women broke up a poker game. Now how would women like it if a party of men were to break up a game of bridge?

What King Edward thinks doesn't seem to cut any more ice with the Duke of the Abruzzi than what the King of the Cannibal Islands might think. 'Rah for Broozy!

We desire to tender our sincere congratulation to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the gray eagle of Canada, who is, also, a sometimes guest in Los Angeles and an admirer of the same.

In all probability, the "laboring man" whom Bryan would place in the Cabinet is Sam Gompers, who has not been known to work since the memory of man runneth to the contrary.

To show how far away we still are from real civilization, it may be stated that in all "civilized" countries of the world 60 per cent. of the persons over 10 years of age are compelled to work for a living.

Industrial corporations in this country have been able to borrow considerably more than $1,000,000,000 during the present year, which fact would lead us to suppose that financial matters have not been so badly tied up, after all.

LET THE LEADERS LEAD.

The time is short. Anything done to make the election of Judge Taft sure must be DONE NOW. The business is not to carry Los Angeles county. The State is the stake. A mere plurality in California will not satisfy a stalwart Republican or a patriotic Californian. There is a clear, large Republican majority over all in the State, and this we should make the vote show. The campaign is not Republicans vs. Democrats; it is conservatives vs. radicals, society vs. socialism. As the vote goes so will stand the reputation of the people. To show this, get out the vote. The heavier the poll the larger the Republican majority will be.

If the leaders will lead, the people will follow. There are in each precinct, each county, in the State as a whole, certain men chosen as representatives of the party. To them is assigned the task of "making good" on election day. To be a leader is an honor. It is a thing eagerly sought by those who climb to the top of the political ladder. The honor is not an empty one. With it goes responsibility.

The leaders need money to make the campaign go. They complain that this is not to be had this year. But to get the money is part of the responsibility accepted by the leaders when the honor of leading is conferred on them. Campaign contributions do not come of themselves. Perhaps it is harder to get money than usual. But he is a poor leader who gives up in disgust or despair when he meets an obstacle. His business is to surmount the obstacle, and he is a poor general if he fails.

There is much at stake in the election of next Tuesday. Tariff protection was never in so great danger. Prosperity never depended more on tariff protection than it does now. The temper of the Supreme Court of the United States for the next twenty years will be established by the next President. A Lincoln-Cleveland court or a Bryan-Gompers court will control our affairs, as the votes go. These things are of vital interest to every business man in the country. He can well afford to make a moderate contribution for the necessary expenses; he cannot afford to refuse it. If the call is put to him emphatically he will "come across."

GET BUSY! Let the county committee take it up this hour and redouble its exertions. Let the precinct committeemen, if necessary, visit every earnest Republican and tax him.

Get the money. Get all that is necessary. Get it at once. Get it in every precinct; spend it in every precinct as is necessary. Make sure of every possibly Republican voter in every precinct, see that he is not led astray, and get him to the polls. Nothing short of this will satisfy the party, or do the State full justice.

WHICH WAGES DO YOU WANT?

Free trade, or "tariff for revenue only" as Mr. Bryan calls it, means low wages. Even the very fear of a "low tariff" on Mr. Cleveland's election in November, 1892, caused a heavy fall of wages in this country, as many of us, the writer included, painfully remember. Directly after Mr. McKinley was elected, in November, 1896, wages went up and have stayed up ever since. Look at the lowest average wages per hour in the years 1890-1903 prevailing in this country and free-trade Great Britain, in leading trades:

	United States. Cents.	Great Britain. Cents.
Blacksmiths	26	16½
Boilermakers	26	16½
Bricklayers	43	17½
Carpenters	27	17
Iron molders	24½	17
Machinists	23½	15½
House painters	27	15½
Plumbers	34½	17½
Stone cutters	34½	17
Stone masons	34½	17½

Much the same comparative figures—protective-tariff wages as against free-trade (or for this country "low-tariff," the same thing) wages—could be adduced, but those quoted serve to illustrate the point, coupled with our wage-workers' knowledge of the rates of wages they got (when they got any wages at all) in the Democratic low-tariff fiscal years of 1895-6-7.

Which wages do you want for the next four years, Mr. Wage-Working Voter? It is for you to say by your vote on November 3.

If you want the low rate, you will get it by voting the Democratic ticket. If you want to retain your present wages, with the chance of still better wages, then vote the Republican ticket.

Think seriously of this, wage-earners, with your $3,500,000,000 in savings banks, your $700,000,000 in building and loan associations, and your nearly $700,000,000 in life-insurance premiums paid—in all, $5,900,000,000, every dollar of which is now protected, and every dollar of which will suffer in the general decline, if Mr. Bryan and his party succeed at the polls November 3, next.

Your duty and interest are plain! Vote for your wages, your bank account, your home and your life insurance! Prosperous workingmen make good American citizens and good American citizens are the best asset of the greatest nation in the world, this nation of ours.

TOBACCO GROWING.

An ardent advocate has taken up once more the subject of growing tobacco in Southern California. This is an old, old topic. It has been set before us many times, and tried often. There is no experiment to be made in this industry so far as the initial stages go. Tobacco will grow here, grow well, even rankly, perhaps too rankly in some places. So much is certain. But that is only the first step in what may be an important industry.

The first thing to decide is what varieties of tobacco are best suited to certain soils. Time was when we thought the only use our plains could be put to was grazing. Question was raised as to whether potatoes would do well. Later we thought all soils and situations equally good for vines and even oranges. Practical experience has taught us where to plant orange trees or lemon trees or vines; alfalfa or beans. Each district or section has now its special uses.

We will have to go through the same experiments to decide where tobacco will do best, and what variety will pay the most. If a "boom" in the industry is created, we shall all think we can grow tobacco and that one variety is as good as another. Only trial will set us right in this respect.

The ardent advocate of the industry is reported as saying that this section is not good for the tobaccos out of which "plug" is made, but that Connecticut leaf suitable for cigar fillers will do well, and that even Sumatra wrappers may be grown. As to the filler leaf, he may be right; as to Sumatra wrapper, if we can produce that our fortunes are made. But let no farmer trust too confidently to the opinion of any expert. We will know the truth by trial of the soil and climate.

Our advice is to go slowly. Do not jump in the dark. Go by short steps, feeling your way carefully as you proceed. If we were about to enter on the experiment we would send a sample of soil to the University of California and ask advice as to the variety, if any, likely to do well. An inquiry addressed to the Interior Department at Washington would, no doubt, bring good results.

Having decided that our soil is suited to a given variety or varieties, we would then procure a small amount of the seed, and at the same time study carefully the proper culture for the leaf. Then not more than an acre should be planted, better half an acre, as an experiment.

Tobacco culture is peculiar. It must be well understood or any attempt made must fail. In the East tobacco is cultivated mostly in small patches. Farmers plant from half an acre to five acres as a rule. The plant requires more care than the sugar beet. A farmer in Merced, some twenty-five years ago, got the tobacco fever and set out about one hundred acres to the plant. He found there was not labor enough in the San Joaquin Valley to take care of his crop, so it was all lost.

Growing tobacco is only the smallest part of the industry. The plant will flourish in many places where it cannot be cured. Forty years ago farmers in Contra Costa county, near the Santa Clara county line, ruined themselves growing tobacco, which came to perfect maturity, but could not be cured, either through ignorance on the part of the growers, or because of the unfitness of the climate.

Tobacco is cured with great care by being hung up in sheds so that the plant hangs down in the opposite way from that in which it grows. The roof protects the plants from the sun, but the open sides admit the atmosphere. It is alleged that the dewy nights, which prevail in the East, are necessary to cure the tobacco. The dry atmosphere around Centerville, Contra Costa county, was blamed for the poor results there.

In making cigars a damp atmosphere is desirable. That makes Cuba, the Florida coast and San Francisco great centers for the industry. The damp air of Lancashire helps cotton spinning in that part of England. In New England an artificial atmosphere is created by sending a fine spray of water through the rooms where the fiber is spun. It is not so good as the natural air, but it serves.

Our coast is damp enough most days and nights. But if we were curing tobacco here this last week and had no way to keep it damp, it would go to ashes.

There is a good deal to be looked into before we launch out in an untried industry. The Times does not doubt the tobacco plant will grow well here. We think devices may be found to cure it well. But we advise careful study and slow procedure.

There is nothing non-partisan in the Democrat's specious plea for a "non-partisan" vote for Superior Court judges in this county. It is merely a trick to help out a Democratic nominee for the judgeship. The very Democrats who are making this plea do not propose to vote for any Republican; and The Times will be much mistaken if any Republicans are caught with this chaff. All the Republican nominees for the judgeships are deserving of unanimous Republican support.

HONEST GROCERS.

Los Angeles grocerymen are at work in a quiet effort to get butter put up in packages of uniform weight. A roll of butter is supposed to weigh thirty-two ounces. As a matter of fact, it weighs from twenty-eight to thirty-two ounces. The light weight is an imposition on the consumer. Law will not stop the bad practice, as butter is not sold by weight to the consumers, but by the roll.

If this reform can be brought about it will be an excellent thing for Los Angeles. Send the word abroad that the grocers, of their own initiative, took it up and carried it through, and that in Los Angeles no dairy is allowed to pack light-weight butter, nor is any jobber permitted to handle it.

The way this is being worked out is admirable. There are no brass bands, no torchlight processions, no felt-shod sleuths nor boy prosecutors in the campaign. There is no campaign. The grocers' journal, the Commercial Bulletin, commends the movement and predicts its success.

FRENCH WOMEN LACK INSIGHT.

It is surprising that the women of France should take so seriously the clause in the laws of their country which says that "women must obey their husbands." This is beyond comprehension on this side of the world.

Really, do French women pay any attention to this legal requirement? If they do, they are not so "smart" as they look, as their natty costumes give reason to think. The spirituelle is not even skin-deep in such a case, but only shirt-waist deep.

Do not American damsels march to the altar with hearts that scarcely palpitate, and in tones without a quaver promise to "love, honor and obey" the meek thing in pantaloons trembling by their side? They promise in the sweetest but most emphatic manner to obey. But who ever knew one of the bits of dainty pink and white loveliness to do it? They look as frail as a flower, as unresisting as a bunch of unconfined air. They look up at the groom with so charming an air of confidence and dependence. The word "obey" drops from their lips with a gentle unction, so fascinating, and seeming to say: "I have no more will than a captive canary."

That is on the wedding day, at the altar. She leaves her father's house in her gray going-away gown, looking so sweet, clinging to the bridegroom's arm like the ivy to the sturdy oak. Let him remind her next morning at the Alexandria, or the Fairmont, that they must catch the train, and she must not take so much time to adjust her hat. Then he finds out who must obey. The tone changes from the sweet whisper in which she said "I will" when she faces her "lord and master" and says "I won't."

This was all found out long, long ago, when the proverb was made: "When woman will she will, you may depend on't, and when she won't she won't, and there's an end on't."

These French women are so behind the times! They should learn our way and let the old laws of their country alone, while they follow the older laws of their sex, which no husband can repeal.

LINGERING.

A SPLASH AND DIRTY.

Lincoln Steffins came like a comet into our firmament, unheralded, a few years ago, with a long sweep of gaseous tail flaming from horizon to zenith. His orbit was erratic, and his influence was rather weird. But his spread of tail was immense. He reached his aphelion at a bound, and began to recede. In a few months he ceased to be the great Lincoln Steffins and became merely a dim and rather malign planet known as "Link Stuffins." Farther and farther he receded; dimmer and still dimmer became his outlines. His long sweep of flaming tail contracted, became more diaphanous, smudgy and far from sweet in its exhalations. He got another alias, and became known as "Stink Luffins." Then he ceased to be in evidence at all, sank into a mere memory, and one so unpleasant that even his friends tried to forget him.

An assembly of New England women has been in session at Boston. Now there a man may be expected to be brought into range of far-reaching telescopic inspection and then put under a microscope magnifying not less than 500 diameters. Link and his reform have been investigated from afar and analyzed at close view by these women of Boston. The orbit of his course has been duly measured, and the weight of his nebulus substance duly weighed. Rather than a star of the first magnitude, with a ponderosity sufficient to move solid planets and sway the central sun from its place, Link is now revealed as a mere hole in a doughnut. His nucleus is like a rushlight, ready to be snuffed out, and his tail is a small streak of hot air not grateful to the nostrils.

Mrs. R. M. White, speaking to her sister reformers in Boston, said of Link: "Lincoln Steffins is only a momentary and soon to be forgotten splash in the puddle of reform."

The epitaph is written. Let him R. I. P.

A CLEAR-CUT VERDICT.

Many men have expressed their opinion of Mr. Bryan. Not one of them has given a view so just, so comprehensive and so accurate as that of a St. Louis Democrat, Alvan B. Goodbar, to whom Norman E. Mack wrote asking money for the Bryan campaign. Mr. Goodbar in reply said:

"I am in receipt of a letter signed Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic National Finance Committee, requesting me to make a contribution and to solicit contributions from others to the Bryan and Kern campaign fund. I presume this request is made upon the presumption that I am a Democrat. This assumption is correct, but I do not recognize Mr. Bryan as a Democrat or as a true expounder of Democratic doctrine and principles. He is a Democrat in name only, while, in fact, he was originally a Populist, and by process of evolution he has become a Socialist, which is the trend of all Populistic teaching."

No real Democrat can intelligently and conscientiously vote for W. J. Bryan. Twice before a million Democrats voted against him for the very reasons set forth in this letter. They will do so again next Tuesday.

This is not a question of a personal nature. Mr. Bryan is a Populist, and Populism tends in a direct line to socialism. The Democratic party has been the antithesis of socialism and of Populism. Those who vote the Bryan ticket should logically vote for Watson or Debs, according to the progress they have made toward the ultimate goal.

Holeproof Hosiery

For Women, Boys and Girls

Holeproof Hosiery—the sort competitors have begun to imitate, because it is the very best. We are sole Los Angeles agents for these famous guaranteed hose, for women and boys and girls, and have plenty of them now in stock.

Two qualities in the women's hose, in ribbed top or plain—silk finish and plain: every pair guaranteed for six months' satisfactory wear without darning; sold only by the box of six pair. All sizes, too, for girls and boys, now in stock.

Better Than Ordinary Blankets

Older residents of Los Angeles remember the time when there were blanket mills here owned and operated by men who now constitute this firm. For years we have been known as headquarters for fine blankets, deservedly, because we know the blanket business from A to Z.

Blankets may be had to match the color scheme of any room—with comforters finished in the same tones—for example, yellow, red, pink, light blue silk covered comforters and fine wool blankets with similarly colored borders.

And all of the blankets we sell are amply large; both the inexpensive and the very finest sorts; all wool, or made with just enough cotton in the warp to prevent them from shrinking when laundered. The finest lambs' wool may be dry cleaned, and will retain their original fluffy finish.

Baby Blankets may be had from the first size, for bassinettes or little cribs, in white with blue or pink borders, white with the word "Baby" woven in the border; light blue or pale pink; delicate plaids; and juvenile blankets will particularly appeal to the youngsters—Teddy Bears, Mother Goose, Red Riding Hood, Santa Claus, etc., with larger ones for cribs and small beds.

You'll be delighted with the breadth of assortments in this splendid Bedding Section, and we invite comparison of prices with like qualities elsewhere.

A display of the more exclusive novelties may be seen today in a Broadway window.

Thermos Bottles

A 20th Century Convenience

Thermos bottles—the ones that keep warm articles warm, and cold articles cold, for twenty-four to seventy-eight hours, by actual test:

What a convenience to picknickers to have the lemonade or tea ice cold, after a tramp of miles, perhaps, on a warm day. Or if hot drinks are wanted, they may be kept at the same temperature as when they left the stove, if you pack them in a Thermos Bottle. Food for babies may be kept warm all night, if placed in one of these; or cooling drinks may be had instantly for invalids who cannot wait upon themselves. Motorists will like best the leather-covered cases which hold two bottles; separate bottles of various capacities, nickeled or leather covered, at $3.75 and higher. These bottles have this year been reduced in price by the manufacturers. See them in a Broadway window.

Correctly Fashioned Skirts

Fashion's tendencies in separate skirts are fully exemplified in our collections this fall. Every material, every style, that is really good, will be found represented, in a wide range of prices:

Graceful voile skirts, with and without silk drop skirts, from $12.50 to $35.00.
Lustrous satin skirts, from $20 to $35.
Taffeta and like silk skirts, $15 to $35.
Panama skirts from $7.50 to $22.50.
Broadcloth skirts from $17.50 to $33.
Novelty mixtures from $7.50 to $20.

THE CAMPAIGN.

EASILY UNDERSTOOD IS TAFT'S POSITION.

None of His Many Speeches Betray the Least Hedging.

Whatever He Has Said and Done in the Past He Stands for Now and Defends Upon Every Opportunity—On the Other Hand Mr. Bryan Wants the Public to Forget His Whole Past Public Utterances.

THERE is no mistaking the meaning of anything Mr. Taft says. There is nothing Delphic or misleading in his assertions. There will be a revision of the tariff, fair to the person who buys and the worker who makes American goods. It will be a genuine revision, not a pretended tariff for revenue, like the Democratic Wilson-Gorman tariff of fourteen years ago, which gave protection to certain powerful interests which needed no protection, and omitted to protect the industries on which the farmer and wage-earner depended for support. The consequence, its disaster and ruin to manufacturers, and distress and privation to workers have not been forgotten, and the bitter memories of that period will have no slight influence in prompting American workingmen to vote for Taft and Sherman for President and Vice-President of the United States, and thereby assuring a revision of the tariff by the Republican party, whose policy it has been from the time the party came into power to safeguard American labor from unfair competition of the cheap labor of Europe and Asia.—[Louisville Herald.

Bryan's Ignorant Policies.

The tariff is a panic-breeder, says Mr. Bryan. Nobody pretends that protective or any other sort of tariffs prevent panics, and surely Mr. Bryan can't expect his hearers to be ignorant of '57 and '37. He is the only man that has a remedy for panics, his bank deposits guarantee.

Remembering Mr. Bryan's fantastic economics, how can any tariff reformer believe in him? Nor is it any exaggeration to say that the election of such an instinctive partisan of ignorant, doubtful or flatly disastrous policies would breed a panic.—[New York Sun.

Labor and Taft's Decisions.

When the laboring men of West Virginia asked Mr. Taft to talk about injunctions he replied: "That's just what I want to talk about. They say that I am unfair to labor. I deny it. I handed down the decisions in railroad cases which laid down the principles on which the trades unions are based and which made them lawful and prosperous."

Gradually the laboring men of the country are coming to realize that Mr. Taft, instead of being "the father of injunctions," has, in his capacity as Judge, conceded to labor organizations rights and privileges which had been withheld from them until he blazed a new way in the jurisprudence of the country, and that instead of being labor's oppressor, he has in fact been labor's benefactor.

It is a matter of history that labor organizations have been forced to appeal to the Taft decisions in order to maintain their rights as organizations, and Mr. Bryan, and Mr. Gompers, and all the other spielers of this campaign, will not be able to keep that important and vital fact from the intelligent and independent laboring men of this country.—[Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Real Friend of Labor.

Every day it is becoming more and more apparent that the more the "labor" record of Judge Taft is discussed the more does the fact shine forth that he is a real friend of labor. The truth has always been recognized by the intelligent and fair-minded trade-union leaders and officials, many of whom have the courage to stand boldly out and declare themselves to this effect despite the fact that undue pressure is being exercised to subdue such declaration.—[Labor World.

There has been no truer and franker friend of labor than Judge Taft. Labor itself now perceives that fact through the old cloud of calumny and misconception.—[Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Country's Needs.

What the country needs at this moment is a quiet, steady, firm conduct of affairs at Washington. We have had enough shouting to last us for several years. Mr. Bryan is nothing if not a noisy agitator; that is the only role which he has thus far played successfully. Mr. Taft, on the other hand, has shown himself a capable administrator. His comparative failure as a campaign orator is due to the fact that neither by temperament nor training is he fitted to set the crowds to yelling. But that very calmness and even phlegm which put Mr. Taft at a disadvantage on the stump will greatly increase his efficency as President.—[New York Post.

President of the Country.

On his southern trip Mr. Taft said: "I do not want to be president of half my country. If I cannot successfully appeal to the people of every section I can at least show my own desire to cultivate a closer fellowship with all." The latchstring of a Taft administration will be out for the forty-six States, the Territories and the outlying possessions.—[St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Record Bears Scrutiny.

Intelligent wage earners everywhere understand Mr. Taft and know him as their friend. They cannot be deceived by false statements as to his attitude. They know that his record will bear the closest scrutiny and that he is the steadfast advocate of harmony instead of strife between employers and employés. His candidacy is a frank, manly appeal to the reason and justice of American workingmen and his confidence in the vitality of those attributes has been manifest at every stage of his public career.—[The Labor World.

Workingmen Must Live.

The workingman's individual experience teaches him that all other considerations and issues are dwarfed into insignificance by the prosaic problem of making a living. He who will not work shall not eat was an old colonial law. He who cannot get work must starve is the harsher rule of modern economics. Self-preservation is the first law of nature; therefore, the workingman must concern himself with the question if at the ballot box he can keep the wheels of industry moving.

The railroads will furnish an illustration. Seventy-six railroads for the seven months ended July 31 reported a decrease in gross earnings of $146,-956,000 compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. They, furthermore, reported a reduction in expenses of $100,000,000. That is to say, a normal amount of tonnage is not being furnished the railroads. They, therefore, must retrench. One million and a half of railway employés became immediately affected. Thousands of men have been furloughed—which is a euphemism for discharged—while thousands of others are working on short time. Unless business increases, further economies will come and more workingmen will go.

It ought to be apparent to the wage-earning element of this country that capital is fearful of Bryan. Generally speaking, he advocates warfare upon railroads, and proposes their ownership by the government—a dream which can never be realized, but will disturb capital as a hideous nightmare. He is said to favor two-cent fare laws, which have been found to be unfair, and his attitude is wholly antagonistic to incorporated capital. Should Bryan be elected every railroad in the country may cut wages. A programme calling for the expenditure of one billion dollars for railroad improvements within the next five years may be held up.—[Baltimore American-Star.

No Gold Standard for Bryan.

Remembering what Col. Bryan said in 1896, and the spirit in which he said it, the gold standard is just as much of an issue this year as it was then. He warned the country at that time that no man who wanted the gold standard maintained should expect any help from him.—[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Democrats for Sale, Says Bryan.

Bryan is preparing a soft place to fall on, in the event of his defeat, which he now seems to expect. On the occasion of each of his former defeats he has charged that the Republicans "bought the election" with money contributed by the large interests. Now he has not waited until after defeat, but he has taken occasion ten days before the election to declare that the Republicans are preparing and planning to "buy the election;" and this assertion means simply that Bryan is getting ready to lay his defeat to something else than the real reason—the fact that the majority of the people of the United States do not want him as President.

How very complimentary Bryan is, to the men upon whom he depends for support! How would you personally feel, dear reader, if Bryan should stand up before you, point his finger at you, and say, "Here, you call yourself a Democrat, you say you are for me, and yet, you poor, miserable sneak, you will take a dollar or two of Republican money to vote against me, and you are only one out of a million Democrats who are as base and as cheap as you are!"

That, dear Democratic reader, is exactly what your Bryan is saying to you when he gets up and declares that the Republicans are collecting a corruption fund and will "purchase the election."—[El Paso Herald.

Taft at His Best.

Mr. Taft is at his best in the performance of great national tasks. Mr. Bryan is at his best, as he was at Chicago, in public discourse. The people evidently have resolved that they will keep these gentlemen, respectively, in those posts, the one private and the other public, where they are at their best.—[New York Times.

Taft His Own Man.

The President would not want a mere imitator for a successor and certainly the American people want more than a reflected light in the greatest office in the world. But whatever the President and the people want or don't want, Mr. Taft, if successful in the campaign, will be a President after his own kind. He is not built like Theodore Roosevelt, nor has he come along the highway of life like him. He never was a ranchman, nor a hunter, nor one of "them literary fellers," nor a rough rider. His life has been smooth and conventional and well poised, and he does not concern himself with a miscellaneous diversity of affairs. He will probably leave the matter of spelling to the schools and the number of children to the people who are directly responsible, nor will he be in haste to increase the number of the "Ananias Club." Taft has too much flesh on his bones to be in a hurry about anything. He will be calm and cultivate calmness in public feeling. In his extended career Mr. Taft has escaped personal criticism. There have been no reflections on his private character, and he takes hold of the standard of his great party with clean hands.—[Chicago Advance.

The Two Candidates.

The choice lies between Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan. In so far as the personality of the two candidates enters into the equation, it is a choice between a man who has fulfilled with exceptional credit the manifold public duties which have devolved upon him in the last twenty years as Solicitor General, Circuit Judge of the United States, Governor of the Philippines and Secretary of War and a man whose record as a public servant is confined to four uneventful years in the lower house of Congress. It is a choice between a thoroughly qualified administrator familiar with all the details of government and an orator and agitator who has associated himself with all sorts of fantastic issues and lost causes. Mr. Taft has exhibited great intelligence and industry in dealing with public affairs. Mr. Bryan has distinguished himself only as an agile advocate of superficial theories and a fertile coiner of oratorical phrases.—[New York Tribune.

Taft Understands the Nation.

The truth is that Mr. Taft is a better citizen than he is a partisan, a better American than he is a Northerner. More than any other man he understands the whole American nation and its problems, if the Philippines, the development of the Pacific Ocean, the Panama project and the affairs of Cuba be taken into account.—[Kansas City Star.

Cannot Forget It.

Of the laws of money and of credit Bryan knows absolutely nothing. Had he known, it is not probable that in his former campaigns he would have proclaimed that he had "enlisted in a war of extermination" against the gold standard—a war that would not cease so long as there was any party or even any considerable number of men attempting to force this "foreign yoke" on a free and independent people. That bitter fight will not be forgotten so long as the leader of it is before the American people for their

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruption, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barbers' itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Los Angeles at the Owl Drug Co., and other leading drug stores.

Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth St., New York City.

CHINESE FOR "TONY."

jury was questioning Schwamm, too. The climax came when the police closed three blind pigs that were supposed to run under the special protection of their great mandarin; each of these places carried Julia Marlowe cigars; yet they were forced to close.

An inquiry in Chinatown yesterday revealed that about half of the younger generation of Celestials have taken a temporary vacations to visit friends in the country. They may even neglect to come back to vote.

THORNS IN HIS FLESH.

Schwamm is having almost as much trouble explaining about his Chinese indorsement as he is repudiating the Los Angeles-Utah Oil Company; both these have become as cactus thorns in his flesh.

Monday Schwamm said, after his "conference" with the grand jury, that it is a mystery to him how he came to be a member of the directorate of the oil company. He protested that he never invested a dollar in the company's stock. This protestation, by the way, has come as a revelation to certain bona-fide investors.

Tony's attempted repudiation has roused the ire of other directors of the company.

"I can tell how Tony Schwamm came to be a director of the Los Angeles-Utah Oil Company," said H. D. Kennedy, secretary to the Mayor, at noon yesterday. "He is a director because he asked to be named as one. I will go before the grand jury and tell them that if they want to know."

And in the beginning Kennedy was one of Schwamm's chief boosters.

Three Boys on a Go-Cart Run Into Mrs. McKinnon While Riding Down Hill.

While crossing North Flower street near Temple street, about 7 o'clock last night, Mrs. Malcolm McKinnon of No. 201 North Flower street, was run down and seriously injured by three boys, who were riding down the steep hill on a coster. Mrs. McKinnon was thrown several feet by the force of the impact, and fell on her head. She sustained a slight concussion and a severe scalp wound. The woman was attended at the Receiving Hospital and later removed to her home.

Two detectives were detailed on the case to make an investigation, but the boys could not be found. Their coaster was demolished and abandoned near the foot of the hill. An effort will be made by the police to stop coasting at night.

MIDNIGHT RAID ON CLUB.

The Adeline Club, on the second floor of the Germain building, was raided by the police shortly after midnight this morning. Henry D. Carter, the proprietor of the place, was arrested, and charged with selling liquor without a license. There were two customers in the place when the raid was made, and they will be held as witnesses. Although there was no gambling going on when the policemen forced the door, there were cards and chips lying scattered about the tables in the rooms. Several cases of beer and whisky were confiscated.

BELASCO AFTER ANOTHER.

Fred Belasco left in a hurry last night on a telegraphic report from San Francisco that there was a possibility of his securing a theater in the downtown district of that city. Before going, he said that in the next five years all the theaters would have to move downtown and away from the district where they located after the fire. He wanted to be the first, if possible. He will not give up the Alcazar if he secures a new theater, but he may run it on a cheaper plan. He will remain in San Francisco long enough to cast a vote next Tuesday and then return to Los Angeles.

Jay Ford Laning, Congressman from Ohio, and former vice-president of the Ohio Trust Company, and other members of the board of directors prior to its failure, were yesterday sued for $300,000 damages by crediotrs. The suit is based on charges of fraud and mismanagement of the trust company's affairs.

IT DRAGS YOU SLOWLY DOW

It's hard to keep an even temper with a dull pain nagging all day at your back; in fact, kidney troubles are at the bottom of very much of the nervousness and irritability that are so common today. You wonder why you are short and cross, can't keep your mind on one thing, are inclined to worry over trifles, and subject to fits of "blues" and despondency. Partly it is due to that pain in your back, partly to the irritating effect of uric acid on your brain and nerves.

Uric acid is a poison that is always forming in the body, and it is the duty of the kidneys to filter it out of the blood and pass it off, dissolved, in the urine. Healthy kidneys do this work thoroughly and well, but weak or sick kidneys get behind, and the waste matter collects here and there in the muscles, joints and nerve centers. Headache, dizzy spells, rheumatism, neuralgia, blurry spots before the eyes, nervousness and heart trouble, are signs of uric poisoning.

So do not wonder at your condition, especially if the urine does not look or pass naturally. And if your back aches continually, or you are taken with sharp cricks and stitches of pain when you stoop, turn or [illegible] your kidneys [illegible] prompt attention. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly, cleanse the blood, set the kidneys right at once.

"HOW CAN I ENDURE THIS?"

Fifty thousand people have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor what he thinks of them.

Los Angeles Case

Mrs. J. Rose, [illegible] St., Los Angeles, Cal., says: "Any person were to ask me if I had pains or lameness in the back or any other symptoms of disordered kidneys, I would say Doan's Kidney Pills. Some years ago I was at times troubled with kidney complaint, which was brought on by [illegible] and had been cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Since the preparation was first publicly recommended as a kidney remedy several years ago, a number of my friends who were troubled as I was have strengthened me in the belief that Doan's Kidney Pills are just as satisfactory as I first found them to be. I have used this remedy here and there when I felt tired, worn out or had a little kidney complaint, and it has never failed to benefit me. Some years ago Mr. Rose had a severe attack of kidney trouble and he found Doan's Kidney Pills just as satisfactory as I did. I have recommended this remedy here to many people and it has never failed to benefit them. I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all who suffer from kidney trouble, for I know they will do as much for others as they have done for me."

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Coming Events.

Unusual preparations are under way for the coming event of the club year, the annual meeting of the Los Angeles district organization, which will be held at Venice, November 17, 18 and 19. The social end alone requires elaborate plans and forethought, for all women's organizations of Venice and Ocean Park are to have part in the entertainment of the delegates and guests. Two prominent visitors at the convention will be the State president, Mrs. J. B. Hume of Oakland and Mrs. Cora Jones, president of the Alameda district, C.F.W.C., and one of the best known of the California club workers.

Mrs. Egelhoff-Rundel is chairman of arrangements for the convention. The Cosmos Club will extend the courtesies and privileges of its Venice Clubhouse to delegates and friends. Officers and delegates will be the dinner guests of the South Coast League on Wednesday evening of convention week at the ship Cabrillo, and of the Crescent Bay Club at luncheon Thursday at noon at the clubrooms, the headquarters during the convention being St. Mark's Hotel.

Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the president's council will be held at the Cosmos Clubhouse, when a number of questions will be discussed, and a report will be made on race-track resolutions. Tuesday evening, the Abbot Kinney Company will give a reception to delegates and friends at the Auditorium under the direction of the Pick and Shovel Club.

The regular programme of the convention will begin Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the Venice Auditorium, when Mrs. Abbot Kinney will make an address of welcome and Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, president of the district, will respond. Mrs. Russell J. Waters, chairman of the Programme Committee, will make a report, and Mrs. C. E. Slosson and Mrs. A. L. Stewart, secretary and treasurer, respectively, will present their annual reports. State and federation officers will be introduced, and Mrs. James B. Hume will deliver the State president's address. Mrs. A. L. Stewart will report for the Credential Committee, and a review of the general federation activities will be presented by Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles and Mrs. Robert J. Burdette.

An interesting feature touching the vital points of the district work will be the roll call of clubs, responded to with one-minute reports from the first thirty-five clubs named in the State year book. The rest of the afternoon's programme includes a talk on "Trees, Their Relation to Civilization," by Mrs. William W. Orcutt; "Untried Field for Philanthropy," Charles Silent, a vocal group sung by Miss Blanche Ruby, and the address of the district president, Mrs. Florence Collins Porter.

Wednesday evening will be occupied by the Woman's Press Club, which will give "An Evening with the Women Scribblers."

Thursday will offer many important features. In the forenoon a roll call of the last thirty clubs in the State year book will be held. The Nominating Committee will make its report through the chairman, Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, and the election of officers will be held. The Cosmopolitan Ladies' Orchestra will furnish musical numbers, and one of the most important subjects of the convention will be discussed by Mrs. J. B. Millard and Mrs. Eugene Pettigrew, "The Greater Efficiency of Our Philanthropic Institutions."

An interesting symposium on club life will be held Thursday afternoon, the following club presidents to speak: Mrs. H. D. Kinney of Downey, Mrs. Stevenson of Gardena, Mrs. Ruggles of Ventura, Mrs. Hildreath of Lompoc, Mrs. J. M. Grant of the Highland Park Ebell, Mrs. W. W. Heth of Azusa, Miss Frances Ellery of Carpinteria, Mrs. M. E. McFarland of Avalon, Mrs. George Sibley of Venice, Mrs. A. W. Collins of Tropico, and Mrs. George A. Little of Whittier.

"Some Features of Club Life" will follow, including "The Call of Civics," handled by the Civic Association of Los Angeles and the East Whittier Improvement Club; "Fellowship," by the Each and All Society, Business Woman's Club, and Kindergarten Club; "Art," by the Ruskin Art Club, and the "Uplift of Music," by the Woman's Lyric Club.

"Clubhouses, Present and Prospective," will form an attractive number on the programme, supplied by the club members from Covina, Whittier, Monrovia, Wednesday Morning, Los Angeles Ebell, Pasadena Shakespeare Club, Friday Morning, and Pomona Ebell clubs.

The convention will conclude with a report of the Resolutions Committee, and the delegates will adjourn to be the guests of the Breakers' Club of Ocean Park at a reception.

The officers of the Los Angeles district, C.F.W.C., include the president, Mrs. Porter; vice-president, Mrs. Russell J. Waters; recording secretary, Mrs. C. E. Slosson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Fred Hooker Jones; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Stewart, and auditor, Mrs. Charles B. Nichols.

Mrs. J. M. Grant, newly-elected President of the Highland Park Ebell Club.

Annual Tea.

The rooms at the Woman's Club House presented a gorgeous autumn symphony yesterday, with splendid chrysanthemums decking every nook and corner, and varying in hue from golden yellow to pale pastels. The occasion was the annual tea of the Friday Morning Club, when the president and members of the executive board were given the opportunity of meeting the newcomers in their midst. All afternoon the merry chatter of tongues held sway, with the clink of tea cups, and the strains of music supplied by the De Nubila orchestra. Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, the president, and the members of the board, formed the receiving party, and many handsomely gowned women were present.

Highland Park Ebell Club.

The present club year opens auspiciously for the Highland Park Ebell Club, which includes 131 members and conducts several flourishing sections. The new president, Mrs. J. M. Grant, is a woman of rare culture and personal charm. The other new officers include: Miss Martha Winans, first vice-president; Mrs. John W. Douthit, second vice-president; Mrs. Paul J. Van Trees, recording secretary; Mrs. C. J. Cummings, corresponding secretary; Miss Frances Robinson, treasurer, and Mrs. S. F. Judson, general curator.

The club intends to erect a building for its own use some time during the coming year. Plans have been drawn and an artistic clubhouse will soon be started on the lot already purchased on Avenue 57.

The meeting yesterday morning was largely attended. Miss Mabel Ferris of Cumnock School gave an interpretation of "If I Were King." It was a talented piece of work, the highly emotional scenes being handled with simplicity and power. The young speaker made a beautiful picture, with soft rolls of bronze hair wound about her head and a picture gown of the same rich autumn tint.

The November programme of the Highland Park Ebell has just been completed. The first Tuesday will be occupied with a business meeting, to be followed by music and a parliamentary drill, conducted by Mrs. J. A. Osgood. A special musical programme will be given on November 10. Mrs. Mary Coman of Pasadena will lecture on current events on the 17th, and the last Tuesday of the month will be devoted to a review of "The Servant in the House," by Mrs. Eliza Tupper Wilkes, with interpretive readings by Miss Frances Wilkes.

Cosmos Club.

The first regular meeting of the Cosmos Club will be held this afternoon at the Ebell Clubhouse, when Mrs. Emma M. Greenleaf will talk on "Les Miserables." A parliamentary class will be conducted by Mrs. J. A. Osgood from 1 to 2 o'clock. The Shakespeare section held a delightful and profitable meeting yesterday, the regular meeting days of this section being the first, second and third Tuesdays of each month.

That Bathroom of Yours

Bath tubs, bowls, kitchen utensils, etc., are enameled so that their smooth surfaces may be easily kept clean.

Scouring bricks and gritty powders ruin the polish of the enamel, making it rough and hard to clean.

Use Gold Dust for cleaning all sorts of enameled and painted surfaces.

A Neighbor

(Yes, that same neighbor who asks the questions that St. Peter could not answer) wants to know the meaning of "Hollow Eve," as a perversion of Hallow E'en, and whether it has any reference to the original Apple Mother. I told him I would consult a work on juvenile perversionists and nascent criminology. At this moment I am unable to answer his question intelligently, although I think "Hollow Eve" is the evening on which the small boy doesn't "hollow" but rather pursues a still-hunt with malice prepense and other things.

By the way, have you seen the Hallow E'en novelties in the Christopher windows? They're all right.

PASADENA.

ITS FIRST STEP TOWARD UNION.

CROWN CITY MAY SOON MAKE PRELIMINARY MOVE.

Proposed Change in Tax Collection Agency Is Looked Upon as Initial Action to Consolidate With Los Angeles—Taft's Election Means Much for Throop.

Chief of The Times No. 24 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Oct. 26.—The first step toward the union of this city with Los Angeles may soon be taken in the consolidation of the city and county tax assessments. It is asserted by George F. Kernegan that this will reduce the expenses of the city nearly $6000 a year. Mr. Kernegan is experienced on assessment matters as he was auditor and tax collector in this city for many years. His record in this respect was one reason why he was appointed a member of the committee which is assisting Mayor Earley in drawing up proposed charter amendments.

An essential feature of the plan outlined by Kernegan is an amendment to the charter which will allow the city general tax rate to be more than $1 because the valuation fixed by the county is generally lower than that of the city. He favors the rate being fixed so that it need not exceed $1.50 on $100.

The collection of the tax by county officers is allowed by the present charter and only the change in the rate will have to be made to provide for the plan as to the collection agency.

THROOP INSTITUTE PLANS.

That strenuous efforts to raise $100,000 for a new electrical engineering building for Throop Polytechnic Institute will begin immediately after November 3 if Taft is elected President, was stated by Dr. Norman Bridge, president of the board of trustees of the technical school, yesterday.

"We want some one to come forward and give us $100,000," said Dr. Bridge. "The graders are at work on the site near Tournament Park and we are ready to go ahead with our plans. I feel sure there are several people in town who are only awaiting the outcome of the Presidential election before they come forward with donations to the institute."

Dr. Bridge would not acknowledge that any money has already been raised for the construction of these buildings, but he stated that he was confident that work will soon commence.

STARTS INVESTIGATION.

At the instance of the Linda Vista Improvement Association, the District Attorney's office is now investigating the affairs of the health camp, recently established in the suburb by charitable people of this city.

According to one of the members of the association, many people in Pasadena are anxious to have the camp removed, as the wind from the place blows over the North Grand-avenue section, and the camp is near the Corrall Springs, from which the city gets part of its water. Dist.-Atty. Fredericks, when in the city recently, took up the question with Mayor Earley.

CLOSING RALLY THURSDAY.

The final Republican rally of the Presidential campaign will be held in this city Thursday night in the tent north of the Masonic Hall.

The Bryan and Kern Club held a meeting on North Fair Oaks avenue last night. The Prohibitionists will hold a rally tonight.

DANGEROUS PRECEDENT.

By a reluctant vote of Councilman Hotaling, the City Council unanimously passed favorably upon a request of Manager Koiner of the municipal lighting plant, to turn all the revenue back into the extension of the service. This is considered a dangerous precedent.

Members of the Southern Lincoln Avenue Improvement Association discussed last night the improvement of the street from Fair Oaks avenue to the city limits. They went on record as against the grade as proposed in the ordinance before the City Council, the proposed cuts and drainage of the avenue being the chief reason for their action.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The Valley Hunt Club has issued invitations for a Halloween party to be given at the clubhouse Saturday evening. Those participating will attend in phantom costume and en masque. Pumpkin Jack o'lanterns, cornstalks and appropriate symbols will decorate the ballroom, where dancing will be enjoyed. In the reception-room there will be card tables for bridge and five hundred. The club has made arrangements for having the election returns bulletined at the clubhouse on the evening of November 3, and card tables will be provided for the entertainment for club members while waiting for news.

Miss Ethel Scudder, whose marriage with Julian Adams will occur Thursday evening, November 12, was the guest of honor at a prettily appointed five hundred party last evening given by Miss Louise Lacey of Shatto street, Los Angeles. A number of Pasadena young people went over to the function, including Mr. Adams, Misses Augusta Gould, Ouina Lisk, Beulah Haskell, Mabel Langdon, Messrs. Raymond Gould, Claude Miner, Vernon McCullough, Chauncey Woodbury, Frank Herman and Will Langdon.

Miss Charlotte E. Thomas, who has spent the past eighteen months in European travel, will arrive in Pasadena November 1, and will spend the winter at Hotel Maryland.

Mrs. Mary W. Armstrong and daughter, Miss Marion Armstrong, whose home is at Altadena, and who have been in the East for a year, will return November 2 to occupy their home.

Mrs. Elwood Harvey Allcutt of North Euclid avenue, who has spent the past three months in the East, will return Saturday.

Miss Augusta Senter of Kensington Place has issued invitations for an informal tea Monday afternoon, November 2, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. Theodore Heineman will entertain the guests with a talk upon the work of the Juvenile Court and of the George Junior Republic. Seventy-five invitations have been issued.

Mrs. John W. Hugus and Miss Fanny Watson, both of South Grand avenue, who have been traveling in Europe for several months, have arrived in New York and will soon return to Pasadena.

E. A. Ford, general traffic manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad, left last evening for Pittsburgh. He will return in a few weeks to the home he has recently built on Markham street.

TO SOLVE SMOKE PROBLEM.

Edison Company Promises to Rebuild Plant at Ocean Park—Republican Rally Friday.

OCEAN PARK, Oct. 27.—At the meeting of the Trustees, last night, while the matter of the abatement of the soot nuisance at the Rose-avenue factory of the Edison Electric Company was under consideration, A. W. McPherson, speaking for the company, said that the plant would be in first-class condition. This will mean an expenditure of approximately $100,000, as this plant supplies the entire bay section with fuel and illuminating gas. The plan under consideration contemplates the rebuilding of the plant and the laying of several miles of new mains.

The close of the local Republican campaign will come with a rally at Pier avenue, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Ocean Park Republican Club. Taft followers from all sections of the bay will be invited to be present. The principal speaker will be F. J. Dominguez of Los Angeles.

LUCKY MAN.

GETS EGGS BY THE HUNDRED.

POMONA MAN SHIPS THE FIVE-CENTERS TO ARIZONA.

Less Fortunate People Kill Their Poultry and Send Them to the Los Angeles Market, Chicken Feed Being Too Dear to Supply Nonlayers.

POMONA, Oct. 27.—The high prices of chicken foodstuffs of late has had much to do with the shipping out of this locality of a large quantity of poultry. The railroad agents state that from 10,000 to 12,000 chickens have been sent out of the valley lately. Now that eggs are "up," those who have numerous laying fowls are happy. Charles C. Huff of the Walnut Grove poultry yards is shipping out 100 dozen eggs a day to Arizona and New Mexico and has sent as high as 300 dozen. He has over fifty small poultry raisers in the valley on his books, the eggs from whose yards he has contracts for, a wagon being kept continually on the road gathering up the eggs. By thus guaranteeing fresh eggs to his customers, Mr. Huff has established a large trade in Arizona, New Mexico and Mexico.

COLLEGE GROWTH.

Number four of volume five of the Pomona College Bulletin, which is published quarterly, has just been issued and shows the remarkable growth of the college in the past twenty years. There are now over 500 students in all departments. The Bulletin is handsomely illustrated.

William J. Wilkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilkinson of this city, has returned from his 640-acre grain ranch at Hanley, Saskatchewan, and will be here for the winter. He reports much prosperity in the great Northwest.

NOT LONG SEPARATED.

The funeral of the late Rev. Rufus H. Smith, who died at the Pomona Valley Hospital a couple of days ago, at the age of 86 years, was held this morning. The services at Patterson's funeral chapel on East Second street at 10 o'clock were attended by many of the old residents of this city and Spadra, where the old gentleman had lived for many years. Forty years ago Rev. Mr. Smith was a powerful evangelist and many of the residents here who came from Missouri and Iowa remember when he was in great demand to fill pulpits and conduct revivals in those States. Mrs. Smith died last winter and her husband's body was buried beside her own in the little cemetery at Spadra.

BANK IMPROVEMENTS.

Contractor W. J. Wilton and a crew of men worked all last night tearing down one of the book vaults at the First National Bank, to make way for the expensive improvements that are to be made in the institution's banking quarters. The book vaults will be much enlarged.

RANCH IS WEDDING PRESENT.

Carl Rutty and wife, née Helen Hansell, of Lemon, have left for a honeymoon trip to Colorado, Oklahoma and Iowa. They will be gone until next January, when they will return here and reside upon a ranch which has been presented to the groom by his father, L. Rutty.

Mrs. W. Poston, mother of W. H. Poston of this city, is seriously ill at the home of her son, corner Fourth and Main streets.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Brady are home from an extended eastern trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Glass are new arrivals here who expect to remain until next May and may decide to locate here permanently.

'PHONE ADDITIONS.

The local Home Telephone Company will commence tomorrow some heavy construction work in the Ganesha Park tract, the rapidly growing subdivision through which the new electric line will pass up Huntington boulevard to the park. A complete telephone service will be started on new lines and the poles will be placed in the alleys in order not to disfigure the streets. With these lines, the company will provide for the future growth of the northwest section of the city.

POMONA'S GREEN HILLS.

City Park Superintendent Charles Carette has plans for keeping several men at work during the coming months in laying cobblestone gutters and winding paths over the several hills upon which latter will be planted about 4000 trees, the idea being to obtain a green hillside covering.

The members of the local Women's Relief Corps held an inspection at the K. of P. Hall this afternoon, when Mrs. Geraldine E. Frisbie, counsellor of the Department of California and Nevada, was present, and gave instruction. Some of the members of the Ontario Women's Relief Corps were also present. A dinner was served in the K. of P. banquet hall prior to the inspection.

TO FIT UP ARMORY.

An armory will be fitted up in the basement of the new addition being built to the First Methodist Church for the Boys' Brigade and the Baracs classes. It will be 30x40 feet. There are now fifty members in the brigade.

Because of the crowds that have been attending the revival meetings at the Christian Church conducted by Rev. Herbert Yeuell, it has been necessary to procure a large tent, which has been erected at the northwest corner of North Park avenue and Center street. In it the future meetings will be held.

BAG BURSTS ON HER STOMACH.

LONG BEACH WOMAN VICTIM OF PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Seams in Hot Water Receptacle Burst and Boiling Liquid Pours Over Her Body—Charter Revision Committee Refuses to Consider Reduction of Mayor's Salary.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 27.—Mrs. C. C. Lord, wife of a local shell manufacturer, was frightfully burned by a peculiar accident, at her home on Mermaid Place, this morning.

Suffering from stomach trouble, Mrs. Lord sought relief by placing a hot-water bag upon the abdomen. One of the seams of the bag burst, and the scalding water poured out over Mrs. Lord's body. She seized the bag and threw it upon the floor, and in doing so her hand was scalded. The boiling water spread over considerable of her body, and burned her so much that the skin came off.

Mrs. Lord is one of the best-known women of the city, and very popular. She had charge of the baby show and parade during festival week, the most successful feature of the carnival.

GET BUSY ON CHARTER.

After several weeks' inaction the Charter Revision Committee met last night and spent several hours discussing section by section a suggested amendment looking to a contraction of city offices and a consequent considerable saving in salaries. Among other things the proposed amendment contemplates the consolidation of the offices of Chief of Police and License Collector, and Treasurer and Tax Collector, a joint police-fire commission, the abolition of assistant fire chief and captain of police, and of the Board of Public Works. All salaries are to be reduced, and officers must devote their time exclusively to city duties. The committee, however, refused to consider the proposed reduction of the Mayor's salary to $1000 per annum. Frequent meetings of the committee will be held from now on, and a report is expected the latter part of December.

DEATH NOT ACCIDENTAL.

A dispatch from Chicago says that the United Commercial Travelers' Association has refused the death claim of T. F. Brinsmaid, who was drowned here, November 27, 1907. The policy covered accidental death. Brinsmaid was seen floating in the water face downward, and was brought ashore, after a plucky woman had supported his body until the life guards arrived. There were signs of life, but physicians were unable to revive him. Their decision was that death resulted from heart failure, and this the company evidently held was not an accident.

The Long Beach Ministerial Association has elected as officers: President, A. F. Mitchell; vice-president, Josiah Sibley; secretary, D. Snyder; treasurer, Shelton Bissell; Programme Committee, F. M. Rogers, W. C. Loomis and R. W. Cleland.

INVESTIGATE MURDER.

The Coroner's jury in the case of Edward Bouman, who was shot to death by a hold-up man Saturday night, returned a verdict this morning that death was due to shock and hemorrhage resultant from gunshot wounds inflicted by parties unknown. The police today received some new information on the murder which leads in a new direction from previous theories.

Young Alstop, who was shot by Policeman Brown last night while attempting to escape from the officer, is at the Seaside Hospital, and improving nicely. He will soon be able to appear for trial.

TEACHER ARRESTED.

Prof. Arthur Abbott of Daisy School was arrested today on complaint of J. A. Kintzley, who charges that Abbott used undue force on his two boys. The professor was released on his own recognizance. He was cleared of these same charges by the Board of Education after a full investigation last Saturday, but Kintzley did not believe he was given justice and has now taken the matter into the courts.

By ordinance the City Council has extended the boundaries of the First Ward to include all the territory recently annexed to the city. This was necessary to permit the new residents to vote on the municipal water bond issue in December.

WILL GET PACIFIC FLEET.

In a letter dated at Honolulu, an officer of the Pacific fleet, writing to a relative in Long Beach, says the warships will anchor off Long Beach in five weeks.

Charles Selby Dunn died last night at the family home on East Tenth street. Deceased was 69 years of age and had resided here a year. He leaves a widow and two children.

DISCUSS SCHOOL CHANGES.

Claremont School Trustees and Pomona College Authorities Hold Joint Meeting.

CLAREMONT, Oct. 27.—The trustees of the city public school discussed with Pomona College authorities yesterday evening plans relative to the inauguration of a public high school, to fill the want which will follow the giving up of the college preparatory department. While no definite action was taken, pending a fuller discussion at the town meeting called for tomorrow night in Holmes's Hall, the opinion of those present was strongly in favor of incorporating a ninth grade, equivalent to the first year of high school work, in the present grade school for the coming year. This was deemed advisable to supply an existing need of some free instruction in high school grades, as well as being a part of the programme proposed last spring, by which the public school should open new classes in succeeding years as the Pomona preparatory department gave them up. The present proposal is being acted upon without waiting for the college authorities to decide formally whether or not the coming year will see the refusing of new admissions to the first class of the preparatory school.

STILL CONSIDERING.

Rev. George Irving of Toronto, Can., who has been offered the position of assistant pastor in the Claremont Congregational Church, reached town from the East Sunday, and in the evening spoke at the vesper service. He is still considering the offer, reserving his decision until he has become more fully acquainted with Claremont and the Congregational church work.

DOG OWNERS BEWARE.

Santa Monica Council Considering a Stringent License Ordinance. Arbor Day Plans.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 27.—The Council is considering the adoption of an ordinance relative to the licensing of dogs. The Pasadena plan may be adopted, whereby the owner of an animal is subject to arrest.

According to communications received from Senators Perkins and Flint, the Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice postoffices will not be consolidated. The city delivery system is soon to be inaugurated at Santa Monica.

DERRICKS THREATEN.

With a view to protecting the residence portion of the city from the too near encroachment of oil derricks, the Board of Trade has asked the Council to hold a conference with property owners before adopting any ordinance prescribing the limits from which the erection of rigs is to be inhibited. The sinking of the first wells within the corporate limits of the city is to be commenced within a few days.

The suggestion has been made to the Board of Education that Arbor Day be fittingly observed by the public schools. The desire of the citizens is that all school grounds be improved by the planting of trees and shrubs.

WISH FRANCHISE FOR STEAM ROAD

SAN PEDRO MEN ASK RIGHTS FOR SHORT STRETCH.

Length of Proposed Track Only Mile and a Half—Intention Is to Connect Downtown District With Line Recently Taken Over from Los Angeles Inter-Urban.

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 27.—An application for a steam railroad franchise was made this afternoon to the Trustees. It asks the privilege of building a street railroad, commencing at the intersection of Fifteenth street and Pacific avenue, easterly along Fifteenth street to Mesa street, northerly along Mesa street to Seventh street, easterly along Seventh street to Palos Verdes street, thence northerly along Palos Verdes street to Santa Cruz street. The application was made by E. D. Seward and William Peck, local men. The length of the proposed road is about a mile and a half, and the estimated cost is $25,000. The life of the franchise asked for is fifty years. The parties making the application state therein that they desire the franchise to enable them to connect the downtown district with the line recently taken over by them from the Los Angeles Interurban Railroad and running from Fourteenth street on Pacific avenue out to Point Firmin. Action upon the application was deferred for one week.

PLANS FOR OUTFALL SEWER.

City Engineer Whitman submitted plans and specifications for the building of an outfall sewer at the foot of First street to take care of the northern portion of the city, which were adopted. The estimated cost of the improvement is about $5000.

City Marshal Baker reported that the collection of city taxes for the week ending October 24 amount to $5685.19.

The City Clerk was authorized to advertise for bids to provide three cells for the new city jail.

The time for the payment of city taxes was extended from November 1 to December 7, 1908.

HELPFUL.

STREET DEAL IS CONTEMPLATED.

CITY AND COMPANY COME TO AN ARRANGEMENT.

Redondo Takes up With Los Angeles and Redondo Railway Proposition to Exchange Land, Result of Which Will Be to Open up Territory Now Cut Off from Downtown.

REDONDO, Oct. 27.—The Trustees last evening took the initial step looking to the abandonment of the cross streets on Diamond street east of El Camino Real and a portion of Diamond street itself in the same locality. They propose to open two streets on each side of the big cut of the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway at that place. The conveyance of the company covering the ground to be occupied by the new streets was filed, together with a map of the same. The City Engineer was directed to verify the description and to make a plat and profile of the entire district as a preliminary to the change.

This is a proposition to abandon the Diamond-street crossings of Gertrude, Guadelupe and North Helbertha streets, and to give up to the railway the exclusive use of one-half of Diamond street, between Francisca and Gertrude. In return the company will transfer sufficient ground on the north side of Diamond street between the two latter streets for a full width thoroughfare on that side of the car tracks, and ground through the company's holdings on each side of the big cut for a new street. When accomplished, it will open up territory now practically cut off from downtown connection on account of the cut, and will greatly enhance the value of all the property in that vicinity. None of the cut crossings were available without expensive bridging and equally expensive grade approaches. The company gives about the same amount of ground as the city abandons.

The board accepted the bid of the California Ornamental Brick Company for the Jackson turbine pump at $2087. It is said the pump will be able to take care of all the sewage of the septic tank in an average of not more than five or six hours daily pumping.

BONDING COMPANY INQUIRES.

An amusing incident occurred at the meeting, when City Clerk Creller read a communication from the bonding company which carries the bonds of the city officials. This requested a report from the board as to the manner in which Creller was behaving himself. In addition to being City Clerk, Creller is Democratic candidate for Assemblyman from the Seventieth District. The opinion was humorously expressed, that the bonding company had probably received information of this fact. Others, however, professed to see in the communication some connection with the demand against the city presented by Creller for the sum of $99.95 for work done in connection with the preparation of the city assessment roll for the year 1909, and which Treasurer Cate declined to pay on the ground that it was illegal. At the time the demand was presented, about two months ago, there was some talk of Creller's prosecution under the provision of the municipal government act which provides for forfeiture of office by any official who willfully violates the law covering the presentation of demands of this character. Nothing of the kind was done, however, but it is now said, in connection with the bonding company's communication of last night, that the company has probably started an investigation on its own account.

CONGRESS FIGHT.

HARD HIT BY JUDSON RUSH.

CONGRESSMAN M'LACHLAN HAS A SHARP OPPONENT.

Rush Goes Into the Record Again to Show That Present Congressman Has Done Practically Nothing for His District—More "Weak Spots" Shown up "by Request."

Before a large audience at Redondo last night Jud Rush, the Democratic candidate for Congress, took up the statement of an inspired apologist for the present Congressman to the effect that McLachlan would have to desert the meetings and his work on the committee if he attempted any work on the floor of the House, and showed how absurd such a statement is.

Comparing the work done on the floor of the House by the chairman of this very committee, who surely must be the busiest man on the committee, with the work done by Mr. McLachlan, Rush showed that the chairman found time to do a great deal of floor work, while our Congressman did practically nothing.

"At Mr. McLachlan's request his record has been investigated and the sum of his services as disclosed by the record during his last four terms can be fairly indicated by a cipher with the rim rubbed off," said Mr. Rush.

"McLachlan claimed that his services had been rendered as a lobbyist rather than a Representative. By again resorting to the record we find that his services as a lobbyist were of absolutely no benefit to the people of this district.

"As a last resort his apologist, probably inspired by McLachlan himself, asserts that to have rendered services which the Congressional Record would disclose, he would have to desert the meetings of the committee of which he is a member and the improvements that Los Angeles urgently requires would suffer. Mr. McLachlan's time is taken up daily from 9 to 4 in the meetings of this committee.

"Does he for a moment think that the intelligent people of this splendid Congress district will believe that the Congressional committees hold daily meetings during the hours that the House is in session? Every member of the House is on some committee, and if committees hold their meetings during the hours that the House is in session and the members of the committees attended such meetings, then there would be no one to transact business in the House and the Speaker could sit alone in solemn state and transact the business of the House.

"In order that the people may understand the absurdity of this last excuse I wish to call attention to the record of the work performed by Theodore E. Burton, chairman of the committee of which Mr. McLachlan is an almost unknown member, as compared with that performed by Mr. McLachlan.

"During the Fifty-ninth Congress, both sessions, Burton was appointed on extra committees four times, McLachlan none; Burton was appointed conferee three times, McLachlan none; Burton was appointed teller once, McLachlan none; Burton offered amendments to pending bills four times, McLachlan none; Burton introduced thirteen bills and joint resolutions, other than private pension bills, McLachlan five; Burton offered nineteen motions and joint resolutions, McLachlan none; Burton presented thirty-two papers and petitions, McLachlan one; Burton addressed the House 135 times, McLachlan once; Burton made reports from thirty-two committees, McLachlan none.

"Thus we see that Mr. Burton, notwithstanding his arduous duties as chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee, managed to appear in the house 233 times, while Mr. McLachlan by attending strictly to business and working very hard managed to appear seven times.

"I have compared Mr. McLachlan's services in the House with those of Mr. Burton for the reason that Burton was chairman of the committee and had more committee work to do than McLachlan, and consequently there could be no excuse that the comparison was unfair to McLachlan. This investigation of the work of our present Congressman on the Rivers and Harbors Committee would give rise to the impression that there is a vacant seat on this committee as well as in the House," Mr. Rush concluded.

Lord Northcote, late Governor-General of Australia, with Lady Northcote, who were received in audience by the Emperor of Japan last week, sailed yesterday for Canada, en route for England.

Colman's Mustard

It is well worth the trouble to keep the cruet supplied with good Mustard.

It is evidence of good household management. A well replenished mustard pot is the hall-mark of the cruet. It means satisfaction at the table. It puts an edge on the appetite, tickles the palate, and makes digestion easier. The housewife who likes to see the family or her guests "enjoy the meal" should always see that the mustard pot is right.

THEY'RE GLAD.

WARM WEATHER PLEASES THEM.

SAN JACINTO FARMERS WELCOME THE HEAT.

Potatoes Need It—Town Improvement Association Names Committees to Work for Advancement of the Valley—Demand for Products Exceeds Supply.

SAN JACINTO, Oct. 27.—The past week has been one of anxiety to the growers of the valley, as light frosts have been experienced that have considerable damage to the growing crop. Fortunately the weather has turned warmer and no further damage from killing frosts is feared. Only in the most exposed parts of the valley were the vines injured. Growers report that if the weather remains temperate until the middle of November the crop will be ready for picking. Alfalfa was nipped also and cold nights are having the effect of practically stopping its growth.

TOWN IMPROVEMENTS.

The Town Improvement Association has plans for its winter's work under way. At the last meeting committees were appointed as follows: Finance, C. L. Emerson, W. B. Robbins, Jr.; Care of Trees, Charles Mead, A. J. Dredding, J. H. Dunn; Alleys, Burt Clark, F. B. Mead, F. B. Blackburn; Business Men, E. P. Sager, Austin Bell, C. L. Emerson, Mrs. J. Powell; Publicity, W. H. Sanders, J. W. B. Robbins. A few of the objects the association has in view are that trees along public streets be better cared for, to encourage interest among local people in carrying more extensively goods, to educate the citizens to a better realization of the importance of patronizing home merchants, to devise ways and means of advertising San Jacinto and appeal to the outside world, especially the land buyer and the home seeker, in the matter of seeding vacant lots to California poppies was discussed. The plan was enthusiastically received. A committee was appointed to secure seeds in wholesale quantities. Further action was taken on the matter of planting shrubbery, trees, etc., in desirable spots about town.

The trial of the famous Bullion-Dunn case got under way with depositions of a number of witnesses were taken in the district court at Hemet. The case will be tried before the justice court at Corona.

MEETING FOR DAIRYMEN.

Manager of the San Jacinto Creamery and Ice Company returned from a visit to the east behind with his orders for San Jacinto cheese is in keeping with the merchants of California that he would have no difficulty in disposing of double the output of the factory. There is an extensive dairying in San Jacinto for the reason that with the cheese factory and local creameries are offering better prices over the Los Angeles market price for butter fat. In addition many keep up with the demand for San Jacinto Valley cream, the company is considering the feasibility of shipping in cream from outside towns to supplement the supply now furnished by local dairymen.

WHEAT CULTIVATION.

Many farmers, cattle man and dry farmers are seeding grain this week. Mr. Bothin, a farm about 4000 acres of land, is experimenting on sumfallow for the first time this year. The land, when seeded, will have been plowed three times since the last grain was harvested. With cultivation this land should produce, and according to all reports, and according to all reports should produce as much as the average of winter-sown grain. Word has been received from Switzerland to the effect that Ben Garbani, Mr. Bothin and John Domenigoni and their return home after visiting their fatherland during the summer. Mr. Garbani will bring his wife with him and Antonio Domenigoni will return with a bride.

MARRIAGE RECEPTION.

Mr. Dutton and wife were tendered a reception by the Methodist Sunday school last week. Rev. Mr. Dutton has been a member of the Arizona conference for two years, stationed at Phoenix, and was transferred to the California conference by Bishop San Jacinto charge by Bishop Moore. The reception was largely attended by members of the other churches in the town, as well as by the congregation. Addresses of welcome were given from the church by Rev. Fowler, from the Sunday school by superintendent, C. L. Emerson, and from the Christian church by Rev. L. B. Anderson.

BOOSTERS PARK.

Mr. Bothin is spending many thousand dollars in beautifying his home one mile south of town. Mr. Bothin left San Francisco on a brief visit to Mr. Bothin announces that between thirty-five and forty additional to orange trees during planting season. He is making large sums in leveling land and constructing driveways, building up an estate to rival the famous Smiley property. That the land is in good shape was demonstrated last week when the most tender shoots of the young plants were not injured by frost. Mr. Bothin expects to have all planted to oranges and alfalfa as he can get the land ready.

WHEAT AND BARLEY.

The Land Company started a crew to work this week on Bothin land, seeding wheat and barley. This company has practically all of the winter-sown crop. It raises very little grain but summer fallow. About one-half of the farming land each year. Experience has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the company that grain can be produced more economically when only half the land when only half the land is farmed each year, and besides, the yield is better quality and commands a better price from the milling company will summer fallow 1000 acres this winter.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

Mr. Bothin has bought 160 acres of the ranch southwest of town. The property is known as the Hewitt place and consists of fine bottom land. Mr. Domenigoni purchased fifty acres on the north one-half mile south of town of A. B. Embree. G. W. Hall of the Guthrie ranch sold a consideration $2250. The property adjoins Mr. Garbani's home ranch of the west.

PROHIBITION TALKS.

J. H. Woertendyke, Prohibition candidate for the Assembly from Riverside county, and D. M. Gaudier of the Anti-Saloon League, addressed a large audience in Guild Hall Monday night. Owing to a serious split in the Republican party on the candidate for the Assembly, Mr. Woertendyke believes he will be elected by an overwhelming majority. He has pledged himself to vote for a Republican Congressman, if elected. The rally was by far the best attended and most enthusiastic held in San Jacinto during the present campaign, and Prohibitionists consider the signs auspicious for the success of their candidate. The Republicans will hold a rally in the same hall tomorrow night when Congressman Smith, Hon. Miguel Estudillo, candidate for State Senator, and E. B. Collier, candidate for Assemblyman, will address the public.

CARNATION CONSIGNMENT.

Col. J. T. Ritchey received a large consignment of carnations this week for planting on his Lithia Springs property north of town. Mr. Ritchey announces that he expects to raise nursery stock and shrubbery in wholesale quantities. Both citrus and deciduous trees will be propagated, but more special attention will be given to flowers and shrubbery.

RETURNS HOME, IS ARRESTED.

SAN DIEGAN ACCUSED OF RUINING GIRL.

Affair Happened Two Years Ago and Since Then Young Woman Has Married Prominent Pasadenan—It's not Believed She or Her Mother Will Prosecute.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 27.—Returning here after an absence of two years, Joseph Hooker was placed under arrest upon a complaint issued by the District Attorney's office, charging him with criminal assault upon Marian, the then fifteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Caroline Tew. The latter was music teacher of this city, but is now a resident of Pasadena, where her daughter has since married a prominent young man.

The alleged assault is said to have taken place at the Brewster Hotel in this city. Marian Tew was then a young school girl, described as pretty and willful. She met Hooker, who was a dashing fellow, styled among the girls of the city as a "regular heart-breaker." The mother alleged in her complaint to the police that Hooker enticed her daughter to a room at the hotel, where she was stupefied with wine and then ruined.

Hooker left San Diego as soon as he learned that the girl's mother would prosecute him. Although A. A. Thomas, who was Chief of Police at that time, made every effort to locate the accused, he succeeded in eluding the officers.

Hooker kept up correspondence with acquaintances here and learned through them that there would probably be no prosecution. A few days ago he returned, and, upon the advice of the District Attorney's office, he was arrested. He will have a hearing in the Justice Court Friday. He gave bail in the sum of $2000. It is not thought that Mrs. Tew or her daughetr will come here to appear against him.

SOLDIERS ARE SAFE.

The Fort Rosecrans searching party that went to find four members of the Twenty-eighth Coast Artillery, who had gone to the Coronado Islands Sunday on a fishing excursion, and who had failed to return on the scheduled time, found the soldiers to be safe. Their launch had become disabled, and they had been unable to procure material to repair it.

JURY EXONERATES CLARK.

Rodney Clark, the young watchman who, last Friday night, shot and killed a Mexican, mistaking him for a smuggled Chinaman on the boundary at Tia Juana, has been exonerated by the Coroner's jury. The verdict was that Clark was justified in the act because of his official duty. As Perez, although a Mexican subject, had resided on this side of the line for many years, it is not believed the Mexican government will demand any further investigation.

MANY WALNUT TREES PLANTED.

TWO THOUSAND ACRES SET OUT IN TUSTIN DISTRICT.

Number of New Groves Also at Fullerton, Placentia and La Habra. Fifteen Thousand Acres Under Beans in San Joaquin District of Orange County.

FULLERTON, Oct. 27.—The walnut growers of Southern California may expect a big increase in the output of walnuts from Orange county within the next two years.

A Times representative visited the great section east of Tustin this week and is able to give some interesting figures on the total acreage that has been set to walnuts in that district. The San Joaquin Fruit Company alone has 300 acres in young walnut trees, and the other acreage of young trees in that district will bring the total up to nearly 2000, which will certainly mean a big increase in the output when these trees begin to bear, which will be within two years.

In addition, a number of groves have been set out in the Fullerton, Placentia and La Habra districts. When all begin bearing there will be room enough in Orange county for three or four additional walnut growers' associations.

The writer also learned that there were nearly 15,000 acres in beans in the San Joaquin district of Orange county this season. The San Joaquin Fruit Company also had over 400 acres of peanuts, 200 acres set to orange and lemon trees and 100 acres in apricots.

GOES TO NEW DISTRICT.

S. Haverstick and family will leave this week for the new district on the Salt Lake route and near the Nevada line, where hundreds of acres of land has been purchased by a large number of residents of the Fullerton oil well districts. The Orange County Nursery Company of Fullerton has 320 acres and Mr. Haverstick will have charge of the development work for it. Citrus trees will be planted as soon as wells can be put down and improvements made. Mr. Haverstick has 160 acres of his own, which he will develop.

NEW MANAGERS.

William Lindhurst has been appointed local manager for the Fullerton Gas Company, succeeding Manager Thompson, who has resigned. Mr. Wallop has also been appointed manager for the same company at Anaheim, succeeding Manager Ross, who resigned to accept a position with another company.

FOX HUNTING CLUB.

A fox-hunting club has been formed here, with the following members: George Miles, John and Joe Wagoner, James Ortega and Peter Nicolas. At first the club will try to exterminate all the coyotes in this part of the county, as they are said to be plentiful. The membership will be increased and in invitation extended to the farmers to assist in the good work. The new club now has a number of trained fox hounds.

PRODUCE SHIPMENTS.

For the week ending last night, six carloads of oranges, nine of tomatoes and seventeen of walnuts were shipped from Fullerton.

Hinde & Company of Placentia are now making heavy shipments of their large variety persimmons to Los Angeles.

A. T. Brown and family have gone to Tulare on a visit.

The Syndicate Oil Company has received a carload of machinery and the Union Oil Company two carloads of casing to be used on new oil wells in the Fullerton district.

CRISP.

BETTER CELERY, LESS OF IT.

ORANGE COUNTY'S CROP HALF THAT OF LAST YEAR.

There Is no Blight and Growers Expect to Receive Higher Prices. Exhibits in Boardless Barley Case at Santa Ana Make Courtroom Look Like Section of County Fair.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 27.—The first shipments of celery by the California Vegetable Union for the season will commence on November 4, which is later than for similar shipments of the last three years. G. W. Moore, manager of the Celery Growers' Association, says that the county's crop this year will be 1800 cars, less than half last year's crop, many ranchers having taken to beet-raising in place of celery. Reports from the East indicate that the Coast celery men will receive better prices this year than they did last. Bordeaux spray has been used extensively on the plants, and as a consequence there is none of the blight that created havoc with the keeping qualities of the product last year. W. E. Gerhart, the association representative, will leave for the eastern markets about November 1, and will remain in the East until the shipping season is finished in March.

RANCHERS CLAIM DAMAGES.

C. A. Rauth and several other men who farmed leases on the Irvine Company ranch two years ago are making a fight in the Superior Court to secure judgment against the Southwest Warehouse Company for damages. They assert that the warehouse company delivered beardless barley seed to them instead of bearded barley seed, the variety commonly grown in this section. Rauth claims his crop was a failure. M. Erreca testified today that he planted the seed he bought from the company on the best land on the ranch, and harvested many sacks less per acre than from bearded barley planted on the poorest land on the ranch. The case is on trial before a jury, Judge Densmore of Riverside sitting for Judge West. It will occupy several days. Scores of grain exhibits have been prepared to present to the jury, and the courtroom begins to assume the aspect of a corner of a county fair.

BRINGS EASTERN HINTS.

City Trustee R. J. Thompson and his wife returned last night from a trip of five months through the East in which they traveled 10,000 miles. Mr. Thompson is preaching a system of street improvement that has met with favor in the East. The plan is to narrow the streets and pave them and give the space thus saved to parking. That, he says, will allow space for the growth of trees of any size without endangering the sidewalks by the tree roots. One street he tells about was thirty feet wide from curb to curb and fifty feet devoted to parking.

W. A. Huff has purchased a twenty-five foot frontage on Fourth street, between Main and Sycamore streets, from T. J. Wilson. The price paid was $17,500. A two-story business block is on the property.

The Santa Ana Produce Company has purchased a $10,000 lot on Main street and will build a brick warehouse and wholesale house upon it.

VENTURA IS FOR TAFT.

Republican Poll of County Shows He Will Have Good Majority.

VENTURA, Oct. 27.—The Republican poll of this county, made by the Republican County Central Committee, shows Taft will have a handsome majority. While it will not be so large as that of Roosevelt, which was 1100, the Republicans claim by their poll that the candidate will have at least 600 majority. The Democratic county chairman concedes that Taft will carry the county, but by a decreased majority. The entire county ticket is claimed by the Republicans, and that's the way it looks, according to the poll which has been made.

FOES ASSEMBLING.

CITY AUDITOR IS ATTACKED.

MAY HAVE TO FIGHT IN COURT FOR HIS SALARY.

Some San Bernardino Interests Resent His Activity in Scrutinizing Claims, 'Tis Said, and Declare Charter Contains no Authority for Creation of His Office.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 27.—Proceedings are under way to compel the City Auditor to fight for his salary in court. Some interests claim that there is no authority for the office in the charter. It was created last July, on recommendation of a committee of experts, which had been to considerable effort to get the city's books in shape.

By the appointment of an auditor it was expected to safeguard the city against the mistakes which occurred under the old system.

City Auditor W. A. McElvaine has been actively studying claims against the city, and has not slept when he thought charges were beyond what was reasonable. It is supposed that his energy has inspired an attack upon his position.

The appointment was made under a provision of the charter which provides for assistants to the City Attorney and City Clerk. The Auditor was regarded as an assistant to the Clerk.

ANNEXATION THE ISSUE.

San Bernardino will hold an election tomorrow, to decide whether the city will accept a tract over half a mile square, north of the present city limits and extending east and west between B and G streets, and north to Highland avenue. This section has recently been building up rapidly, and with its incorporation, the city would grow more rapidly, many believe. For the purpose of the election the district has been divided into six polling precincts, five inside the city.

SEQUEL TO FORCED WEDDING

Frederick Carson was placed in jail this morning, in default of a $500 bond, for his appearance on a charge of refusing to provide for his wife and child. The complainant is his wife, a young girl, who caused his arrest last summer and forced him to choose between marriage and prosecution. Justice C. L. Thomas performed the ceremony at the girl's bedside.

DEATH COMES AT LAST.

Henry Maitland, who slashed his throat and set fire to his room at Ontario yesterday, died this morning at the County Hospital. The inquest was held this afternoon, and resulted in a verdict of death from injuries inflicted while insane.

HORRORS OF CHILD LABOR.

President of Redlands Women's Contemporary Club Turns Searchlight on Them.

REDLANDS, Oct. 26.—The Women's Contemporary Club of more than 200 members held its opening meeting for the season this afternoon with a large attendance. The new president, Mrs. Charles A. Barker, delivered the annual address. She spoke of club work generally and the advancement of womankind, and dwelt especially upon the child-labor question, its horror and disgrace as it exists in this country today. In closing Mrs. Barker quoted freely from the report of Mrs. Charles A. Adams, who represented the Contemporary Club at the ninth biennial held in Boston last summer.

The chairman of the various committees and sections then outlined their work for the season as follows: Programme, Mrs. J. J. Suess; Decoration, Mrs. F. G. Feraud; House, Mrs. C. A. Sanborn; Entertainment, Mrs. A. Hornby; Reception, Miss Crawford; Hospitality, Mrs. Frank Settelle; tea, Mrs. M. W. Hill; Civics, Mrs. C. W. Merriman; Household Economics, Mrs. J. E. Brookings; Education, Mrs. William Preston; Shakespeare, Mrs. M. A. Hollabaugh; Magazine, Mrs. T. M. Blythe; French, Mrs. F. J. Hoyt; Art, Mrs. A. S. McPherron.

Immediately after the club meeting the ladies went to the tea room where a half hour was spent over the teacups. Those pouring were Mrs. A. J. Webster and Mrs. W. S. Crawford and those serving were Mrs. M. W. Hill, Mrs. F. W. Hammett, Mrs. C. L. Clock, Mrs. Charles Hersee and Mrs. A. E. Springborg. The entire clubhouse was handsomely decorated in autumn leaves, bamboo and grasses.

Twelve new members were received into the club which starts out the year with better prospects than ever before in point of members, in a financial way and with prospects of intellectual treats

Cut this out and put in some safe place, for it is valuable and worth more than anything else in the world if you should have an attack of rheumatism or bladder trouble or any derangement of the kidneys whatever.

The prescription is simple and can be made up by anyone at home. The ingredients can be had at any good prescription pharmacy and all that is necessary is to shake them well in a bottle.

Here it is: Fluid extract dandelion, ½ ounce; compound Kargon, 1 ounce; compound syrup of sarsaparilla, 3 ounces.

Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime. A few doses is said to relieve almost any case of bladder trouble, frequent urination, pain and scalding, weakness and backache, pain above the kidneys, etc. It is now claimed to be the method of curing chronic rheumatism, because of its direct and positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It gives them life and power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, relieving the worst forms of Rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles. The extract dandelion acts upon the stomach and liver and is used also extensively for relieving constipation and indigestion. Compound sarsaparilla cleans and enriches the blood. There is nothing better than Kargon Compound for the kidneys.

This prescription is safe to use at any time.

CORONA RALLY.

Christian and Congregational Churches Unite in Service—New Land Under Cultivation.

CORONA, Oct. 27.—A union Christian Endeavor rally was held in the Congregational Church night before last. It was in charge of the societies of the Christian and Congregational churches. Among the visiting Endeavor workers who were on the programme were Thomas Hanney, county president and third vice-president of the State Christian Endeavor; W. P. Shepherd, county superintendent of evangelistic and hospital work; Miss Florence Vear, county junior superintendent; Miss Ethel Kelsey, county recording and State corresponding secretary. These speakers were all from Riverside, as was Miss Maude Waldo, who contributed a vocal solo. Miss Winifred Skinner of Pasadena discussed her special line of work, that of the intermediates, of which she is State superintendent.

MORE ALFALFA DEVELOPMENT.

The Savings Bank and Trust Company of Pomona is principal owner of 250 acres of land, purchased recently in the Kingston tract, six and one-half miles north of here. The entire tract is to be seeded to alfalfa and in preparation for this work Foreman W. O. Blair of Pomona has had fifteen men and fifty horses grading the land. It will not be ready for seeding before February. The cost of grading alone will be something over $2500. Some of the land is virgin soil, while part has been in barley. Two wells have been sunk, each with a flow of 200 to 250 inches. Pumping plants, one of forty and the other fifty horse-power, are now being installed. The San Bernardino Gas and Electric Company is to furnish motive power for the plants. The necessary buildings to house the machinery are being erected. Later on homes will be built for the men employed on the ranch.

The development of this portion of the Kingston tract, as well as improvements contemplated on the 18,000-acre Sierra Rancho and the 320-acre tract in the Auburndale townsite, all recently purchased and adjoining this colony, mean much for Corona, which is the base of supplies.

HORSE THIEVES CONFESS.

Two Mexicans of El Rio, Ventura County, Own to Being Guilty. Beans All in.

VENTURA, Oct. 27.—The Sheriff has succeeded in rounding up a couple of horse thieves who have caused no end of trouble to valley farmers the past few months. Yesterday he ran in Frank and John Rodrigues, brothers, of El Rio, two young Mexicans. The complaint was sworn to by E. Nichols and James McKee. The prisoners have confessed their guilt and the horse stolen from Nichols has been located at Hanford, while a mare and colt stolen from McKee have been found at Newhall. The men will have their hearing tomorrow.

BEANS AND WALNUTS.

Nearly all the threshing machines recently employed in the bean fields of this county have pulled in for the winter and only a few are left for the clean-up of the harvest. It is figured that not over 5000 sacks are still unthreshed and these are mostly on the Thompson ranch near this city.

The harvesting of walnuts in this county is now on. The yield will be a large one and the growers are feeling pretty good over having found a way of curing and bleaching which makes them independent of the concern which claims a patent right on the old style beaching methods. They have a number of lawsuits on their hands for alleged infringement on this patent. They say the new treatment by salt water and electricity is fully as efficacious as the old method. The recent rains helped considerably in the harvesting of the crop.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Small trading featured the business on the Produce Exchange yesterday. There were some offerings in most lines and the handlers were willing to sacrifice small margins in order to carry out sales. On the street business was nothing extra in any particular line. Grapefruit advanced fractionally, with the decrease in arrivals. Muscats assumed an average price of 50 cents a box. Cornichons went to 75 and Tokays held firm at the same figure; Malagas were boosted to 75 and the few other varieties still obtainable were increased proportionately.

Without change, the egg market was almost featureless. Only one small sale was carried out, the exchange of two cases of local casecounts. The price was held firm at 42 cents per dozen. Arrivals of local eggs were only 28 cases. A few eastern eggs were reported in, but offerings did not bear out the statement.

Butter receipts were 26,800 pounds. Nothing transpired in the commodity to cause change or bring about sales.

Cheese arrivals were 606 pounds. The market was unchanged in any variety.

Potato arrivals were 2,048 sacks. The demand for Highland was sufficiently large to sell a car on the exchange, in addition to several sales of similar size on the street.

Onion receipts were 1,400 sacks. Australian Browns held the demand over Yellow Danvers, and 50 sacks were sold at the current quotations.

Bean receipts were 537 sacks. Lady Washingtons were in best call and 25 sacks of first grade were sold. There was a fair call for other beans.

Sweet potato arrivals were 179 sacks. The tone of the market is again weak, particularly with the better grading of potatoes now arriving.

Apples were well called for and 100 boxes of Hellebergs were sold on 'change. Jonathans were in good demand and sold well on the outside.

Figs were a trifle lower, and a box of blacks, unpacked, sold at 50 cents. Packed and selected blacks brought 75 cents. Blackberries were a trifle higher, selling at an average of 7 cents a basket. Raspberries, on the other hand, were lower, while strawberries sold at an average of 6 cents.

Dried chili is selling well and averages 8 cents a pound. On change one bale was traded. Green peppers are growing scarcer and ball peppers are also drawing to a close of the season. Most vegetables were unchanged.

Bananas showed little difference, and 25 bunches were sold on the exchange at the prevailing street price. The independents of New Orleans are still shipping their stock here, but not in as large quantity as when they started the campaign for introduction.

TRADING VERY RESTRICTED.

Dull Day on Los Angeles Stock Exchange, Although Market's Tone Was Firm.

While the undertone of the investment market on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange continued very firm, there was little trading yesterday.

Elk Consolidated Oil was handled at 7¾, seller five days, and at 7¾@7¾, regular delivery. The stock closed at 7¾@8¼, up ¼ point in the bid.

There was an inclination on the part of most traders to buy puts and calls, and thirty-day contracts rather than deal in the regular delivery trades. Brokers reported clients were confidently expecting a Republican victory next Tuesday, and were taking this way of securing a lot of stock with as little outlay as possible.

Associated Oil slumped, closing without regular trading, at 32.50@33.37½, off ¼ and ¾ point, respectively. Calls sold at 33.50, and puts at 32.00. Buyer thirties were wanted at similar prices.

Five thousand shares of Columbia Oil were reported sold off board at 28. The demand for the stock was good on the floor, and the stock was firm, at 31@31¼, up ¼ and ¼ point, respectively. Central closed at 96@97, up ¼ point and 3 points, compared with the bid and asked of Monday. The Union Oil issues were almost unchanged, and no trading was reported.

Western Union closed at 35.00@100.00, without trading. It is said that for the first time since the oil got into the wells of this company returns exceeded operating expenses last month. An excess of $5000 is reported, over and above all fixed charges, and stockholders are now feeling more satisfied. Development of the property has been going on as rapidly as conditions will permit. Several wells are being sunk in sections remote from the water trouble, and fine showings are reported.

Home Telephone preferred sold at 89.50, to the close, with no bid. Common sold at 59.00, closed without a bid. The asked price was 60.00, showing a decline of ¼ point.

Three 1909 Associated Oil bonds were handled at 85@85½, on the regular session. The demand for these securities was strong. At the close recorded a gain of ¼ point in the bid, at 85½@86. There was a good call for several other bonds.

On the mining call, California Hills sold at 84, Consolidated Mines at 2¾@2¾, and Searchlight Parallel at 4¾.

SOME SUBSTANTIAL GAINS.

Most Leaders on Mining Exchange Close Strong—Daisy an Exception—Trading Volume Small.

While a number of substantial gains in closing quotations were made by the leaders on the Los Angeles-Nevada Mining Exchange yesterday, the business done was of great volume.

Combination Fraction was an active trader throughout the day, selling at 1.28@1.27, to the extent of 500 shares, in the morning, and to the extent of 2000 shares, at 1.29@1.30, on the informal call. The close was strong at 1.29@1.30, up 1 point in each quotation.

There was a demand for Daisy, but this stock closed with slight decline. Sales were recorded at 1.00, seller five days, and at 1.01@1.02, regular delivery, on the morning session. None was handled on the informal. The close was at 1.00@1.02, off 2 and 3 points, respectively.

The demand for Florence held strong, and it closed at 2.85@4.00. A rise of 12½ points in the bid for Consolidated was a feature of the day, although none was sold. The stock was offered at 6.42½, 17½ points above the asked price of Monday.

Booth was handled at 40¼ in the morning, and at 39 on the informal. The close was at 40@42. Jumbo Extension was handled at 23, regular delivery, on both calls, and Great Bend at 1.

Montana Tonopah changed hands at 85 on the early call, and closed at 84@87, off 1 point in the bid.

There was light trading in Baby Florence at 7½@8¼, California Hills at 4¾, regular delivery, and at 4¾, buyer 30 days; Consolidated Mines at 2¾; Johnnie Consolidated at 1¾, and Lige Harris at 3.40 a thousand shares.

GENERAL EASTERN.

WHEAT GOES TO HIGH MARK.

MARKET OPENS STRONG AND MAKES GAINS.

Situation in Argentina Chief Incentive for Urgent Demand, Advices of Sensational Nature Indicating Twenty Per Cent. Less Available for Export This Year.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The wheat market opened strong, with prices up ⅝ to ¾ above the previous close, but, despite a bearish releasing at times, made additional gains during the day and closed at almost the top notch. Final quotations on December were at 1.09⅛ and on May at 1.09½@1.09⅝. Commission houses and local shorts were active bidders for wheat the greater part of the day. The situation in Argentina was the chief factor in the urgent demand. News from the South American country was conflicting, but some of the advices were of a sensational nature, one dispatch claiming that 20 per cent less wheat will be available for export this year than was exported last year. Damage by recent frosts was given as one reason for this shortage. The strength of the Liverpool market which closed at gains of ⅝ to 1¼ cents had to furnish ample confirmation in the minds of many local traders of the numerous reports of injury to the Argentine crop. At the same time a decided falling off in receipts in the Northwest caused considerable comment among traders and inspired additional buying. Many traders, however, were unable to decide whether the decreased movement was the fulfillment of an official prophesy of smaller receipts or was merely a result of unsettled weather in that section. The market was also bullishly affected by a good export demand at Duluth, where it was claimed exporters took everything offered over night.

The corn market was firm all day. The market closed steady; December closed at 43⅝@43⅞ and May at 46.

Trade in oats was quiet. The market closed firm at the top, with prices 1@1½c higher than yesterday. December closed at 41⅜ and May at 41¾@42.

Decently receipts of live hogs at western packing centers caused firmness in provisions. The market closed strong at the top point of the day, with prices unchanged to 7½c higher than the previous close.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour was steady; No. 2 spring wheat, 1.02@1.05; No. 3 red, 95@1.00½; No. 2 corn, 47½@47⅝; No. 2 yellow, 50@51; No. 2 white oats, 39½@39¾; No. 2 rye, 74@75; good feeding barley, 45@47; fair to choice malting, 48@60; No. 1 northwestern flaxseed, 1.18; short ribs sides (loose), 6.35@6.87½; mess pork, per bbl., 12.90@13.07½; lard, per 100 lbs., 6.77½@6.72½; short clear sides (boxed), 6.25@6.50; whisky, basis of high wines, 1.27.

A man with a guitar in his hand, accompanied by a small boy, now appeared on the platform. They drew up chairs and gravely sat down side by side in the front of the stage. After a short delay the man began to play a droning, monotonous air, which he repeated over and over again; the boy, meanwhile, remaining motionless.

"Why is the boy sitting there?" whispered Hester.

"You will soon hear something strange."

For what seemed ages, the man with the guitar continued to thrum its tiresome tune; then suddenly a loud piercing wail broke forth from the lips of the boy—oh, such a wierd, barbaric, melancholy chant. Now the notes were pitched loud and high, they then fell as if carried away on a sobbing wind. Again they rose, shriller and wilder, to sink in a sigh of despair. This song, lament, or declamation, was totally different from anything Hester had ever heard; it gave her no pleasure; it seemed harsh, savage and defiant; but when the last long-drawn cadence had ceased there was a hushed, delighted silence, followed by an outburst of frantic applause. She glanced at Captain Tudor—oh yes, he was bored to death. Her eyes wandered to Paul—how his handsome head stood out among the crowd! His expression denoted complete enjoyment, and turning to her he said—

"The Zarzuela, I dare say, may strike you as ugly and unmusical, but it is beautiful to me and, as you see, to most of the audience; it is our legacy from the Saracens; the Prayer Song appeals to us, and we respond to it, because we all have Moorish blood in our veins."

"Really! I should not have guessed it!" said Hester.

"Yes, and I am proud of my ancestors—Moslem knights, who were celebrated for piety, valour, courtesy and marvelous skill with horse and lance."

The lady made no remark, but her eyes shone.

"You know that Cordova was once the metropolis of Caliphate?"

"What awful rot this fellow is talking," said Captain Tudor to himself; but Hester replied—

"Oh, yes, I have read about it. I have always been interested in Spain!"

"Thank you, Mademoiselle," he murmured in a low voice.

The boy, encored to the echo, was once again brooding beside his accompanist, prepared when the spirit moved him to burst into his wild Oriental chant.

"It is exactly like the drone of a native of India," remarked Captain Tudor, leaning over to Hester—"the sort of thing he sings to keep off devils when he is frightened and travels the jungle alone. I can't say that I appreciate it, do you? If he is encored again, I believe I shall clear."

Yet, when the boy was encored a third time, Captain Tudor merely made a gesture of agony, but did not carry out his threat. He had resolved that he was not going to let the Spanish fellow have it all his own way, and submitted to the infliction with an air of angry endurance.

The Moorish song was succeeded by the Andalusian dancers, six women and two men, all with castanets. The women were young and handsome, and wore flounced skirts and white mantillas, or the ever-popular manila shawl, with long silk fringe. The music was supplied by guitars, castanets and a piano. At first they danced in couples, a man and a woman, or two women, then a woman alone. Their movements were light, swift and graceful, with much lazy undulation of the body, swaying of the figure and waving of the arms, accompanied by the snap of fingers and the castanets.

"Observe the dancing is eastern, too," said Paul; slower and stateller than your galops and reels. But you have to keep the blood warm in your cold countries; here it is hot enough, God knows!" and he laughed; then he proceeded to give the different names of each dance: "El Ole," "La Perla de Sevilla," "La Flamencia." They were all delightful to watch, but the one Hester preferred was the intoxicating and insolent Fandango, said to have compelled the applause of holy men! Wearing a man's hat thrown to her by one of the audience, a handsome dark girl, stalked and strutted with her arms akimbo, then she flung the hat on the ground and sped round it. By degrees she increased her movements to a headlong whirl and flared about the stage like a crazy creature, throwing into her dance defiance and abandon, the most spirited display of the evening.

"It is Carmen Oranda," said the Marquis; "she is the best of all;" and he tossed her a roll of notes.

The music, the piquant strangeness of the scene, the presence of Paul, now restored to his pedestal, affected Hester with a passionate sense of new life. The very atmosphere seemed charged with happiness; there was something electric and ineffable in the air.

She was rather surprised to see the dancers come down singly at intervals and circulate among the audience, presenting a handkerchief to various specially favored gentlemen.

Paul had no fewer than three offered to him, and these he kept before him on the table—poor little flimsy, cheap things.

"Why do they give you these?" asked Hester.

"You will see presently; they are only just a little hint—and a loan."

"Capt. Tudor has not one. Why is that?"

"Because they see that he is English, and he may not know the custom, and simply think it a tribute to his good looks, put it in his pocket and walk off."

Capt. Tudor, sitting silent and apart from his aunt (who was engaged in ceaseless conversation with Conde de Trubia and the Valdollanas,) realised that his light was extinguished. Miss Forde and the handsome Marquis were evidently old friends, and a sharp jealousy invaded him. Was the girl one of this Lotharic's victims? Would she be such a fool as to marry him?—a man whose language she could not speak, a Catholic, as dark as a Moor!

True, he was a grandee of Spain, and would one day be "El Duque," but what of that? Freddy Tudor, with a long pedigree of his own, cherished a secret contempt for foreign nobilities. Hester Forde was charming and sweet-tempered—nothing like being in the house with a girl for seeing her as she is, especially at breakfast. She would not set the Thames or anything else on fire, but he believed he was almost in love with her, and she would have made a most admirable and valuable wife.

As the little officer pulled at his Havana, he glanced over at Paul de Sarazin with a look of scarcely veiled hostility—is not antagonism to a rival a universal law? Miss Forde looked brilliant tonight; she had removed her hat, and her shining hair crowned shining eyes; her color was dazzling—a tinge of shell-pink on her flawless skin. People cast not a few curious glances at the handsome English girl to whom El Marquez was talking so continuously. Dios! what a couple!

And Paul, himself, began to experience something more stimulating than mere complacency with a fate which offered him the chance of wedding a woman with the particular shade of hair he admired, as well as many millions of pesetas. Tonight, this cold and northern maid looked beautiful; yes, she was really and truly the lady of his heart. Possibly a little prick of uncertainty, her friendly intimacy with the English soldier, had awakened his jealousy, and disturbed his confidence. Miss Forde had seemed too much at ease with the fellow on the bridge; he was her countryman; he was Mrs. Tudor's nephew. Dios! she had arranged it all; what a crafty, false old person! Nevertheless, he swore to himself, it Lubia should be his; tonight she was enchanting, so happy, so radiant and so sympathetic to Spain!

"You have seen a Spanish town house," he was saying, "in the Casa Morilla. Now you must visit a country villa. My cousin, the Condéas de Trubia, has charged me with messages; we hope you will come out to Las Veraldes tomorrow afternoon and dine; it is but an hour's drive, and there is a moon."

"I should like it immensely," said the girl, flushing a little; "but you must ask Doña Luisa."

"We will take no refusal; is it not so?" turning to his cousin, who, in broken but intelligible English, declared that his wife would be sad to know that her old friend, Señora Tudor, had been in Cordova, and she had not heard the news. "She will say, she will never forgive her if she does not come tomorrow, and bring the Señorita, too, now that Paul is with us—his last day."

The entertainment had ended, and the spectators were scattering, when Hester learned the meaning of the mysterious handkerchiefs. The owners assembled by the doorway, and to each was restored her loan, along with a tribute in the shape of money.

The Casa Morella was not far from the café, and as it was a clear moonlight night, the party returned there on foot. Paul and his cousin escorted the ladies home, in order to secure Mrs. Tudor's acceptance of the next day's programme.

As she stumbled down the Café, over the rough stones, in her best evening shoes, Hester was accompanied by Capt. Tudor. Not in vain had he attended various autumn manœuvers.

"Beastly slow, wasn't it?" he grumbled. "I wonder you were not poisoned with the smoke?"

"I believe I'm getting used to it," she answered gaily. "Perhaps I may take to it myself. People say that it is most soothing and delightful."

"Oh, I hate to see a girl with a cigarette in her mouth," said her escort; "an English woman's nerves don't want soothing, eh?"

"And what about the men?" she asked, with a quick glance.

"Oh, I'm not a heavy smoker, but tonight it was in self-defence. You could have cut the atmosphere with a knife; and as to the howling of that boy, it was like a dog baying at the moon!" I don't think, myself, that it was quite a place for ladies—a regular café chantant."

"Well, I enjoyed it, I must say," she boldly confessed.

"Perhaps, just for once," he added, relenting. "But I did not notice many of the upper ten there."

"We were the upper ten. All the Valdollanas, as well as Count and Countess Morio and——"

"Last, not least, a marquis, eh? That fellow is as swarthy as an Indian. 'Pon my soul, if he were out there, I'd swear he was a half-caste," and he nodded at the tall lithe figure, walking a few yards in front, with Doña Luisa on his arm. "You won't forget about Gibraltar, will you?—that's a bargain, eh?"

"What about Gibraltar?" she asked. "Oh, of course—yes, of course; but I don't think you will be able to persuade Mrs. Tudor. She is grumbling at the heat as it is; but, at least, you can try."

"Certainly, I shall have a good try; and mind, Miss Forde, you back me up," he added with significance; and this sentence brought them to the door of the Casa Morella.
